Governor Finishes All Bills

Has 19 Minutes To Spare in Time

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller completed his annual role in the legislative process with 19 minutes to spare, completing his bill-signing job at 11:41 p.m. Monday night.

A bill requiring uniform traffic signs on highways outside of New York City was the last of the 1,279 measures on which he acted.

During the course of the 30-day bill-signing period, the governor approved bills that included several of his own recommendations. These will form the major part of the program he will place before voters in his bid for re-election this year.

A major increase in state aid for education, an extensive housing program and an increase in the state minimum wage and in workmen's compensation benefits were provided in Rockefeller-sponsored bills.

Major Bills Done First

He had completed action on major legislation well before the deadline.

The Legislature adjourned March 31 and the governor had until midnight Monday night to sign or veto bills it left with him.

The governor returned to New York City, his main base of operations, immediately after completing work on the bills. He signed more than 100 Monday.

To Talk on Aging

His schedule today included a speech to a conference on problems of the aging and a talk to a meeting of the Commerce and Industry Assn. of New York City.

Decisions on the last of the bills signed were not announced immediately.

Nor was there a breakdown available on the number of bills signed and vetoed.

In the windup, the governor's office was not even sure of whether he had signed or vetoed the final bill. It was announced initially he had approved it but this was later amended to an announcement that the bill was the last on which the governor acted.

Earlier Action

Earlier, the governor took this action in various areas:

Highway Safety — He approved a bill establishing in the Motor Vehicles Department an Automotive-Medical Research Division to seek and recommend solutions to the basic causes of highway crashes.

Urban Renewal—A bill authorizing municipalities to establish public authorities to carry out urban renewal programs was approved. Their financing arrangements would not be limited by constitutional restrictions on the amount of debt cities may incur.

Grand Juries — The governor vetoed a bill that would have eliminated Erie County from the

Killer Storms Hit 12 State Sections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tornadoes and winds of tornadic force plunged viciously into parts of the Midwest, South and Southwest Monday, leaving at least eight persons dead, up to 100 injured and millions of dollars in damaged property.

Up to 4½ inches of rain accompanied some of the storm. Hail ranged from 1 to 2 inches in diameter. Wind velocity was recorded at 105 m.p.h.

In the path of the scattered storms and tornadoes were parts of Illinois, where 4 persons died; Indiana, 2 dead; Michigan, 1 dead; Mississippi, 1 dead, Missouri, Kentucky, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee, Alabama and Ohio.

The Chicago Weather Bureau reported confirmed and unconfirmed tornadoes in the late evening in Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Missouri and Ohio.

The rainfall during a storm at Lufkin, Texas, totaled 4½ inches.

The chain of destruction started in eastern Missouri with a series of tornado alerts. Rain and powerful winds then whipped into St. Louis and adjoining communities, leaving downed utility lines, homes damaged, trees uprooted and scores of injured.

Dark as Midnight

The storm moved into southern Illinois, hitting a dozen small communities. Damaged were homes, utility lines, farm property and public property.

Before noon, the storm hit Springfield, Ill., where one witness said it became as dark as midnight.

John Cavitt, principal of McClerland Grade School, saw the approaching storm and ordered the children outside the building. A section of the school crashed down two floors into the basement shortly afterward. Four hours later searchers found the body of a 12-year-old student.

Roofs Torn Away

The storm raced to Rantoul, Ill., where scores of trailers were damaged and roofs torn away from homes. It struck a supermarket, where a section of roof collapsed, killing two persons. Three others were injured.

Scores of other injured were reported at nearby Chanute Air Force Base. Damage at Rantoul was estimated at more than $1 million.

Whipping through a dozen other Illinois communities, the storm felled power lines, trees and homes. At Pontiac, Ill., a chimney collapsed and killed one man.

Says Red Farmers 30 to 50 Years Behind U.S. Pace

ATLANTA (AP) — A group of Georgia farmers, returning from a 3,000-mile tour through Poland and the Soviet Union, say their counterparts behind the Iron Curtain are 30 to 50 years behind the United States.

The Georgians, who returned home Monday night, said they feel generally that the Russians are making only slight progress in catching up with modern farming methods.

Long Way to Go

L. W. Eberhardt Jr. of Athens, Ga., assistant director of the Georgia Agricultural Extension Service, said that while the Russians have "made some progress, they've got a long, long way to go to get anywhere near U.S. production."

Soviet farmers are feeding their own people with enough potatoes, wheat and similar products, Eberhardt said, but they are "so far behind in meat production."

All the group were impressed with the red carpet treatment they were given. Jack Gilchrist of the State Department of Agriculture said, "We Southerners

Hospital Week To Be Observed By Benedictine

The doctor's little black bag —the traditional symbol of American medicine — follows a different path today than it did 50 years ago. Then it made most of its trips between the doctor's office and the patient's home; today it travels most frequently between the office and the hospital.

"The little black bag's altered path illustrates the changing patterns of medical practice — the trend toward centralizing medical care in the hospital," according to Edwin B. Bolz, associate administrator of the Benedictine Hospital.

"Medical care has shifted from the home to the hospital, and with the shift, a new ingredient has been added to patient care—the highly technical methods resulting from the scientific revolution of the 20th century," Bolz said.

First Nurse Honored

The combination of science and individual patient care is the theme of National Hospital Week, May 6-12. This observance, originally celebrated as National Hospital Day, has been marked annually since 1953. Sponsored by the American Hospital Association, it is held each year during the week of Florence Nightingale's birthday, May 12.

"The contents of the doctor's little black bag have changed only slightly in the last 50 years, but the changes again illustrate the trend toward the hospital," Bolz said. "Added to the bag are some new drugs—particularly antibiotics and stimulants for starting stopped

48-Mile-High Flight Is Just Beginning: Walker

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—To grinning, rumple-haired test pilot Joe Walker, his record 48-mile-high flight in the X15 rocket plane Monday is "only the beginning" for winged aircraft.

Judging from the stresses he withstood in his 3,443 m.p.h. dash to the edge of space, Walker said he could "take orbit with no strain at all."

He doesn't think either he or the X15 will ever go into orbit. The X15 isn't built for it, and Walker, 41, is going to be tied up for the next two years seeing just how high the rocket plane can go and get back safely.

"There is no question," Walker said at a news conference after his flight, "that we can put a winged vehicle in orbit and land it as I did today."

The concept of using a winged controllable craft instead of a parachuting capsule to return from space, Walker said, has been proved practical. "All we have to do is build the plane."

Just such a plane, the missile-boosted Dynasoar space glider, is under construction. The lessons Walker and other X15 pilots learn will be cranked into Dynasoar's design.

Before the year is out the X15 will fly higher and higher, perhaps to 400,000 feet—75 miles.

Altitude is no problem to the X15. Engineers said it probably has enough power to reach an orbital altitude of 100 miles. The tough part is coming down in one piece.

Walker withstood forces four times normal gravity—four G's the pilots call it—in his steep climb and five G's when he pulled out of the dive back into the atmosphere.

Determining the proper angles and speeds for safe re-entry into the atmosphere will be X15's main job for the next two years.

Walker has been preparing for this job for 17 years. An Air Force fighter pilot in World War II, he joined the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (then called the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics) in 1945 as a physicist and later became a test pilot.

Transferring to NASA's center here in 1951, he test flew several experimental aircraft, including the X1E, the X3 and the X5. When the X15 was proposed it became one of his major interests.

Ike Budget Head Sees 4 Deficits From JFK Policy

Democrat Sen. Byrd Joins M. H. Stans In Calling for Stemming Loss of Gold

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's budget director told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce today that the Kennedy administration's policies, "unless abruptly changed, are likely to produce four consecutive deficits."

Maurice H. Stans, now president of Western Bancorporation, San Francisco, said businessmen must take an active personal interest in politics if they are concerned over "near-confiscatory taxes" and budget policies which "are an open invitation to a crisis for the dollar."

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., predicted the fiscal 1963 budget, for which President Kennedy forecast a scant surplus, will show "another deficit of $4 to $5 billion."

Both speeches were prepared for the Chamber's 50th annual meeting here.

Byrd told the 4,000 businessmen-delegates: "If such a deficit should develop next year, the three-year deficit would total $15 billion or more. This would be reminiscent of the huge deficits of 1958-59."

Both Call For Action

Both Stans and Byrd called for action to stem the loss of gold and correct the U.S. deficit in international payments. Of the $16.6 billion in remaining gold stocks, Byrd said, nearly $12 billion are required as a backing for the currency but the drain is continuing.

"How much longer can we continue to be Santa Claus for the world, and policeman for the free world?," Byrd asked. "When will Judgment Day come? Perhaps it is approaching faster than we realize?"

Should Campaign

Stans suggested that businessmen should work harder for the election of candidates "whose views are closest to yours."

Stans also declared: "Despite new fancy theories of balancing the budget over the (business) cycles, we have gone in the red 26 times in the last 32 years and have paid our bills without borrowing only six times.

"The policies of the present

More than 430 plant employes of Hercules Powder Company, Port Ewen, members of District 50, Local 13226, United Mine Workers of America went on strike at midnight when its contract with management expired.

Final negotiations from 3 to 6:30 p. m. Monday failed to break the impasse of contractual differences, and the plant workers were ordered off the job at midnight. Pickets were assigned to the plant early today.

Conciliator Attends

Negotiations for agreement on a new contract had been in progress for almost two months. During the last month, a federal conciliator, E. W. Eidt of Albany, attended the union-management sessions

Sylvester F. Demskie, union local secretary said the local is not in dispute with the wage agreements in the contract but seeks inclusion of compulsory arbitration and job security clauses.

He said the union wants recognition of a union shop. Under the expired contract it was necessary for both sides to agree to submit to arbitration before a controvry could be discussed. The union seeks compulsory ar-

School Election For 2 Candidates Being Held Today

Eligible voters of the Kingston City School District, Consolidated, are reminded that the polls for voting will be open today until 9 p. m. for casting ballots for election of two members of the board of education.

The election will be to fill vacancies created by the expiration of the terms of President George Schneider and Mrs. Bertha Connelly, vice president.

There are six candidates for the two positions:

Gifford Beal of Town of Ulster. Robert Browning of Kingston. Zale Liese of Port Ewen. Thomas Lyle of Kingston. Mrs. Julietta B. Neter of Kingston and Charles M. Rinschler of Kingston.

A meeting of the Board of Education will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at which time the official canvass of the vote will be made. A regular meeting af the board will follow.

Dispute Flaring On Welfare Again

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Newburgh welfare controversy has flared anew with publication of a state report saying that Newburgh's welfare spending rose slightly during a year the city waged a much-publicized campaign to reduce relief costs.

The latest phase of the dispute was touched off Monday when the State Social Welfare Department, in its annual report, said a rise last year in welfare spending in Newburgh occurred although the number of persons on relief declined slightly.

Says Figures Juggled

State Welfare Commissioner Raymond W. Houston commented that the figures indicated "that much-vaunted plan didn't save much money."

However, Newburgh City Manager Joseph Mitchell, author of the program that stirred a nationwide furor, said the state report did not reflect the situation accurately.

"I wish they'd stop juggling these figures," the Republican city manager declared.

Mitchell agreed that welfare costs had risen but pointed out that the city's program began in mid-year.

Newburgh Mayor William D. Ryan, a Democrat and a bitter opponent of the Mitchell plan, commented:

"The city manager has been throwing around a lot of false welfare figures which are not substantiated by fact. . . His claim was that his program was cutting down on welfare costs, but his program is not cutting down on anything."

The state report showed that welfare spending in Newburgh last year totaled $820,388, compared with $802,805 in 1960.

The average number of persons on relief per month in 1961 was 900, compared with 903 the year before, and the average

Anti-U.S. Theme Is Routine

Reds Vow Utmost To Avoid New War

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Labor's traditional May Day holiday was celebrated with rallies, speeches and parades on both sides of the Iron Curtain today as police stood guard in Berlin, Buenos Aires, Tokyo and other potential trouble spots.

With Soviet Premier Khrushchev and other top leaders watching from atop Lenin's tomb as usual, the Soviet Union staged one of the least belligerent May Day celebrations ever seen in Moscow's Red Square.

Warns Attackers

The keynote speech by the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, contained only routine attacks on the United States and the usual pledges that the Soviet forces would beat off any attacker.

The military parade of troop carriers, tanks and rockets lasted only nine minutes and there was nothing new for Western military observers to see. While they rolled through Red Square before the 10,000 spectators, the television announcer recited poetry.

The facade of the historical museum, at the end of Red Square, was dominated by a banner calling for "a mighty upsurge in agriculture" instead of the usual "forward to the victory of communism." Badly lagging farm production is the Soviet Union's current No. 1 problem.

Must Show Advantages

After the military parade there came the usual physical culture demonstration and march of the "spontaneous demonstrators."

Malinovsky stressed that the great task of the Soviet Union was to show "the irrefutable advantages of the Socialist system." He said that to achieve this the Soviet Union needed peace and that was the reason for the Leninist principle of peaceful coexistence.

He claimed that the Soviet Union was doing everything possible to achieve disarmament, a German peace treaty and various other things that might bring peace closer. But he charged that the ruling circles of the Western powers "and in the first place the United States" were putting obstacles in the way of achieving this."

Unusual Spectator

The defense minister said the Soviet Union would do everything to prevent World War III but that under current world conditions "it is logical that the Soviet Union will be vigilantly on guard and do everything for our defense."

An unusual spectator at the Red Square show was Belgium's Queen Mother Elisabeth, in Moscow for the second international Tchai-

Folsom, Gary in Running During 2-State Primaries

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Candidates in Alabama and Oklahoma today start the long haul toward Election Day as voters mark their choices for party nominations.

The primary balloting, highlighted by attempts of two former governors to win Democratic gubernatorial nominations, will be followed by runoff elections later this month for candidates who do not get more than half the votes cast today.

Texas voters make their party choices Saturday. Primaries are scheduled in four more states—Florida, Indiana, New Mexico and Ohio—next Tuesday.

The two former governors who have climbed back into the political ring are James E. Folsom of Alabama and Raymond D. Gary of Oklahoma. Neither Gov. John D. Patterson of Alabama nor Gov. J. Howard Edmondson of Oklahoma can succeed themselves under their state's laws.

Gary, governor from 1955 to 1959, hopes to be the first man elected to more than one term in the executive mansion since Oklahoma gained statehood in 1907.

Folsom is trying for his third non-consecutive term in Alabama, but his attempt has shared billing with nine Democratic congressmen battling for eight available places.

Because of a loss of population in the 1960 census, Alabama's House delegation has been reduced to eight seats. The Alabama Legislature could not agree on a formula for redistricting.

Three of the nine Alabama representatives will seek to qualify in their districts today for a statewide low-man-out runoff May 29. Six already have qualified for that showdown because they face no Democratic primary opposition in their districts today. Two of the three with opposition are expected to win handily but a three-way fight is expected in the 2nd District, including Birmingham, between Rep. George Grant and attorneys Albert Roemer and Starr Smith.

Folsom, governor from 1947 to 1951 and 1955 to 1959, is one of seven candidates in a state where the Democratic nomination is tantamount to election. The others are Birmingham Police Commission Eugene Connor, state Sen. Ryan Degraffenreid, Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion, Bruce Henderson, Wayne Bodie Jennings,

Dispute Flaring On Welfare Again

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Newburgh welfare controversy has flared anew with publication of a state report saying that Newburgh's welfare spending rose slightly during a year the city waged a much-publicized campaign to reduce relief costs.

The latest phase of the dispute was touched off Monday when the State Social Welfare Department, in its annual report, said a rise last year in welfare spending in Newburgh occurred although the number of persons on relief declined slightly.

Says Figures Juggled

State Welfare Commissioner Raymond W. Houston commented that the figures indicated "that much-vaunted plan didn't save much money."

However, Newburgh City Manager Joseph Mitchell, author of the program that stirred a nationwide furor, said the state report did not reflect the situation accurately.

"I wish they'd stop juggling these figures," the Republican city manager declared.

Mitchell agreed that welfare costs had risen but pointed out that the city's program began in mid-year.

Newburgh Mayor William D. Ryan, a Democrat and a bitter opponent of the Mitchell plan, commented:

"The city manager has been throwing around a lot of false welfare figures which are not substantiated by fact. . . His claim was that his program was cutting down on welfare costs, but his program is not cutting down on anything."

The state report showed that welfare spending in Newburgh last year totaled $820,388, compared with $802,805 in 1960.

The average number of persons on relief per month in 1961 was 900, compared with 903 the year before, and the average

Anti-U.S. Theme Is Routine

Reds Vow Utmost To Avoid New War

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Labor's traditional May Day holiday was celebrated with rallies, speeches and parades on both sides of the Iron Curtain today as police stood guard in Berlin, Buenos Aires, Tokyo and other potential trouble spots.

With Soviet Premier Khrushchev and other top leaders watching from atop Lenin's tomb as usual, the Soviet Union staged one of the least belligerent May Day celebrations ever seen in Moscow's Red Square.

Warns Attackers

The keynote speech by the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, contained only routine attacks on the United States and the usual pledges that the Soviet forces would beat off any attacker.

The military parade of troop carriers, tanks and rockets lasted only nine minutes and there was nothing new for Western military observers to see. While they rolled through Red Square before the 10,000 spectators, the television announcer recited poetry.

The facade of the historical museum, at the end of Red Square, was dominated by a banner calling for "a mighty upsurge in agriculture" instead of the usual "forward to the victory of communism." Badly lagging farm production is the Soviet Union's current No. 1 problem.

Must Show Advantages

After the military parade there came the usual physical culture demonstration and march of the "spontaneous demonstrators."

Malinovsky stressed that the great task of the Soviet Union was to show "the irrefutable advantages of the Socialist system." He said that to achieve this the Soviet Union needed peace and that was the reason for the Leninist principle of peaceful coexistence.

He claimed that the Soviet Union was doing everything possible to achieve disarmament, a German peace treaty and various other things that might bring peace closer. But he charged that the ruling circles of the Western powers "and in the first place the United States" were putting obstacles in the way of achieving this."

Unusual Spectator

The defense minister said the Soviet Union would do everything to prevent World War III but that under current world conditions "it is logical that the Soviet Union will be vigilantly on guard and do everything for our defense."

An unusual spectator at the Red Square show was Belgium's Queen Mother Elisabeth, in Moscow for the second international Tchai-

Folsom, Gary in Running During 2 - State Primaries

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Candidates in Alabama and Oklahoma today start the long haul toward Election Day as voters mark their choices for party nominations.

The primary balloting, highlighted by attempts of two former governors to win Democratic gubernatorial nominations, will be followed by runoff elections later this month for candidates who do not get more than half the votes cast today.

Texas voters make their party choices Saturday. Primaries are scheduled in four more states—Florida, Indiana, New Mexico and Ohio—next Tuesday.

The two former governors who have climbed back into the political ring are James E. Folsom of Alabama and Raymond D. Gary of Oklahoma. Neither Gov. John D. Patterson of Alabama nor Gov. J. Howard Edmondson of Oklahoma can succeed themselves under their state's laws.

Gary, governor from 1955 to 1959, hopes to be the first man elected to more than one term in the executive mansion since Oklahoma gained statehood in 1907.

Folsom is trying for his third non-consecutive term in Alabama, but his attempt has shared billing with nine Democratic congressmen battling for eight available places.

Because of a loss of population in the 1960 census, Alabama's House delegation has been reduced to eight seats. The Alabama Legislature could not agree on a formula for redistricting.

Three of the nine Alabama representatives will seek to qualify in their districts today for a statewide low-man-out runoff May 29. Six already have qualified for that showdown because they face no Democratic primary opposition in their districts today. Two of the three with opposition are expected to win handily but a three-way fight is expected in the 2nd District, including Birmingham, between Rep. George Grant and attorneys Albert Roemer and Starr Smith.

Folsom, governor from 1947 to 1951 and 1955 to 1959, is one of seven candidates in a state where the Democratic nomination is tantamount to election. The others are Birmingham Police Commissioner Eugene Connor, state Sen. Ryan Degraffenreid, Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion, Bruce Henderson, Wayne Bodie Jennings,

1,999,360 Budget

At stake will be the school budget and four board of education seats. The school budget amounts to $1,999,360, of which $1,367,965 will be raised by local property tax.

Nine candidates are running for the four board positions. Chase Page of Phoenicia and Ernest Gardner of Mt. Tremper are opponents for the one-year term vacated by Edward West. Alfred Nussbaum of West Hurley and Albert Fox of Olive Bridge are competing for the one-year unexpired term of Johan Aalto. John Ebbs, Woodstock and Edwin Secor, Ashokan, will seek the five-year term vacated by Marie Kleine. Three candidates, Harry Allen, Pine Hill, Thomas Mannix, Woodstock and George Sebald, Proenitia; will compete for the five-year term vacated by Harry Allen.

Budget Alternates

Voters will also decide whether to adopt the proposed budget. the budget include broad use of Alternates to voter adoption of the budget include board use of an "austerity" budget or submission of a new budget to the voters prior to the date by which the tax must be levied. An "austerity" budget would require the board to eliminate free textbooks, student workbooks, pencils and paper, use of school buildings by outside organizations, transportation of pupils, cafeteria lunch programs, and other items. Transportation can be provided if the commissioner so orders, but only beyond two miles for K-8 pupils and beyond three miles for 9-12 pupils. For example, all elementary pupils living under two miles from their school or under two miles from a main bus line would not be furnished transportation. Most feeder routes would also have to be eliminated.

Other regional vice presidents elected were Edward Kaplan of Newburgh and William Dean of Poughkeepsie.

Kingston Jaycees were awarded a plaque for the man-mile award.

A buffet supper was served.

Revenue Increase Reported by C-H For Three Months

A substantial increase in revenues, primarily from industrial users of electricity, and increases in earnings and net income for the three-month and 12-month periods ended March 31, were reported today by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation in its quarterly report to its 18,300 common stockholders.

The company's net income was $2,014,247 for the first quarter of 1962 and $6,268,998 for the 12-month period, as compared with corresponding totals of $1,753,063 and $5,607,794 as of March 31, 1961.

On a per share basis, the 1962 earnings are equivalent to 53 cents for the quarter and $1.59 for the 12 months on the 3,369,228 common shares outstanding as compared with the 1961 equivalents of 47 cents and $1.47 on the same number of shares.

Electric revenues during the first three months of this year were up 10 per cent over the similar period in 1961, principally due to increased sales to industrial customers. The large increase in industrial revenues, the report noted, was due primarily to the fact that during a substantial portion of the first quarter of last year the area's cement industries were shut down because of labor difficulties while this year such industries were in normal operation. The increase also indicates a healthy recovery from the nationwide recession which affected the Company's business in the first quarter of 1961.

Gas revenues were slightly under those for the first quarter of 1961 as a result of a gas rate reduction for commercial and industrial customers which went into effect last November.

U.S. to Help Anglo Craft

LONDON (AP) — U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced today his government will contribute between $30 million and $35 million to the development of a British fighter plane designed to take off vertically.

He is en route to Athens, Greece, for the four-day spring meeting of the North Atlantic Council.

The vertical takeoff P1127 was originated by Britain's Hawker Siddeley Aviation Co. and now is being developed under a cost-sharing agreement by Britain, the United States and West Germany.

D.A.Buddenhagen Demonstrates New Hughes Product

Douglas A. Buddenhagen, a director of laser production of Hughes Aircraft Company, Malibu, California, is introducing a new line for the company. Marketing of the new product, a low-price series of lasers or light amplifiers will begin in the near future.

The Hughes Aircraft Company director is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Buddenhagen of 9 Harrison Streeet, this city. The latter is division manager of Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. A graduate of Kingston High School, Douglas attended Union College, Albany, where he became an associate professor and was awarded the Hughes Fellowship.

Laser is a term derived from the first letters of the key word describing the device's function; Light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation. The device can turn the energy of random, many-colored light into an intense, narrow beam of single-colored, coherent light.

Roy E. Wendahl, executive vice president of Hughes, said that the company had established a product line of small lasers suitable for a wide variety of space, chemical, industrial and research applications.

The first items in the line will be small-size devices. The first unit, designated Model 200, will generate 5 to 10 kilowatts of power. It will have a light beam energy of one joule, a unit of energy equal to about seven-tenths of a foot-pound according to Buddenhagen.

Future models will find uses in communications, weapons, power transmission and industrial fabrication. High-energy lasers, laser oscillators, laser amplifiers and laser instrumentation will be added to the Hughes line.

Ballantine High Fidelity Ad Friday

The four-color high fidelity preprinted page introducing the brilliantly redesigned label on Ballantine beer cans and bottles will be published Friday, May 4 in The Freeman. The ad was originally scheduled for today, but shipping difficulties caused its deferment.

Newspapers are the main vehicle in the heaviest advertising campaign in Ballantine history.

Retained is the golden-copper colored can, the familiar steinie and tall-neck bottle and trademark—the three-ring sign.

The new look is the result of some two years of study and research during which the firm's merchandisers sought a design which most effectively conveyed a true image of the contents of the package—a light, bright and sparkling beverage of the highest quality.

Patriotic Plan

Athletic Program Listed by Lions Sunday at Dietz

In what is part of a vast nationwide program to counteract Communist inspired May Day parades, the Kingston Lions Club will hold a May Day Celebration at Dietz Stadium on Sunday, May 6, starting at 1:30 p. m.

The celebration will consist of a series of track and field events coupled with bicycle races for boys and girls up to the age of 14 years.

Prizes will be awarded to the first three places in each of the various events. Also other prizes will be awarded for both competitors and non-competitors.

The climax of the day will be the awarding of a new bicycle to some boy or girl.

There will be special prizes for the adults who attend with their children. Immediately upon completion of the final event the children and adults will be treated to ice cream and soda by the committee.

The event will be run by the Boys and Girls Committee of the Lions Club with President Stephen McGrath and other members of the club in attendance.

McGrath stated, "This program also follows the pattern set forth by President Kennedy in his recent edict on physical fitness."

Drug Cache Is Seized on Ship

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—U.S. customs agents and British authorities investigated today an international smuggling ring responsible for millions of dollars worth of narcotics seized aboard the British cruiser HMS Belfast.

Disclosure of the seizure—estimates of its value ranged from $2 million to $6 million—was made Monday by Frank Long, chief U. S. customs agent.

The attempt to smuggle 13¾ of heroin and 26 pounds of opium into San Francisco was part "of a huge operation by an international smuggling ring," Long said.

The Belfast docked here Saturday on a goodwill visit.

British consulate and Royal Navy spokesmen announced the arrest of two Chinese crewmen in possession of the narcotics, Petty Officer Ah Lee Wong, 35, and Kan Ping Kwok, 27, civilian cantcen helper, both of Hong Kong.

Some $70,00 worth of undeclared jade and diamonds turned up in sugar canisters. The gems were seized and 16 other crewmen were restricted to the ship in that connection. Importation of the gems into American waters constitutes no violation of customs unless an attempt is made to land them.

Long indicated prosecution is a matter for the British since none of the contraband was landed in the United States and it was seized by the ship's officers on the high seas.

The agent emphasized that the Belfast's officers, headed by Capt. Morgan Giles, reported the case to customs and narcotics agents as soon as the ship docked.

Consul General Randle Reid-Adam said the metter of disciplining the crewmen could come before an admiralty court when the ship reaches Plymouth, England.

The two arrested Chinese told ship's officers they were supposed to drop the narcotics in Honolulu but missed their contact. They said they brought the dope aboard at Singapore.

Youth, 17, Gets Death Term for Arson Killing

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) —Charles Ganss Jr., 17, heard Monday night he must die in the electric chair for the arson death of an elderly woman.

The jury of seven men and five women deliberated for three hours before returning the death verdict. They had convicted the youth of first-degree murder earlier in the death of Pauline Ritter, 67, of Cabot.

Donald H Montgomery, 19, of Brackenridge, will go on trial later on the same charge. They were accused of robbing Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ritter last Jan. 19, locking the couple in separate closets and setting fire to their home.

Ritter escaped, not knowing his wife was in another closet.

Plucked From Death

HIGHLANDS, N.J. (AP)—A 54-year-old man was plucked from the face of a cliff where he apparently had been for three days 200 feet over Sandy Hook Bay.

The man, semiconscious and suffering from exposure, was saved from a fatal plunge by a clump of brush about 75 feet down the face of the cliff, police said. A policeman on patrol heard moaning and found him Monday.

Rescuers, lowered by rope in a basket down the face of the cliff, took him off the perilous perch.

He was identified as Preston Kumpel of Red Bank, who had disappeared Friday.

Officials at the hospital said he was in fair condition.

Polls Open From 2 to 9 P. M.

OCS to Vote Budget, Board Posts May 2

Increase in voter registration assures a lively school election in the Onteora Central School district beginning at 2 p. m. and extending through 9 p. m. at the four poll centers Wednesday, May 2. Registration increased in the towns of Hurley and in Woodstock, while losses were registered in Olive and Shandaken. A comparison of registration figuures for last year and this year follows:

Olive-Marbltown	840	791
Hurley	555	610
Woodstock	960	1113
Shandaken-Lexington	875	809
Total:	3230	3323

1,999,360 Budget

At stake will be the school budget and four board of education seats. The school budget amounts to $1,999,360, of which $1,367,965 will be raised by local property tax.

Nine candidates are running for the four board positions. Chase Page of Phoenicia and Ernest Gardner of Mt. Tremper are opponents for the one-year term vacated by Edward West. Alfred Nussbaum of West Hurley and Albert Fox of Olive Bridge are competing for the one-year unexpired term of Johan Aalto. John Ebbs, Woodstock and Edwin Secor, Ashokan, will seek the five-year term vacated by Marie Kleine. Three candidates, Harry Allen, Pine Hill, Thomas Mannix, Woodstock and George Sebald, Phoenitia; will compete for the five-year term vacated by Harry Allen.

Budget Alternates

Voters will also decide whether to adopt the proposed budget. the budget include broad use of Alternates to voter adoption of the budget include board use of an "austerity" budget or submission of a new budget to the voters prior to the date by which the tax must be levied. An "austerity" budget would require the board to eliminate free textbooks, student workbooks, pencils and paper, use of school buildings by outside organizations, transportation of pupils, cafeteria lunch programs, and other items. Transportation can be provided if the commissioner so orders, but only beyond two miles for K-8 pupils and beyond three miles for 9-12 pupils. For example, all elementary pupils living under two miles from their school or under two miles from a main bus line would not be furnished transportation. Most feeder routes would also have to be eliminated.

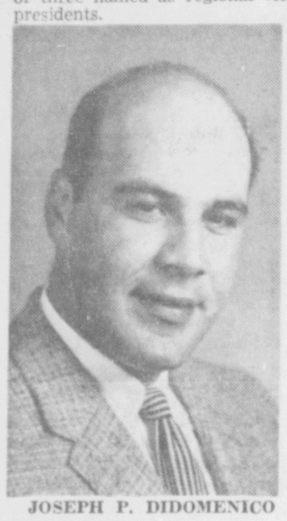
Jaycees to Host Fall Regional; Pick DiDomenico

Three notable honors were accorded to Ulster County units of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Sunday at the spring Mid-Hudson regional meeting held at Middletown.

Kingston was designated to host the fall Mid-Hudson regional meeting.

Kingston Jaycees won the man-mile award for the best attendance at the parley.

Joseph P. DiDomenico, Saugerties Jaycees president was one of three named as regional vice presidents.



JOSEPH P. DIDOMENICO

Eight members of the Kingston Jaycees attended the parley at New Mitchell Inn, Middletown for the annual event. Other locals in addition to Saugerties were Hudson, Middletown, Newburgh, New Paltz, Port Jervis, Foughkeepsie, Wappingers Falls and Warwick.

Other regional vice presidents elected were Edward Kaplan of Newburgh and William Dean of Poughkeepsie.

Kingston Jaycees were awarded a plaque for the man-mile award.

A buffet supper was served.

Revenue Increase Reported by C-H For Three Months

A substantial increase in revenues, primarily from industrial users of electricity, and increases in earnings and net income for the three-month and 12-month periods ended March 31, were reported today by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation in its quarterly report to its 18,300 common stockholders.

The company's net income was $2,014,247 for the first quarter of 1962 and $6,268,998 for the 12-month period, as compared with corresponding totals of $1,753,063 and $5,607,794 as of March 31, 1961.

On a per share basis, the 1962 earnings are equivalent to 53 cents for the quarter and $1.59 for the 12 months on the 3,369,228 common shares outstanding as compared with the 1961 equivalents of 47 cents and $1.47 on the same number of shares.

Electric revenues during the first three months of this year were up 10 per cent over the similar period in 1961, principally due to increased sales to industrial customers. The large increase in industrial revenues, the report noted, was due primarily to the fact that during a substantial portion of the first quarter of last year the area's cement industries were shut down because of labor difficulties while this year such industries were in normal operation. The increase also indicates a healthy recovery from the nationwide recession which affected the Company's business in the first quarter of 1961.

Gas revenues were slightly under those for the first quarter of 1961 as a result of a gas rate reduction for commercial and industrial customers which went into effect last November.

U.S. to Help Anglo Craft

LONDON (AP) — U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced today his government will contribute between $30 million and $35 million to the development of a British fighter plane designed to take off vertically.

He is en route to Athens, Greece, for the four-day spring meeting of the North Atlantic Council.

The vertical takeoff P1127 was originated by Britain's Hawker Siddeley Aviation Co. and now is being developed under a cost-sharing agreement by Britain, the United States and West Germany.

Negroes Coast-Bound

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Some 20 Louisiana Negroes were en route to Los Angeles today, the first large group to take advantage of the segregationist Citizens Council's offer of free one-way transportation.

Their train, dubbed "Freedom Train West" by New Orleans Council director George L. Singelmann, was scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Another group of Negroes is en route by bus to New York. It is scheduled to arrive at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The official flower of the District of Columbia, Georgia, Iowa, New York and North Dakota is the rose.

D.A.Buddenhagen Demonstrates New Hughes Product

Douglas A. Buddenhagen, a director of laser production of Hughes Aircraft Company, Malibu, California, is introducing a new line for the company. Marketing of the new product, a low-price series of lasers or light amplifiers will begin in the near future.

The Hughes Aircraft Company director is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Buddenhagen of 9 Harrison Streeet, this city. The latter is division manager of Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. A graduate of Kingston High School, Douglas attended Union College, Albany, where he became an associate professor and was awarded the Hughes Fellowship.

Laser is a term derived from the first letters of the key word describing the device's function; Light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation. The device can turn the energy of random, many-colored light into an intense, narrow beam of single-colored, coherent light.

Roy E. Wendahl, executive vice president of Hughes, said that the company had established a product line of small lasers suitable for a wide variety of space, chemical, industrial and research applications.

The first items in the line will be small-size devices. The first unit, designated Model 200, will generate 5 to 10 kilowatts of power. It will have a light beam energy of one joule, a unit of energy equal to about seven-tenths of a foot-pound according to Buddenhagen.

Future models will find uses in communications, weapons, power transmission and industrial fabrication. High-energy lasers, laser oscillators, laser amplifiers and laser instrumentation will be added to the Hughes line.

Ballantine High Fidelity Ad Friday

The four-color high fidelity preprinted page introducing the brilliantly redesigned label on Ballantine beer cans and bottles will be published Friday, May 4 in The Freeman. The ad was originally scheduled for today, but shipping difficulties caused its deferment.

Newspapers are the main vehicle in the heaviest advertising campaign in Ballantine history.

Retained is the golden-copper colored can, the familiar steinie and tall-neck bottle and trademark—the three-ring sign.

The new look is the result of some two years of study and research during which the firm's merchandisers sought a design which most effectively conveyed a true image of the contents of the package—a light, bright and sparkling beverage of the highest quality.

Patriotic Plan

Athletic Program Listed by Lions Sunday at Dietz

In what is part of a vast nationwide program to counteract Communist inspired May Day parades, the Kingston Lions Club will hold a May Day Celebration at Dietz Stadium on Sunday, May 6, starting at 1:30 p. m.

The celebration will consist of a series of track and field events coupled with bicycle races for boys and girls up to the age of 14 years.

Prizes will be awarded to the first three places in each of the various events. Also other prizes will be awarded for both competitors and non-competitors.

The climax of the day will be the awarding of a new bicycle to some boy or girl.

There will be special prizes for the adults who attend with their children. Immediately upon completion of the final event the children and adults will be treated to ice cream and soda by the committee.

The event will be run by the Boys and Girls Committee of the Lions Club with President Stephen McGrath and other members of the club in attendance.

McGrath stated, "This program also follows the pattern set forth by President Kennedy in his recent edict on physical fitness."

Drug Cache Is Seized on Ship

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—U.S. customs agents and British authorities investigated today an international smuggling ring responsible for millions of dollars worth of narcotics seized aboard the British cruiser HMS Belfast.

Disclosure of the seizure—estimates of its value ranged from $2 million to $6 million—was made Monday by Frank Long, chief U. S. customs agent.

The attempt to smuggle 13¾ of heroin and 26 pounds of opium into San Francisco was part "of a huge operation by an international smuggling ring," Long said.

The Belfast docked here Saturday on a goodwill visit.

British consulate and Royal Navy spokesmen announced the arrest of two Chinese crewmen in possession of the narcotics, Petty Officer Ah Lee Wong, 35, and Kan Ping Kwok, 27, civilian canteen helper, both of Hong Kong.

Some $70,00 worth of undeclared jade and diamonds turned up in sugar canisters. The gems were seized and 16 other crewmen were restricted to the ship in that connection. Importation of the gems into American waters constitutes no violation of customs unless an attempt is made to land them.

Long indicated prosecution is a matter for the British since none of the contraband was landed in the United States and it was seized by the ship's officers on the high seas.

The agent emphasized that the Belfast's officers, headed by Capt. Morgan Giles, reported the case to customs and narcotics agents as soon as the ship docked.

Consul General Randle Reid-Adam said the metter of disciplining the crewmen could come before an admiralty court when the ship reaches Plymouth, England.

The two arrested Chinese told ship's officers they were supposed to drop the narcotics in Honolulu but missed their contact. They said they brought the dope aboard at Singapore.

Youth, 17, Gets Death Term for Arson Killing

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—Charles Ganss Jr., 17, heard Monday night he must die in the electric chair for the arson death of an elderly woman.

The jury of seven men and five women deliberated for three hours before returning the death verdict. They had convicted the youth of first-degree murder earlier in the death of Pauline Ritter, 67, of Cabot.

Donald H. Montgomery, 19, of Brackenridge, will go on trial later on the same charge. They were accused of robbing Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ritter last Jan. 19, locking the couple in separate closets and setting fire to their home.

Ritter escaped, not knowing his wife was in another closet.

Plucked From Death

HIGHLANDS, N.J. (AP)—A 54-year-old man was plucked from the face of a cliff where he apparently had been for three days 200 feet over Sandy Hook Bay.

The man, semiconscious and suffering from exposure, was saved from a fatal plunge by a clump of brush about 75 feet down the face of the cliff, police said. A policeman on patrol heard moaning and found him Monday.

Rescuers, lowered by rope in a basket down the face of the cliff, took him off the perilous perch.

He was identified as Preston Kumpel of Red Bank, who had disappeared Friday.

Officials at the hospital said he was in fair condition.

Cubs Presented Musical Awards

In keeping with the theme of the month, Troubadors, three boys of Cub Pack 32 were rewarded for their efforts in making musical instruments and displaying them at Friday night's meeting at the Atonement Lutheran Church Hall. The judges, Kenneth Magyar, district commissioner, Edgar Smith Sr. and Daniel Wynne Sr. presented first award to Steven Rosenberger, second to Steve Benham and third to Glen Olsen.

Charles Hudson, assistant cubmaster, conducted the business meeting following the formal opening by Mrs. Gerald Rosenberger's Den 3.

Steven Benham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Benham, was welcomed into the pack as a new Bobcat. Other advancements included a Wolf badge to Dennis O'Hearn; Bear badge to Roger Wincheli; Gold arrow point under Wolf to Jeff Liesendahl; Gold arrow under Bear to Daniel Wynne, Dean Rittie and Kenneth Bauser; two silver arrows under Bear to Kevin MacCallam.

John Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith, who has successfully passed the Webelos den, was awarded his tenderfoot pin and graduated into Boy Scouts. Scoutmaster Eugene Davis of Troop 32 and Scouts Alan Wolven, John Mullaney and Kenneth Copeman ceremoniously welcomed him into the troop.

Den 1, lead by Mrs. Elsie Vanderbeck and Mrs. Charles Hudson, entertained with a Sing-A-Long skit with audience participation.

George Poythress, neighborhood commissioner was introduced as a guest of the evening.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Mullaney, chairman, and the Mmes. Walter Rittie, Edward Strohsahl and Daniel Wynne.

Birds Are Topic Of Garden Group

The Saugerties Society of Little Gardens met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Herman Knaust, Stroomzeit. Mrs. David Jones, president, welcomed members and guests. Roll call brought responses not only of unusual birds seen by members but several humorous tales of members' experiences with animals.

Objection was voiced about the Jaycees intention to paint the blue stone curbing on Main and Partition Streets. The Club will ask that this proposal be reconsidered.

Plans for the annual flower show were discussed. The show is scheduled for June 6 in the parish room of the Reformed Church as in previous years.

Mrs. Joseph L. Kennan gave a paper on Birds. The month of May is an interesting time to study birds as it is the time of migration. Most birds have excellent eyesight, practically no sense of smell. The sense of touch is highly developed in the bill. The eye is an unusually large organ, not entirely visible, as part of the eye is set back in the skull. What is commonly called the robin is really a large migratory thrush named by the early settlers in this country for the English robin.

Following the meeting tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Francis Minogue. On May 9 the club will meet at the home of Mrs. John Althiser, Washington Avenue. Mrs. H. John Wilkins will speak on Landscaping.

Classis Women Meet May 9th

The spring conference of the Women's Classical Union of Ulster will be held at the Reformed Church of the Comforter, Wynkoop Place, Kingston, New York, May 9, 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

The boards speaker will be the Rev. Donald DeYoung, and Mrs. Alvin J. Neevel will be the speaker for the department.

Luncheon will be served following the morning meeting. Reservations must be in by May 7 and may be made by calling Mrs. Robert M. Freligh of Saugerties.

Monday Club Meets

Reports of the state convention of the Federated Women Clubs will be made at the annual tea of the Monday Club of Saugerties held at the home of Mrs. Fabian Russell Monday, May 7 at 3 p. m. Associate members may attend.

Those attending the convention in Glens Falls were Mrs. William Ziegler, delegate; Mrs. Warren Myer, alternate; Mrs. Henry Knaust, county chairman; and Mrs. Milton Armstrong, president of the Monday Club.

Lutheran Church Notes

The Rev. Walter Cowen, pastor of the Atonement Lutheran Church and David Hildebrandt Jr., will attend the spring convention of the Hudson Conference at Grace Lutheran Church, Greenwood Lake, Friday, May 4. The conference will be the last session before the merging United Lutheran Church in America becomes the Lutheran Church in America.

The annual mother and daughter dinner will be held Friday, May 18, sponsored by the Lutheran Women of Atonement. The meal will be served by the men of the Lutheran Brotherhood of Atonement. Members of the congregation will be contacted by phone for reservations. Those not contacted during the week of May 6 may call Mrs. Harry Anders. Mrs. William Goetz, of Mt. Marion Park, is chairman of the dinner.

May 13 will be observed by Lutheran Churches of Saugerties, Kingston area as Lutheran World Action Sunday. The 37 Churches of the Hudson Conference, together with Lutherans of Canada and America will bring offerings for this cause of Lutheran World Action and Relief.

Lutherans will also be collecting clothing for world relief through May 15, which may be left at the church at any day until then. All denominational groups have similar clothing appeals and those desiring to help in this should bring their good used clothing to their own church, for packing and shipping.

The children of the Sunday school have been saving a dime a day during lent and their contributions will be part of the funds to be sent for world relief.

Patricia Lynn, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Gillespy of Lynnhaven, Va., was received by the Sacrament of Infant Baptism, Sunday at the 8 a. m. service. Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Swart of Churchland Road were the sponsors, Mrs. Gillespy is their daughter, the former Helen Swart.

Area Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Smith and two children have moved into their new home at 78 Hemlock Court, Simmons Park. Mr. Smith is an employe of the IBM Corp. in Kingston, having been transferred here from North Dakota.

Mrs. Thelma Keefe Wart of Sidney is visiting at the home of Mrs. Robert Van Gaasbeek, Lafayette Street.

Events Scheduled

The Mothers Auxiliary of Troop 32 will hold a rummage sale on May 11-12 in the former Roming Store, Main Street. Proceeds will go to the fund being raised to send Scouts to the next National Jamboree.

The DAR will meet Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Charles Abbott on Spaulding Lane at 2 p. m.

The Main Street Parents Group will hold a card party in the school cafeteria Thursday, May 10, from 8 to 10 p. m. Awards will be given and refreshments will be served. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Richard Redder, Lighthouse Drive.

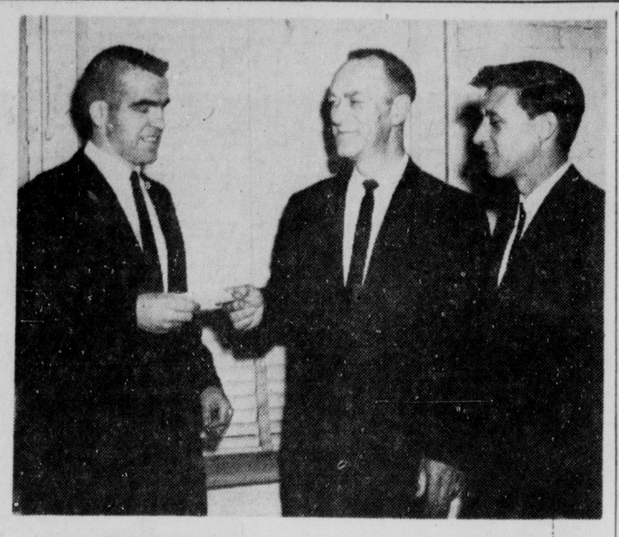
The Saugerties Democratic Club has completed plans for its spring festival dance at the Holiday Inn Saturday, May 12, beginning at 8:30 p. m. The public may attend. The Bavarian Dancers of Kingston will provide entertainment.

Nonsense to Dilworth

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republican efforts to link Democratic candidates with the state Communist Party are nothing but nonsense, says Richardson Dilworth.

"I don't know any Communists," the Democratic organization candidate for governor declared Monday night on "Capitol Correspondents," a local television question-and-answer program.

Dilworth's remarks stemmed from a campaign statement last week from his Republican counterpart, William W. Scranton, claiming that the Democratic slate has the backing of the Pennsylvania Communist Party.



AIDS CELEBRATION—Joseph O'Reilly, president of Ferroxcube Corporation of America, presents check to Joseph Gavner, left, general chairman of the Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce Fourth of July celebration and Richard Cyr, right, Jaycee internal vice president. The check will underwrite the cost of the Saugerties Drum and Bugle Corps' participation in the celebration. The F. L. Russell Corporation has consented to defray the cost of the Red Devil Drum and Bugle Corps of Kingston and the Saugerties National Bank and Trust Company the cost of the fireworks display. Solon Says U.S. Leads Reds in Atomic Field

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., says the U.S. is ahead of Russia in atomic weapons development but adds that he doesn't know just how far ahead.

Craig, a member of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, was present when the U.S. resumed nuclear tests in the Pacific.

"The big consideration," he told a Young Republican meeting Monday, "is not a matter of how many months or years we are ahead. We must be alert for a breakthrough by them into some newer, deadlier type of weapon."

Burning Ban Is Lifted in County

Sunday night's heavy thunderstorm and a continuation of rain Monday brought a halt to the rash of forest and brush fires which have plagued the area for the past several weeks.

As a result District Forest Ranger Walsh yesterday lifted the ban on burning permits in Ulster, Orange, Rockland and Sullivan counties.

Fishkill Woman Dies of Injuries In Florida Crash

BUNNELL, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Roberta Matson, 28, of Fishkill, N.Y., died Monday of injuries suffered Sunday in a two-car collision on U.S. Route 1 north of here.

Her husband, Arthur, was among five persons injured.

State Police said one car skidded in a rain puddle and spun into the path of the other.

One Hospitalized Other Arrested In Auto Crash

The operator of one vehicle was hospitalized and the operator of a second car was arrested on a charge of being an unlicensed operator after two cars collided last night on Greenfield Park road.

State police at Ellenville reported about 8:45 p. m. two cars being operated easterly on Route 52, collided when the first car, operated by Marvin Streigold, 26, Woodbourne, slowed to make a right turn to a sideroad.

Edward Collins, 40, Ellenville, they reported, failed to stop and struck the Streigold car in the rear. Collins was arrested on a charge of not being a licensed operator. He received a laceration of the lip. Streigold suffered shock and a neck injury and was taken to Monticello hospital.

School Shelter Plans Canceled

CANDOR, N.Y. (AP)—The Candor Central School District, first in the state to announce plans to build a fallout shelter, says it isn't going to build the shelter after all.

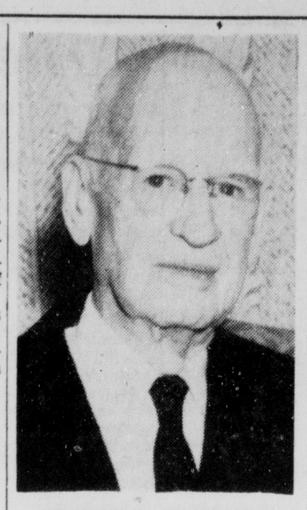
District Principal Dallas K. Martin said Monday that the school board had eliminated the shelter idea in an effort to cut the cost of a school renovation project.

He said bids for the project, which originally called for a combination gymnasium and auditorium as well as an underground shelter and cafeteria, were $200,000 more than the $575,000 the school board planned to spend.

The cafeteria, he said, will be built above ground, next to the gymnasium-auditorium.

Wicks Hose to Meet

A. H. Wicks Engine and Truck Co., Inc., will meet Thursday, May 3, at the fire station, 17 Wiltwyck Avenue, at 8 p. m. A full attendance of members is requested. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.



GEORGE F. CHANDLER

Named Marshal For Memorial Day Parade Here

Preliminary arrangements for the annual Memorial Day parade and services conducted by Kingston Veterans Association were announced today by William Watts, committee chairman.

Col. George F. Chandler, founder and first superintendent of the New York State Police will serve as grand marshal.

Watts, a prominent member of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, one of seven organizations comprising the KVA, said all veteran's organizations should formulate plans to participate.

Col. Chandler, first superintendent when the state police was organized in 1917, served until 1924. After retiring as superintendent, he returned to the practice of surgery in Kingston and continued until 1932. He served as surgeon-in-chief at Kingston Hospital.

He is now in retirement and resides at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Youth Who Was Saved in 1958 Rescues Girl, 3

SHERRILL, N.Y. (AP) — A 3-year-old girl was rescued from the 25-foot-deep waters of Sconondoa Creek by a youth who was saved from drowning at the same spot four years ago.

Bruce Davis, 19, of Sherrill, jumped into the muddy creek and, after diving beneath the surface several times, pulled out Rose Richlin.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Richlin of Utica, had fallen in Monday while playing on the bank.

Davis applied artificial respiration until a rescue squad arrived with a resuscitator. Rose was admitted to Oneida City Hospital for observation.

After the rescue, Davis remarked, "That was the way Billy Griffith saved me."

Griffith was awarded a Carnegie Medal for his rescue of Davis. He was killed in an automobile accident two years later.

Patricia Lynn, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Gillespy of Lynnhaven, Va., was received by the Sacrament of Infant Baptism, Sunday at the 8 a. m. service. Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Swart of Churchland Road were the sponsors. Mrs. Gillespy is their daughter, the former Helen Swart.

Area Notes

Bill Knipe, owner of The Corner Store, who has been a patient at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Albany, is now recuperating at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Johnstone, Oakledge Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Smith and two children have moved into their new home at 78 Hemlock Court, Simmons Park. Mr. Smith is an employe of the IBM Corp. in Kingston, having been transferred here from North Dakota.

Mrs. Thelma Keefe Wart of Sidney is visiting at the home of Mrs. Robert Van Gaasbeek, Lafayette Street.

Events Scheduled

The Mothers Auxiliary of Troop 32 will hold a rummage sale on May 11-12 in the former Roming Store, Main Street. Proceeds will go to the fund being raised to send Scouts to the next National Jamboree.

The DAR will meet Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Charles Abbott on Spaulding Lane at 2 p. m.

The Main Street Parents Group will hold a card party in the school cafeteria Thursday, May 10, from 8 to 10 p. m. Awards will be given and refreshments will be served. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Richard Redder, Lighthouse Drive.

The Saugerties Democratic Club has completed plans for its spring festival dance at the Holiday Inn Saturday, May 12, beginning at 8:30 p. m. The public may attend. The Bavarian Dancers of Kingston will provide entertainment.

Nonsense to Dilworth

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republican efforts to link Democratic candidates with the state Communist Party are nothing but nonsense, says Richardson Dilworth.

"I don't know any Communists," the Democratic organization candidate for governor declared Monday night on "Capitol Correspondents," a local television question-and-answer program.

Dilworth's remarks stemmed from a campaign statement last week from his Republican counterpart, William W. Scranton, claiming that the Democratic slate has the backing of the Pennsylvania Communist Party.

AIDS CELEBRATION—Joseph O'Reilly, president of Ferroxcube Corporation of America, presents check to Joseph Gavner, left, general chairman of the Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce Fourth of July celebration and Richard Cyr, right, Jaycee internal vice president. The check will underwrite the cost of the Saugerties Drum and Bugle Corps' participation in the celebration. The F. L. Russell Corporation has consented to defray the cost of the Red Devil Drum and Bugle Corps of Kingston and the Saugerties National Bank and Trust Company the cost of the fireworks display. Solon Says U.S. Leads Reds in Atomic Field

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., says the U.S. is ahead of Russia in atomic weapons development but adds that he doesn't know just how far ahead.

Craig, a member of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, was present when the U.S. resumed nuclear tests in the Pacific.

"The big consideration," he told a Young Republican meeting Monday, "is not a matter of how many months or years we are ahead. We must be alert for a breakthrough by them into some newer, deadlier type of weapon."

Burning Ban Is Lifted in County

Sunday night's heavy thunderstorm and a continuation of rain Monday brought a halt to the rash of forest and brush fires which have plagued the area for the past several weeks.

As a result District Forest Ranger Walsh yesterday lifted the ban on burning permits in Ulster, Orange, Rockland and Sullivan counties.

Fishkill Woman Dies of Injuries In Florida Crash

BUNNELL, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Roberta Matson, 28, of Fishkill, N.Y., died Monday of injuries suffered Sunday in a two-car collision on U.S. Route 1 north of here.

Her husband, Arthur, was among five persons injured.

State Police said one car skidded in a rain puddle and spun into the path of the other.

One Hospitalized Other Arrested In Auto Crash

The operator of one vehicle was hospitalized and the operator of a second car was arrested on a charge of being an unlicensed operator after two cars collided last night on Greenfield Park road.

State police at Ellenville reported about 8:45 p. m. two cars being operated easterly on Route 52, collided when the first car, operated by Marvin Streigold, 26, Woodbourne, slowed to make a right turn to a sideroad.

Edward Collins, 40, Ellenville, they reported, failed to stop and struck the Streigold car in the rear. Collins was arrested on a charge of not being a licensed operator. He received a laceration of the lip. Streigold suffered shock and a neck injury and was taken to Monticello hospital.

School Shelter Plans Canceled

CANDOR, N.Y. (AP)—The Candor Central School District, first in the state to announce plans to build a fallout shelter, says it isn't going to build the shelter after all.

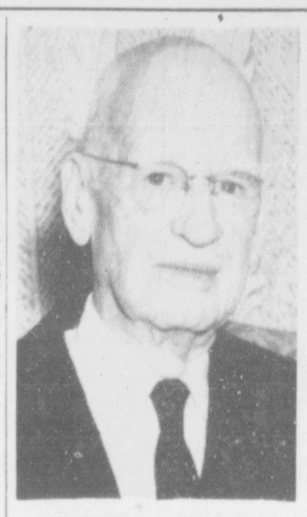
District Principal Dallas K. Martin said Monday that the school board had eliminated the shelter idea in an effort to cut the cost of a school renovation project.

He said bids for the project, which originally called for a combination gymnasium and auditorium as well as an underground shelter and cafeteria, were $200,000 more than the $575,000 the school board planned to spend.

The cafeteria, he said, will be built above ground, next to the gymnasium-auditorium.

Wicks Hose to Meet

A. H. Wicks Engine and Truck Co., Inc., will meet Thursday, May 3, at the fire station, 17 Wiltwyck Avenue, at 8 p. m. A full attendance of members is requested. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.



GEORGE F. CHANDLER

Named Marshal For Memorial Day Parade Here

Preliminary arrangements for the annual Memorial Day parade and services conducted by Kingston Veterans Association were announced today by William Watts, committee chairman.

Col. George F. Chandler, founder and first superintendent of the New York State Police will serve as grand marshal.

Watts, a prominent member of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, one of seven organizations comprising the KVA, said all veteran's organizations should formulate plans to participate.

Col. Chandler, first superintendent when the state police was organized in 1917, served until 1924. After retiring as superintendent, he returned to the practice of surgery in Kingston and continued until 1932. He served as surgeon-in-chief at Kingston Hospital.

He is now in retirement and resides at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Youth Who Was Saved in 1958 Rescues Girl, 3

SHERRILL, N.Y. (AP) — A 3-year-old girl was rescued from the 25-foot-deep waters of Sconondoa Creek by a youth who was saved from drowning at the same spot four years ago.

Bruce Davis, 19, of Sherrill, jumped into the muddy creek and, after diving beneath the surface several times, pulled out Rose Richlin.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Richlin of Utica, had fallen in Monday while playing on the bank.

Davis applied artificial respiration until a rescue squad arrived with a resuscitator. Rose was admitted to Oneida City Hospital for observation.

After the rescue, Davis remarked, "That was the way Billy Griffith saved me."

Griffith was awarded a Carnegie Medal for his rescue of Davis. He was killed in an automobile accident two years later.

PURPLE SHADES OF SPRING

Even in this day of scientific weather forecasting, with electronic brains, worldwide communications and cloud pictures from space, there remain rugged individualists to whom weather is still a personal, do-it-yourself affair.

Everyone knows at least one of that innumerable breed of forecasters who can augur changes by the state of their bunions or joints. Then there are those who base their predictions on the statistics of past weather.

Mention must also be made of those who put store by a number of age-old saws and sayings—to which some new ones have been added, such as "wash your car and watch it pour."

Another type, not entirely accepted or rejected by his scientific confreres, is the prognosticator who reads weather portents from the behavior of the animals who, as we all know, have much more savvy than humans in matters like this.

One of the most picturesque, if not infallible, of this school is Miss Eunice Merton of Peninsula, Ohio, who takes readings of the coming seasons from her Bangs Corners Bug Barometer.

In her delightful style, she describes the passing of spring into summer in northern Ohio:

"Spring has lost all her gumption; no get-up-and-get.

"The woolly bear caterpillars, just out of hibernation, hardly have time for one good feed before going into the cocoons from which they immediately must emerge as pink and yellow moths.

"The toads and frogs all fall silent along the edges of the pond.

"Female redwings, two weeks behind the males, swing on last year's cattails.

"Chipmunks scamper, red squirrels scold, and the greys bark and caterwaul again.

"The raccoon whimpers like a lost baby by the cheese house door.

"The team and the cows shed their winter coats, and the blacksnake comes from under the corn crib to rid the barn of rats again.

"White violets prefume the cellarway where the newly dropped oak leaves gather.

"Frost is gone; roads harden again. New posts are set for the pasture fence and the grave diggers catch up on their winter work.

"The Water Moon, passing its full, scrawls black shadows over last patches of snow.

"The hard far stars soften and come close for summer.

"The winds of morning finger a loose shingle and the empty rocker eerily starts swinging as though in use.

"Sassafras, dandelions and upland cress grace the supper table; rhubarb is on the way.

So says the Bug Barometer. And no matter if they do one day learn to do something about the weather, there will always be room for people who can talk about it like that.

HELP THE MUSEUMS

What is an educational institution, or a charitable institution? Churches, hospitals, colleges and schools will occur to everyone. Are there any others? The law thinks not. It allows the foregoing tax deductions, up to 30 per cent, for income calculations. If an institution is none of these, but is a publicly owned museum or library, it gets tax credits of only 20 per cent.

Yet many city museums—of art, of natural history, of health—all operate guided tours for children and adults, offer class instruction and lectures, conduct art schools, and give college credit courses. If these activities are not educational, why are they not?

These discriminations would be remedied if a bill introduced by Rep. Eugene J. Keogh of Brooklyn becomes law. This would re-word the present law to include these equally educational institutions which now are not covered. That would be of great service in promoting our national culture.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

A PRESIDENT'S HERITAGE

When a President moves out of the White House to make room for another President, no very great change takes place. All the obligations and responsibilities of the departing President and of those who preceded him fall to the lot of his successor. The course of events remains unchanged.

For instance, the inflation which followed the Truman Administration continued throughout the Eisenhower Administration and into the Kennedy Administration. Inflation paid no attention to the change of Presidents. Similarly, the effects of the export of our gold reserve continued. The Eisenhower Administration apparently had no understanding of money and of the need for a metal reserve and the Kennedy Administration has not been in office long enough to succeed in arresting this movement.

As a matter of fact, the reversal of a trend of this nature may take years because involved in the process is not only the United States but friendly and unfriendly nations throughout the world.

Our labor problems have a long history. Even if we start with the 1921-1938 Depression, during which about 10,000,000 were generally unemployed and wages and prices fell low and were artificially raised by government intervention, it must be noted that efforts to stabilize labor-management relations tended to reduce the role of ownership, to expertize management, to elevate labor to the middle-class by high wages, fringe benefits, reduction of hours and assertion by their unions to a partial voice in management.

At first, an attempt was made to regularize labor union-management-associations relationships by the N.R.A., which the Supreme Court declared to be unconstitutional. The authority of the labor union was established by the Wagner Act and the establishment of the National Labor Relations Board which, in effect, monitors the situation. In addition, the authority of the Secretary of Labor has been expanded so that he or his representatives actually serve as participants in discussions.

A wage-price pattern developed as far back as the Roosevelt Administration and has been continuous up to President Kennedy's intervention in the steel strike. This pattern is that labor strikes, wages are raised, fringe benefits cost more, prices rise. The process halts for about two years while the entire economy adjusts to the change. Then it starts all over again — strikes, wage increases, fringe benefit increases, prices rise, the process halts. This is the process of inflation. What actually happened since 1946 is that the purchasing power of the dollar fell; the gold stocks began to fall, taxes rose; American goods were out-priced in world markets.

Whether Nixon or Kennedy was elected in 1960, these are the conditions which already existed and with which the new President had to deal. If John Doe or Richard Roe were elected, it would have been the same.

I am omitting the complicating factors of our foreign relations in this discussion but I cannot omit the organization of the Common Market, the shutting off of significant markets in the Soviet Universal State; the rapid recovery of West Germany and Japan; the continued disorder throughout the world because of Soviet Russia's insistence upon the permanent revolution and the emergence of the new African and Asiatic nations and the collapse of the European empires.

All of these complications had sharp effects upon the American economic system. The immediate problem that faced President Kennedy was whether to put on such controls as both Wilson and Roosevelt employed or to utilize the moral authority of the Presidential office to persuade the whole American people to co-operate to arrest all inflationary tendencies and to rescue the dollar.

Of the two methods, controls are the easier to implement but they produce a police state. President Kennedy rejected the expansion of government controls. Younger generations do not remember what a plague controls can be; how horrible the very existence of nachalniki — bothersome officials — can be.

The President apparently is going to employ moral suasion. The whole story of the steel situation comes down to a few simple postulates: management and the labor unions are free to assert themselves; but the government must protect the economy, to arrest inflations and to stabilize the dollar. The Administration's formula is sound but sometimes such actions can be too swift and too angry. However, a new formula has appeared and it will continue to be employed. We all shout against inflation but when an action is taken, we object for other reasons.

Adequate Means at Hand To Ward Off Tuberculosis

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Some time ago, I reported a small epidemic of tuberculosis among school children whose bus driver proved to be the source of their infection. Of present concern is another epidemic that occurred in a British primary school and an outbreak aboard a U. S. Navy picket destroyer.

In the less serious British experience, the discovery of a form of skin tuberculosis in 10 children led to a survey that revealed 23 additional infections in the school. Of these, 21 were in a single classroom. In this classroom, the source of the infection was thought to be a little girl who had been in contact with the infection for at least two years.

As a result of her presence, more than 60 per cent of her classmates gave positive reactions to tuberculin tests as against slightly over 10 per cent in the rest of the school.

All this might have been prevented if the little girl had been given simple treatment with an antituberculous pill or if she had been vaccinated with BCG.

In the case of the outbreak in our Navy, the source was presumably a young electrician who had been associated with a civilian friend, known to have a had active tuberculosis, some four months previously.

Within a period of 18 months, the young electrician's infection had spread to involve 62 of the ship's complement of 236 enlisted men and officers. Most of these secondary infections occurred in the sleeping quarters ocupied by the young man in question.

As a result of the alertness and competence of the Naval Medical Department, the epidemic was brought to an abrupt halt.

Here are some of the lessons that have emerged from these disturbing experiences:

Tubrculosis may be acquired from inhalation of resistant airborne bacilli even though there has been no direct person-to-person contact with the primary source.

Resistance to tuberculosis may be acquired by BCG vaccination in infancy provided that the vaccine produces a positive tuberculin reaction.

Persons whose tuberculin reaction converts from negative to positive, especially after known exposure to a person with proven active infection, may be protected by simple treatment with an antituberculous pill.

And finally, the tubercle bacillus may be knocked to the canvas innumerable times by the powerful drugs now at hand. But, until he is nailed in his coffin, he remains a dangerous foe.

"Well, Try!"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Political changes in even the most remote parts of the world now have a direct impact on the U.S., although there may be little direct American contact.

This point has just been brought home by the new military government in Burma under Gen. Ne Win. He has just kicked out Ford Foundation, Fulbright scholarships and other Western influences to follow a policy of stricter neutralism and nationalism. The idea seems to be that henceforth Burma will deal with the outside world on a government-to-government basis.

THIS IS OF PARTICULAR interest in the United States now because a Department of Commerce-organized trade mission of American businessmen was in Burma when Gen. Ne Win ousted Premier U Nu's civilian government in March.

This political instability made obvious the risks of trying to do more business with Burma. But since Ne Win had been head of the Burmese Economic Development Corp. under U Nu, assurances were given the Americans that the new government was interested in growth and stability.

The U.S. trade mission therefore came home feeling that this country, which last year had only $8 million of Burma's $230 million foreign trade, could increase the volume to $100 million. But all that hope is now on dubious ground.

This U.S. trade mission to Burma is the 100th such group that has been sent abroad in the last three years to drum up foreign trade prospects under the auspices of Commerce Department's Bureau of International Business Operations.

OPERATION OF THE BURMA MISSION is typical of the 99 others that have gone before it, so it can be taken as an example of a little-known but valuble government service.

The mission spent six weeks in Burma, visiting Rangoon twice, Mandalay, Moulmein, Myitkyina and Taunggyi-of both Kipling and China-Burma-India theatre war fame.

Commercial attaches of the U.S. Embassy in Burma beat the drums in advance with brochures on the mission, invitations to native businessmen to visit with its members and a list of 324 specific trade opportunities they could discuss.

The whole emphasis was on developing business prospects. No effort was made to sign contracts or close deals. That is left to interested parties after contacts are made.

Reason for this procedure is that the businessmen sent on each mission have gone as representatives of all American industry and not of just their own companies. It has been felt that this was as far as the government could go in spending the taxpayers' money without playing favorites. Members got no pay, only travel expenses and $13 a day subsistence.

HEAD OF THE BURMA MISSION was Bradley Murray, who took the first trade mission to Nigeria in 1959 and has since headed missions to Chile, Afghanistan, Rhodesia-Nyasaland.

Others on the Burma mission were Bjorne Andersen of Celanese Corp., New York; H. McKinley Conway Jr., Atlanta publisher of industrial guides; Ray Hemenway, Albert Lea, Minn., concrete and building products manufacturer; Eugene M. Lang, New York specialist on international licensing; John E. Medendorf, machine tool builder and former mayor of Muskegon, Mich.; Everett F. Zurn, Erie, Pa., industrial equipment manufacturer.

The Burma mission came back with a strong feeling that if any progress is to be made under President Kennedy's foreign trade expansion program, there will have to be some additional follow-up effort by private industry — possibly working through trade associations—to develope the contacts made by the trade missions.

The 100 trade missions which have been sent out in the last 3 years have taken 300 American businessmen to 70 countries, some of them being visited twice. They have developed over 5,000 foreign trade contracts and prospects. These have resulted in over 300 known joint-venture investments and 400 licensing agreements with U.S. firms.

Kennedy Speech Raises Stone - Casting Question

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—On the subject of "stone-throwing" — apropos of the controversy recently over steel prices—President Kennedy in a speech before the U.S. Chamber of Commerce convention on Monday quoted the Bible as saying there is "a time to cast away stones and a time to gather stones together." But Mr. Kennedy forgot another quotation. Jesus said: "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to cast a stone."

The President brushes aside the fact that he initiated the broad attack on American business three weeks ago, April 11 last, he expressed his feeling that "a tiny handful of steel executives whose pursuit of private power and profit exceed their sense of public responsibility can show such utter contempt for the interests of 185 million Americans."

This was the "stone" cast by an Administration which, because of its political indebtedness to the big labor unions, had refused to use any "stones" in the public interest to prevent an increase of $100 million a year in wage costs to the steel industry.

Mr. Kennedy has owed a public apology to the men in the steel industry and a disavowal of his charges as to their lack of patriotism. Maybe this is what he was trying indirectly to do when he said to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in his speech on Monday:

While government economists can point out the necessity of increasing the rates of investment, of modernizing plant and productivity, while Washington officials may urge responsible collective bargaining and responsible wage-price decisions, we also recognize that beneath all the laws and guidelines and tax policies and stimulants we can provide, these matters all come down, quite properly in the last analysis, to private individuals."

What Steel Attempted

This is precisely what the steel men, as private individuals, tried to do. Had Mr. Kennedy made this statement in a balanced plea to labor and management in the steel controversy, and had he recognized that a moderate increase in steel prices was not catastrophic in itself, there would have been more confidence among businessmen today in the fairness of his administration.

For the President, in his latest speech, does outline objectively the problems faced by government and business and labor. He declare that "it is easy to charge and administration is anti-business, but is is more difficult to show how an administration, composed we hope, of rational men, can possibly feel they can survive without business, or how the nation can survive unless the government and business and all other groups in our country are exerting their best efforts in an atmosphere and understanding, and I hope co-operation."

But such an "atmosphere of understanding" cannot be attained by misunderstanding the responsibilities of management to their stockholders—the investing public. Either the government has to run the economy or else the private-enterprise system must do it. Mr. Kennedy said:

"We have many burdens in Washington—we do not want the added burden of determining individual prices for individual products. We seek instead an economic climate in which an expanding concept of business and labor responsibility, an increas-awareness of world commerce and the free forces of domestic competition will keep the price level stable and keep the government out of price-setting."

But how can such a "climate" be attained? Certainly not by hastily convening a Federal grand jury session and sending government detectives out immediately to interrogate the steel men, or by using the government's power suddenly to withdraw defense contracts as a means of intimidation.

Threat of Deflation

Businessmen are not going to be swayed by soothing words. They are interested in facts and in proper action by the government. Mr. Kennedy has believed that there were only two courses in sight—inflation, which he wished to prevent, and price stability, which he hoped to establish. But he forgot the third course that threatens America—a deflation which can prevent recovery from a recession. Deflation occurs when profits are squeezed to the point of zero, when cost-cutting of every kind is invoked in desparation, and when labor keeps on demanding wages far above the point at which these costs can be absorbed within the price structure.

A deflationary trend can only lead to more unemployment and a downturn in values for American business. Mr. Kennedy's good faith in dealing equally with labor as he has with management is really at stake, and, unless the profit squeeze is soon stopped, there is little chance that optimistic statements made to such businessmen's meetings as that of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce will be of any avail.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Foreign languages are not new to Ulster County settlers from Europe. Going back to the Gazetteer and Business Directory of Ulster County of 1871-1872 loaned to me by Attorney Martin F. Comeau tells all about it.

On page 116 in telling about the Christian Church in New Paltz. "For several years the prevailing language was French, which at length was superseded by the Dutch and subsequently by the English." . . ."A change of language from the French to the Dutch occurred from 1700 to 1730, during which time there was no settled ministry. A second house of worship was dedicated December 29, 1720 which was of stone and finished with brick brought from Holland. There was a small steeple on the roof from which a horn was sounded for religious services."

They took care of the poor according to such items as: "Persons within said district who have no visible way of getting an honest livelihood, shall by the overseers of the poor for the time being, be compelled to work at the rate of two shillings per day for an able bodied man and a shilling per day for a man of less ability of body. Girls were to be bound out until 18, and boys until 21 years of age."

Another item dated a year later, 1773 reads: "In 1773 the Freeholders ordered that, 'All persons, men as well as women, who have no visible way of getting an honest livelihood, shall by the overseers of the poor be compelled to work at such rates and wages as the overseer of the poor shall be able to get for them."

Joseph Coddington, the town clerk kept careful records and "the following is a specimen of a multitude of Ear Marks described in the Records: "Abraham Doian, his mark on his Neat Cattle, Sheep and Hogs is two slits cut in the right ear of each of them thus: one slit on each side of the extremity or upper end of the said ear, downwards from the top of the ear towards the middle thereof." . . ."Anthony Yelverton's mark was "two half pennies thus: one half penny cut out of the underside of each ear." "Abraham Eltinge's mark was "a piece cut out of the right ear of each of them circularwise like an Halfmoon."

They give the population of New Paltz in 1870 as 2,040; its area, 20,074 acres, with an assessed value of $428,598. There were six school districts and they employed the same number of teachers.

The number of children of school age was 622; the number attending school, 440; the average attendance, 157, and the value of school houses and sites, $3,800.

This book tells that Samsonville was "named from Gen. Henry A. Samson, contains a church, a tannery and about 30 dwellings, "Olive contained a church and about 30 houses in 1870. The first inn was kept at Olive Bridge, by Conrad DuBois, and the first store by Lemuel Winchell, at Winchell's Falls, where the first saw mill and grist mill were erected by Mr. Winchell.

Two sons of Frederick Bush were carried off by the Indians in 1781. There is much interesting history right here in Ulster County which could be formed into some exciting TV stories no doubt. I suppose many folklore items were handed down about these sections but will be lost in time.

PURPLE SHADES OF SPRING

Even in this day of scientific weather forecasting, with electronic brains, worldwide communications and cloud pictures from space, there remain rugged individualists to whom weather is still a personal, do-it-yourself affair.

Everyone knows at least one of that innumerable breed of forecasters who can augur changes by the state of their bunions or joints. Then there are those who base their predictions on the statistics of past weather.

Mention must also be made of those who put store by a number of age-old saws and sayings—to which some new ones have been added, such as "wash your car and watch it pour."

Another type, not entirely accepted or rejected by his scientific confreres, is the prognosticator who reads weather portents from the behavior of the animals who, as we all know, have much more savvy than humans in matters like this.

One of the most picturesque, if not infallible, of this school is Miss Eunice Merton of Peninsula, Ohio, who takes readings of the coming seasons from her Bangs Corners Bug Barometer.

In her delightful style, she describes the passing of spring into summer in northern Ohio:

"Spring has lost all her gumption; no get-up-and-get.

"The woolly bear caterpillars, just out of hibernation, hardly have time for one good feed before going into the cocoons from which they immediately must emerge as pink and yellow moths.

"The toads and frogs all fall silent along the edges of the pond.

"Female redwings, two weeks behind the males, swing on last year's cattails.

"Chipmunks scamper, red squirrels scold, and the greys bark and caterwaul again.

"The raccoon whimpers like a lost baby by the cheese house door.

"The team and the cows shed their winter coats, and the blacksnake comes from under the corn crib to rid the barn of rats again.

"White violets prefume the cellarway where the newly dropped oak leaves gather.

"Frost is gone; roads harden again. New posts are set for the pasture fence and the grave diggers catch up on their winter work.

"The Water Moon, passing its full, scrawls black shadows over last patches of snow.

"The hard far stars soften and come close for summer.

"The winds of morning finger a loose shingle and the empty rocker eerily starts swinging as though in use.

"Sassafras, dandelions and upland cress grace the supper table; rhubarb is on the way.

So says the Bug Barometer. And no matter if they do one day learn to do something about the weather, there will always be room for people who can talk about it like that.

HELP THE MUSEUMS

What is an educational institution, or a charitable institution? Churches, hospitals, colleges and schools will occur to everyone. Are there any others? The law thinks not. It allows the foregoing tax deductions, up to 30 per cent, for income calculations. If an institution is none of these, but is a publicly owned museum or library, it gets tax credits of only 20 per cent.

Yet many city museums—of art, of natural history, of health—all operate guided tours for children and adults, offer class instruction and lectures, conduct art schools, and give college credit courses. If these activities are not educational, why are they not?

These discriminations would be remedied if a bill introduced by Rep. Eugene J. Keogh of Brooklyn becomes law. This would re-word the present law to include these equally educational institutions which now are not covered. That would be of great service in promoting our national culture.

'These Days'

A PRESIDENT'S HERITAGE

When a President moves out of the White House to make room for another President, no very great change takes place. All the obligations and responsibilities of the departing President and of those who preceded him fall to the lot of his successor. The course of events remains unchanged.

For instance, the inflation which followed the Truman Administration continued throughout the Eisenhower Administration and into the Kennedy Administration. Inflation paid no attention to the change of Presidents. Similarly, the effects of the export of our gold reserve continued. The Eisenhower Administration apparently had no understanding of money and of the need for a metal reserve and the Kennedy Administration has not been in office long enough to succeed in arresting this movement.

As a matter of fact, the reversal of a trend of this nature may take years because involved in the process is not only the United States but friendly and unfriendly nations throughout the world.

Our labor problems have a long history. Even if we start with the 1921-1938 Depression, during which about 10,000,000 were generally unemployed and wages and prices fell low and were artificially raised by government intervention, it must be noted that efforts to stabilize labor-management relations tended to reduce the role of ownership, to expertize management, to elevate labor to the middle-class by high wages, fringe benefits, reduction of hours and assertion by their unions to a partial voice in management.

At first, an attempt was made to regularize labor union-management-associations relationships by the N.R.A., which the Supreme Court declared to be unconstitutional. The authority of the labor union was established by the Wagner Act and the establishment of the National Labor Relations Board which, in effect, monitors the situation. In addition, the authority of the Secretary of Labor has been expanded so that he or his representatives actually serve as participants in discussions.

A wage-price pattern developed as far back as the Roosevelt Administration and has been continuous up to President Kennedy's intervention in the steel strike. This pattern is that labor strikes, wages are raised, fringe benefits cost more, prices rise. The process halts for about two years while the entire economy adjusts to the change. Then it starts all over again — strikes, wage increases, fringe benefit increases, prices rise, the process halts. This is the process of inflation. What actually happened since 1946 is that the purchasing power of the dollar fell; the gold stocks began to fall, taxes rose; American goods were out-priced in world markets.

Whether Nixon or Kennedy was elected in 1960, these are the conditions which already existed and with which the new President had to deal. If John Doe or Richard Roe were elected, it would have been the same.

I am omitting the complicating factors of our foreign relations in this discussion but I cannot omit the organization of the Common Market, the shutting off of significant markets in the Soviet Universal State; the rapid recovery of West Germany and Japan; the continued disorder throughout the world because of Soviet Russia's insistence upon the permanent revolution and the emergence of the new African and Asiatic nations and the collapse of the European empires.

All of these complications had sharp effects upon the American economic system. The immediate problem that faced President Kennedy was whether to put on such controls as both Wilson and Roosevelt employed or to utilize the moral authority of the Presidential office to persuade the whole American people to co-operate to arrest all inflationary tendencies and to rescue the dollar.

Of the two methods, controls are the easier to implement but they produce a police state. President Kennedy rejected the expansion of government controls. Younger generations do not remember what a plague controls can be; how horrible the very existence of nachalniki —. bothersome officials — can be.

The President apparently is going to employ moral suasion. The whole story of the steel situation comes down to a few simple postulates: management and the labor unions are free to assert themselves; but the government must protect the economy, to arrest inflations and to stabilize the dollar. The Administration's formula is sound but sometimes such actions can be too swift and too angry. However, a new formula has appeared and it will continue to be employed. We all shout against inflation but when an action is taken, we object for other reasons.

Adequate Means at Hand To Ward Off Tuberculosis

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Some time ago, I reported a small epidemic of tuberculosis among school children whose bus driver proved to be the source of their infection. Of present concern is another epidemic that occurred in a British primary school and an outbreak aboard a U. S. Navy picket destroyer.

In the less serious British experience, the discovery of a form of skin tuberculosis in 10 children led to a survey that revealed 23 additional infections in the school. Of these, 21 were in a single classroom. In this classroom, the source of the infection was thought to be a little girl who had been in contact with the infection for at least two years.

As a result of her presence, more than 60 per cent of her classmates gave positive reactions to tuberculin tests as against slightly over 10 per cent in the rest of the school.

All this might have been prevented if the little girl had been given simple treatment with an antituberculous pill or if she had been vaccinated with BCG.

In the case of the outbreak in our Navy, the source was presumably a young electrician who had been associated with a civilian friend, known to have a had active tuberculosis, some four months previously.

Within a period of 18 months, the young electrician's infection had spread to involve 62 of the ship's complement of 236 enlisted men and officers. Most of these secondary infections occurred in the sleeping quarters ocupied by the young man in question.

As a result of the alertness and competence of the Naval Medical Department, the epidemic was brought to an abrupt halt.

Here are some of the lessons that have emerged from these disturbing experiences:

Tubrculosis may be acquired from inhalation of resistant airborne bacilli even though there has been no direct person-to-person contact with the primary source.

Resistance to tuberculosis may be acquired by BCG vaccination in infancy provided that the vaccine produces a positive tuberculin reaction.

Persons whose tuberculin reaction converts from negative to positive, especially after known exposure to a person with proven active infection, may be protected by simple treatment with an antituberculous pill.

And finally, the tubercle bacillus may be knocked to the canvas innumerable times by the powerful drugs now at hand. But, until he is nailed in his coffin, he remains a dangerous foe.

"Well, Try!"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Political changes in even the most remote parts of the world now have a direct impact on the U.S., although there may be little direct American contact.

This point has just been brought home by the new military government in Burma under Gen. Ne Win. He has just kicked out Ford Foundation, Fulbright scholarships and other Western influences to follow a policy of stricter neutralism and nationalism. The idea seems to be that henceforth Burma will deal with the outside world on a government-to-government basis.

THIS IS OF PARTICULAR interest in the United States now because a Department of Commerce-organized trade mission of American businessmen was in Burma when Gen. Ne Win ousted Premier U Nu's civilian government in March.

This political instability made obvious the risks of trying to do more business with Burma. But since Ne Win had been head of the Burmese Economic Development Corp. under U Nu, assurances were given the Americans that the new government was interested in growth and stability.

The U.S. trade mission therefore came home feeling that this country, which last year had only $8 million of Burma's $230 million foreign trade, could increase the volume to $100 million. But all that hope is now on dubious ground.

This U.S. trade mission to Burma is the 100th such group that has been sent abroad in the last three years to drum up foreign trade prospects under the auspices of Commerce Department's Bureau of International Business Operations.

OPERATION OF THE BURMA MISSION is typical of the 99 others that have gone before it, so it can be taken as an example of a little-known but valuble government service.

The mission spent six weeks in Burma, visiting Rangoon twice, Mandalay, Moulmein, Myitkyina and Taunggyi-of both Kipling and China-Burma-India theatre war fame.

Commercial attaches of the U.S. Embassy in Burma beat the drums in advance with brochures on the mission, invitations to native businessmen to visit with its members and a list of 324 specific trade opportunities they could discuss.

The whole emphasis was on developing business prospects. No effort was made to sign contracts or close deals. That is left to interested parties after contacts are made.

Reason for this procedure is that the businessmen sent on each mission have gone as representatives of all American industry and not of just their own companies. It has been felt that this was as far as the government could go in spending the taxpayers' money without playing favorites. Members got no pay, only travel expenses and $13 a day subsistence.

HEAD OF THE BURMA MISSION was Bradley Murray, who took the first trade mission to Nigeria in 1959 and has since headed missions to Chile, Afghanistan, Rhodesia-Nyasaland.

Others on the Burma mission were Bjorne Andersen of Celanese Corp., New York; H. McKinley Conway Jr., Atlanta publisher of industrial guides; Ray Hemenway, Albert Lea, Minn., concrete and building products manufacturer; Eugene M. Lang, New York specialist on international licensing; John E. Medendorf, machine tool builder and former mayor of Muskegon, Mich.; Everett F. Zurn, Erie, Pa., industrial equipment manufacturer.

The Burma mission came back with a strong feeling that if any progress is to be made under President Kennedy's foreign trade expansion program, there will have to be some additional follow-up effort by private industry — possibly working through trade associations—to develope the contacts made by the trade missions.

The 100 trade missions which have been sent out in the last 3 years have taken 300 American businessmen to 70 countries, some of them being visited twice. They have developed over 5,000 foreign trade contracts and prospects. These have resulted in over 300 known joint-venture investments and 400 licensing agreements with U.S. firms.

Kennedy Speech Raises Stone - Casting Question

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—On the subject of "stone-throwing" — apropos of the controversy recently over steel prices—President Kennedy in a speech before the U.S. Chamber of Commerce convention on Monday quoted the Bible as saying there is "a time to cast away stones and a time to gather stones together." But Mr. Kennedy forgot another quotation. Jesus said: "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to cast a stone."

The President brushes aside the fact that he initiated the broad attack on American business three weeks ago, April 11 last, he expressed his feeling that "a tiny handful of steel executives whose pursuit of private power and profit exceed their sense of public responsibility can show such utter contempt for the interests of 185 million Americans."

This was the "stone" cast by an Administration which, because of its political indebtedness to the big labor unions, had refused to use any "stones" in the public interest to prevent an increase of $100 million a year in wage costs to the steel industry.

Mr. Kennedy has owed a public apology to the men in the steel industry and a disavowal of his charges as to their lack of patriotism. Maybe this is what he was trying indirectly to do when he said to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in his speech on Monday:

While government economists can point out the necessity of increasing the rates of investment, of modernizing plant and productivity, while Washington officials may urge responsible collective bargaining and responsible wage-price decisions, we also recognize that beneath all the laws and guidelines and tax policies and stimulants we can provide, these matters all come down, quite properly in the last analysis, to private individuals."

What Steel Attempted

This is precisely what the steel men, as private individuals, tried to do. Had Mr. Kennedy made this statement in a balanced plea to labor and management in the steel controversy, and had he recognized that a moderate increase in steel prices was not catastrophic in itself, there would have been more confidence among businessmen today in the fairness of his administration.

For the President, in his latest speech, does outline objectively the problems faced by government and business and labor. He declare that "it is easy to charge and administration is anti-business, but is is more difficult to show how an administration, composed we hope, of rational men, can possibly feel they can survive without business, or how the nation can survive unless the government and business and all other groups in our country are exerting their best efforts in an atmosphere and understanding, and I hope co-operation."

But such an "atmosphere of understanding" cannot be attained by misunderstanding the responsibilities of management to their stockholders—the investing public. Either the government has to run the economy or else the private-enterprise system must do it. Mr. Kennedy said:

"We have many burdens in Washington—we do not want the added burden of determining individual prices for individual products. We seek instead an economic climate in which an expanding concept of business and labor responsibility, an increasawareness of world commerce and the free forces of domestic competition will keep the price level stable and keep the government out of price-setting."

But how can such a "climate" be attained? Certainly not by hastily convening a Federal grand jury session and sending government detectives out immediately to interrogate the steel men, or by using the government's power suddenly to withdraw defense contracts as a means of intimidation.

Threat of Deflation

Businessmen are not going to be swayed by soothing words. They are interested in facts and in proper action by the government. Mr. Kennedy has believed that there were only two courses in sight—inflation, which he wished to prevent, and price stability, which he hoped to establish. But he forgot the third course that threatens America—a deflation which can prevent recovery from a recession. Deflation occurs when profits are squeezed to the point of zero, when cost-cutting of every kind is invoked in desparation, and when labor keeps on demanding wages far above the point at which these costs can be absorbed within the price structure.

A deflationary trend can only lead to more unemployment and a downturn in values for American business, Mr. Kennedy's good faith in dealing equally with labor as he has with management is really at stake, and, unless the profit squeeze is soon stopped, there is little chance that optimistic statements made to such businessmen's meetings as that of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce will be of any avail.

Foreign languages are not new to Ulster County settlers from Europe. Going back to the Gazetteer and Business Directory of Ulster County of 1871-1872 loaned to me by Attorney Martin F. Comeau tells all about it.

On page 116 in telling about the Christian Church in New Paltz. "For several years the prevailing language was French, which at length was superseded by the Dutch and subsequently by the English." . . ."A change of language from the French to the Dutch occurred from 1700 to 1730, during which time there was no settled ministry. Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy's pains to assure industrialists he isn't anti-business seems sure to become an uphill task.

That is because of government's expanding role in the monitoring of business decisions—whether on wages or prices or profits. It has been growing for some time but took a big step forward in the administration's pressure to get steel companies to rescind their price increase.

A large portion of businessmen think that anyone championing further invasion of what they regard as their right to make their own decisions is bound to be anti-business, no matter what he may say about acting only in the public interest.

And when the government's policy involves labor, as in campaigns against inflationary wage increases or labor practices, the President may have a hard time with many union leaders.

See New Trend Emerging

The turmoil was dramatized by President Kennedy's appearance before the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. That group naturally stands for industry's traditional rights. The President appeared as a champion of a New Industrial Frontier.

But behind all the current furor, some economists in and out of business circles see a new trend emerging—or at least solidifying.

They say the public interest, whatever that is interpreted to mean from time to time, is likely to play an ever larger role. They see the problem for business as one of keeping such intervention in bounds, rather than trying to reverse it.

Role Is Changing

Politics plays a role, they concede. But they argue that regardless of party, government's role is changing from that it played in the early postwar years, and even through the 1950s.

And the change is tied in with the way you as a consumer acted then and act now.

In the earlier years, labor and management could slug it out, raise wages and then hike prices. You paid the higher prices because your postwar demand for goods was great—and you tried to counter the higher prices by hitting the boss for a raise.

But now many sectors of industry have more capacity to produce than your demand for goods can keep busy. Foreign production has increased at even a faster rate—and if you don't like American prices you often have a chance to buy foreign goods for less.

That's why the wage-price spiral doesn't work so well these days, many economists point out.

Going to Be Some Fight

The businessman's reply to this argument is that supply and demand will set the prices if government keeps hands off, and that in any case it's better for labor and management to fight it out than for the federal government to set up any kind of price and wage controls, however informal.

Labor's reply to the public interest argument is that its wage demands are within reason and needn't mean higher prices if management isn't too greedy for profits.

It's going to be quite a fight—and neither the President nor the U.S. Chamber of Commerce can be sure of victory on the basis of today's skirmish.

Hurley Parents Meet Wednesday

Final business meeting of the Hurley Parents Club for the year is scheduled for Wednesday, May 2, at the Hurley School auditorium at 8 p. m.

Speakers for the meeting will include the following panel: Mrs. Margaret Nelson, dental hygiene; Mrs. Almeda Benson, librarian; Harry Mayhood, physical education director; Mrs. Constance Ottesen, psychologist and Miss Marianne Davis, speech teacher.

Also on the program will be Mrs. Ina Roidl, sixth grade teacher, who will speak on The Teaching of Science.

The mudskipper fish can remain out of water for long periods of time, catching insects in mangrove swamps.

Machinery, Cows Sold

Several pieces of machinery and 86 cows were sold at auction recently on the Shekomeko farm in Dutchess County formerly owned by band leader Artie Shaw. The sale brought $26,000. The auction was held during a foreclosure sale. T. Harry Skinner of Route 82 owned the farm. The mortgage was foreclosed by M. A. Gordon and Co. Inc., New York City, according to Dutchess County Sheriff Lawrence Quinlan.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Serve Asparagus With Savory Sauce

TEMPTING asparagus is delicious served with melted butter, Hollandaise sauce or with a savory sauce.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Spring! Another way to say it is "Fresh Asparagus." It is heaped high now in the market at its tempting best. So enjoy it with melted butter, Hollandaise sauce or with a savory sauce flavored with chicken bouillon.

Weight watchers take notice: asparagus is a "3 to 5 per cent vegetable," which means that it contains less than 5 per cent of carbohydrates and consequently you can eat a whole pound and pick up only 72 calories.

FRESH ASPARAGUS WITH SAVORY SAUCE
(Yield: 6 servings)

- 2 pounds fresh asparagus
- ½ inch boiling water
- 1¾ teaspoons salt
- 2 tablespoons minced fresh onion
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- ⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1½ cups chicken stock or 2 chicken bouillon cubes dissolved in 1½ cups boiling water
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
- 6 slices toast

Wash asparagus, break off tough ends, remove scales from the stalks and wash again. Place in a saucepan with boiling water and 1 teaspoon of salt. Bring to boiling point and cook, uncovered, 5 minutes. Cover and continue cooking 10 minutes or until asparagus is crisp-tender.

Saute onion in butter or margarine until tender but not browned. Stir in flour, remaining salt and black pepper. Gradually add chicken stock. Stir and cook until thickened slightly. Blend egg yolkes with lemon juice and blend with a little of the hot sauce. Then stir into remaining hot sauce. Stir and cook over low heat or hot water until thickened. To serve, place asparagus on toast and pour sauce over top.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy's pains to assure industrialists he isn't anti-business seems sure to become an uphill task.

That is because of government's expanding role in the monitoring of business decisions—whether on wages or prices or profits. It has been growing for some time but took a big step forward in the administration's pressure to get steel companies to rescind their price increase.

A large portion of businessmen think that anyone championing further invasion of what they regard as their right to make their own decisions is bound to be anti-business, no matter what he may say about acting only in the public interest.

And when the government's policy involves labor, as in campaigns against inflationary wage increases or labor practices, the President may have a hard time with many union leaders.

See New Trend Emerging

The turmoil was dramatized by President Kennedy's appearance before the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. That group naturally stands for industry's traditional rights. The President appeared as a champion of a New Industrial Frontier.

But behind all the current furor, some economists in and out of business circles see a new trend emerging—or at least solidifying.

They say the public interest, whatever that is interpreted to mean from time to time, is likely to play an ever larger role. They see the problem for business as one of keeping such intervention in bounds, rather than trying to reverse it.

Role Is Changing

Politics plays a role, they concede. But they argue that regardless of party, government's role is changing from that it played in the early postwar years, and even through the 1950s.

And the change is tied in with the way you as a consumer acted then and act now.

In the earlier years, labor and management could slug it out, raise wages and then hike prices. You paid the higher prices because your postwar demand for goods was great—and you tried to counter the higher prices by hitting the boss for a raise.

But now many sectors of industry have more capacity to produce than your demand for goods can keep busy. Foreign production has increased at even a faster rate—and if you don't like American prices you often have a chance to buy foreign goods for less.

That's why the wage-price spiral doesn't work so well these days, many economists point out.

Going to Be Some Fight

The businessman's reply to this argument is that supply and demand will set the prices if government keeps hands off, and that in any case it's better for labor and management to fight it out than for the federal government to set up any kind of price and wage controls, however informal.

Labor's reply to the public interest argument is that its wage demands are within reason and needn't mean higher prices if management isn't too greedy for profits.

It's going to be quite a fight—and neither the President nor the U.S. Chamber of Commerce can be sure of victory on the basis of today's skirmish.

Work Underway On Shop Center In Dutchess Co.

Hyde Park Town Council members have approved a zoning change on Route 9G and construction has begun on the new Haviland Shopping Center north of Haviland Road, that township.

The cost of the center was estimated by the firm at $32,000 when a building permit was issued. The project site is near the former home of the late Benjamin Haviland, a school teacher, for whom the nearby Haviland Junior High School was named.

The center is being built by Wheaton Homes Inc.

Viets Recover 2 GIs, Seized by Reds on April 8

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —Two U.S. Army enlisted men captured April 8 by Communist guerrillas were recovered today by South Vietnamese government forces, "tired but otherwise in good health," U. S. officials reported.

The two men, Sgt. 1. C. Francis Quinn, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Sgt. George E. Groom, of St. Joseph, Mo., were rescued near the coastal town of Da Nang, about 360 miles north of Saigon.

The spot where they were rescued was not far from the site of the engagement in which the Viet Cong captured them and killed two other American soldiers.

Vietnamese authorities did not disclose whether the two were freed in a military operation or turned loose by their Viet Cong captors.

A U.S. helicopter took them to a U.S. Army special forces camp near Da Nang.

Quinn and Groom were captured in a Viet Cong attack in which Staff Sgt. Wayne E. Marchand, of Plattsmouth, Neb. and Spec. 5 James Gabriel of Honolulu were killed.

The four men were assigned to train a group of 31 Vietnamese civil guardsmen in village self-defense techniques.

Survivors reported the group had been bivouacked for the night near a small town. An estimated 1200 Viet Cong guerrillas attacked the encampment.

Bodies of the two dead Americans were found some distance from the site of the attack. Marchand and Gabriel reportedly had been badly wounded before they were captured and apparently the Viet Cong murdered them because they were unable to keep up with the marching column.

Military authorities said Quinn and Groom would be flown to Saigon late today but newsmen would not be permitted to interview them.

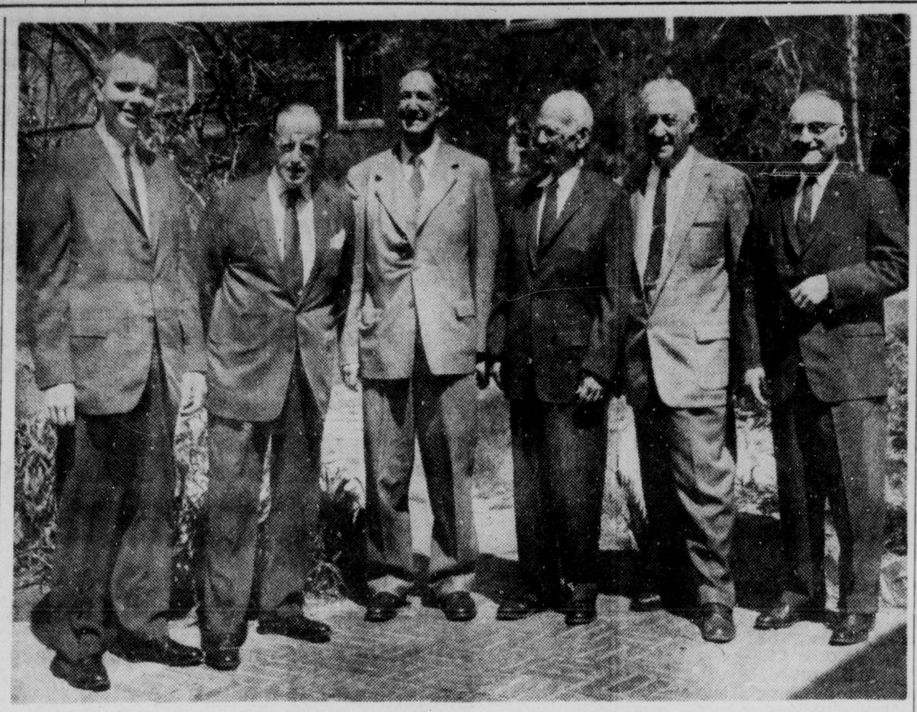
Held for Grand Jury

Chester Ruger, 41, of Highland, was arrested by state police Monday on a charge of receiving stolen property. He was held for grand jury action by Justice Philip Schunk.



HONOR COL. G. F. CHANDLER — More than 70 gathered at a luncheon Saturday in the Governor Clinton Hotel arranged by the Association of Former New York State Troopers to observe the 45th anniversary of the founding of the state police by Col. George F. Chandler, first superintendent of the mighty gray force. Speakers praised the former military man, and an outstanding surgeon before he retired, for the great police organization he formed for Gov. Charles W. Whitman on May 2, 1917. The basic rules he wrote started the force toward the reputation it enjoys now as one of the nation's greatest. Col. Chandler noted the changes that came with motorization and electronic means of communication as well as methods of keeping trace of law violators. From left are the Rev. Roy A. Hassel, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, who gave the invocation; A. P. Broadfield, Poughkeepsie, toastmaster; H. G. Starks, New York City, former lieutenant in the old spotted horse troop, who became a trooper after being with the 101 Ranch Wild West Show; Colonel Chandler; former Sgt. John A. Hopkins, who served at Ellenville before retiring, and Mayor John J. Schwenk, who welcomed the former troopers to Kingston and congratulated their boss who is in his 90th year. First Deputy William E. Kirwan, New York State Police, brought best wishes from Albany headquarters. President of the former troopers is Francis J. McDowell of Troy.

Killer Storms

into the Chicago area within two hours, reaching a velocity of 105 m.p.h. at Joliet and nearly 70 m.p.h. in parts of Chicago. A similar pattern of property damage lay behind, as the storm moved eastward into Indiana.

Cars, Trees Bowled Over

Racing through Logansport, Kokomo, South Bend and Kentland the storm bowled over cars, trucks, trees, and utility lines. A man was killed in Frankfort when a wall under construction collapsed on him. Nearly 50 persons were injured by debris routed by 70 m.p.h. winds at South Bend.

At Lima, Ohio, trees were uprooted, power lines were downed amid a swamping rain and hail. Six men were injured when a factory roof was torn away and a wall caved in.

Several radio stations were without service in Michigan when high winds knocked out power. A man was killed at Pontiac, other persons were injured at Niles and Pinckney, Mich.

A tornado at night leveled some houses in the rural community of Spottsville in southeast Arkansas. Several persons were injured.

In Tunica, Miss., an elderly Negro woman was killed when her house collapsed during a storm. Other houses and property also were damaged.

Dispute Flaring

number of cases per month dropped from 428 in 1960 to 423 in 1961.

Twelve of the 13 points in the stringent Newburgh welfare code introduced last year, were declared illegal by the courts, and the Hudson Valley city of 31,000 was prohibited from putting them into effect.

But Mitchell said in a speech to a Rotary club at Hudson Monday night:

Defends Program

"Despite all the interference, despite the injunction, we have succeeded in effecting our welfare reform aims."

In his comments on Monday's state report, Mitchell conceded that welfare spending by the city last year was greater than in 1960.

But he said the program did not get under way until May. And he added that welfare costs in the first three months of the year had "skyrocketed."

The state report put total relief spending in the state in 1961 at $534 million, a 12 per cent increase over 1960. Relief rolls rose 8.5 per cent across the state during the year, the report said.

Sees Wagner in Running if JFK Gives the Word

NEW YORK (AP)—Republican National Chairman William E. Miller says Mayor Robert F. Wagner would run for governor against Gov. Rockefeller next fall if President Kennedy told him to.

Miller says he looks "with wide open skepticism" on the Democratic mayor's declaration last Saturday that he would not seek his party's nomination for governor and would not allow himself to be drafted.

Miller also said in an interview Monday that Wagner's statement was "simply a holding move" to give Kennedy a chance to decide if Wagner would make the best candidate the Democrats could name to oppose Rockefeller.

A Wagner spokesman issued this statement for the mayor in reply to Miller:

"Mr. Miller obviously did not know what he was talking about, just as he has not known on many occasions in the past. The mayor meant exactly what he said last Saturday, still means it and will continue to mean it."

The spokesman said later that Wagner had an appointment to meet the president at the White House at 5:45 p.m. today. The mayor's aide declined to reveal the purpose of the meeting.

State Will Start Putting Traffic Records on Tape

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The State Motor Vehicle Department will begin recording traffic violations on electronic tape within the next few weeks.

Commissioner William S. Hults said today the tapes would enable the department to check instantly on license data, convictions and accidents of a driver. He said taped records of each driver would be checked by machinery each week.

He also reported the department was aiming to transfer the processing of the state's 5.5 million motor-vehicle registrations to an electronic bookkeeping system by 1964. Licenses already are being handled by electronics.

The commissioner commented in a speech prepared for delivery at a meeting of the New York State Association of Mutual Agents.

Hercules Strike

bitration which would be mandatory upon the request of either side, Demskie said.

Demskie described picketing at the plant as "very orderly." He said the office and laboratory employes were not involved in the strike.

Firm Issues Statement

Hercules outlined its position in a statement issued by D. C. Parker, works manager at noon today.

"D. C. Parker, works manager of Hercules Powder Company, Port Ewen plant, announced today that Local 13226 of District 50 United Mine Workers of America have decided to strike at the termination of their contract which expired at midnight.

"A total of 431 workers are affected by the strike, while 149 technical, clerical and supervisory people are not.

"Negotiations between the union and Hercules have been in progress since March 9. As of today 11 bargaining sessions have been held.

Regrets Deadlock

"Parker said he sincerely regrets that we have been unable to reach an agreement on a new contract which has been offered to the union.

"I believe we have offered generous increases in wages and important improvement in fringe benefits which at Port Ewen are already among the best in the area.

"Prior to the actual work stoppage, Hercules had offered increases of seven, eight and nine cents an hour in various wage categories and one cent increase in shift differentials. In addition the company has offered improvements in the pension plan, increasing by 10 per cent the applicable minimum benefit and has agreed to pay the increased cost of Blue Cross premiums for employes during the term of the new contract.

"Hercules has agreed to a number of other requests. It refused to grant the demand of a union shop contract. The company believes that union membership should be a choice of the individual and not a condition of employment.

"Parker said a strike is not a matter to be viewed indifferently by any one of us. Its economic effect is far-reaching. It is felt not only by the employe and his family but by the community and our fellow citizens. I hope we will be able to reach a speedy and satisfactory settlement and I will be available to resume discussions at any time."

Union's View

The union issued a joint statement by Robert R. Wright, international representative of District 50 and John H. Bach, local president as follows:

"The issue in dispute between the union and the company involve social and economic justice for the members of the union. There is no cost to the company nor interference with production methods. The company has refused to adopt the almost universal practice of settling differences of interpretation or application of the labor agreement by arbitration at the request of either party.

"At the present time the only method left to the union for finally settling an honest difference of opinion, is by striking. We think this is economically and socially unsound. It is with the hope of avoiding future strikes that we are now engaged in this one."

NEW YORK (AP) — Another selling squall drove stock market prices down sharply early this afternoon in heavy trading.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 2.20 to 243.70 with industrials off 3.00, rails off .10 and utilities down 2.10.

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to 2 or 3 points.

Many utilities leaders took steep losses and there was no immediate development in the news to account for it.

IBM, after steadying at the start, fell two dozen points to another new low of 430 for the year. It plummeted 31½ points Monday. After reaching the new low, IBM recovered a few points.

Steels, motors and rails resisted the selling onslaught pretty well, presenting a mixed picture.

Chemicals, aerospace issues, rubbers, nonferrous metals, oils, building materials, drugs and electrical equipments joined in the retreat.

Heavy selling piled up a volume of a million shares in the second hour of trading.

Fear of further sharp decline was the chief reason given by brokers for the continued unloading of stocks. As pessimism spread, however, short selling increased. This is the sale of borrowed stock in hope that profits can be made by repaying the stock through future purchases at lower prices.

Polaroid fell about 5 points, Xerox more than 6. Losses of about 2 points were taken by U.S. Gypsum, Merck and Burroughs.

AT&T dropped more than 2 points. Public Service Electric & Gas fell more than 3.

Fractional gains were shown by Republic Steel, Jones & Laughlin, Baltimore & Ohio and Santa Fe.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 5.39 at 659.94.

Quotations by Wood, Walker & Company, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 63 Wall Street, New York City, branch office, 52 Main Street. Matthew F. Hasbrouck Jr., manager.

R. V. HUMPHREYS

Speaks Tonight On GOP Program

Raymond V. Huphreys, director of Education and Training for the National Republican Congressional Committee, will be the principal speaker at the first of three joint meetings to be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel tonight at 7:30 o'clock in connection with the MORE program.

Mrs. Frederick H. Stang and Ward W. Ingalsbe Jr., are Ulster County program co-chairmen.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Ulster County Republican Central Committee chairman, will introduce the guest speaker as well as dignitaries from Albany and surrounding counties.

Humphreys has traveled throughout America conducting Training Schools in practical politics. He is the author and developer of the Mobilization of Republican Enterprise (MORE) program and is one of America's foremost authorities on political organization. His MORE program is now nationally promoted under the sponsorship of the Republican National Committee, the Republican Senatorial Committee and the National Republican Congressional Committee. He is a former newspaper editor and publisher and has spent most of his life in business, having taken a leave of his field to assist in alerting fellow Republicans to the importance of civic activity.

kovsky music competition. It was believed the first time that royalty had attended the big Soviet Communist spectacle.

East Reds Show Rockets

The East German army parade in East Berlin for the first time included rockets. The Communist announcer said they were the same type that shot down Francis Gary Powers' U2 plane and that they were now regular equipment of the East German army.

Tanks, heavy guns, armored cars and goose-stepping soldiers paraded across East Berlin's Marx-Engels Platz for half an hour. The Western allies were expected to protest as usual that the parade violated occupation agreements against German military activity in Berlin.

Ulbrecht Reviews Parade

The parade was reviewed by Walter Ulbricht, the East German chief of state who has just returned from a long cure in Czechoslovakia. With him was long-ailing Premier Otto Grotewohl, making a rare public appearance.

Both Communist and Western authorities in Berlin took steps to head off trouble along the Red wall dividing the city as crowds massed for rival demonstrations.

West Berlin police laid down about a mile of barbed wire to hold back Western crowds from the wall. Police headquarters sent 3,500 men to the scene of a Western demonstration near the Red barrier.

On the eastern side 90 truckloads of men and equipment were reported mobilized at the House of Ministries between the sites of the two demonstrations. East Berlin police regularly keep the East Germans at least 100 yards back from the wall.

Heading the speakers' list in the Western rally were West German President Heinrich Luebke and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's personal envoy in Berlin making his last big public appearance before leaving his post.

200,000 Mass in Tokyo

An estimated 200,000 Japanese massed in Tokyo's Meiji Park for a demonstration that put far less stress on anti-Americanism than in previous years. Under the eyes of 16,000 police, celebrants sang, shouted slogans and heard speeches by Communist and Socialist leaders and labor union chiefs.

Police said about 1.5 million persons took part in demonstrations in other Japanese cities.

Communist China ushered in May Day Monday night with a reception in Peiping attended by Premier Chou En-lai, other officials and foreign diplomats.

Foreign Minister Chen Yi, who played host, delivered a speech declaring that unity in the Communist camp was "unbreakable."

No Mention of NIK

Despite Chen Yi's lip service to communist unity, the Communist New China News Agency's report of the traditional portrait display at Peiping's Gate of Heavenly Peace made no mention of Khrushchev. Stalin's picture was there, however, along with those of Mao Tze-tung, Marx, Engels and Lenin.

Cuba's May Day observance centered around a speech by Fidel Castro. Cubans were warned not to try to walk out while the prime minister harangued the rally in Havana's Jose Marti Plaza.

'Fanny Mae' Lets You Buy U.S. Agency Stock

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "A friend has told me of a company that is an agency of the U. S. Government but which has common stock owned by the public. Dividends are supposedly paid monthly. What is the name of this company, and where are its shares traded?" G. G.

A) I believe the company in question is the Federal National Mortgage Association, the shares of which are traded over-the-counter. With its preferred shares held by the Secretary of the Treasury and its common in the hands of the public, "Fanny Mae" is indeed a unique situation.

The company was established by the Federal Government in order to deal in FHA and VA mortgages. Since it buys and sells mortgages originated by lending institutions, Fanny Mae provides a secondary market for this type of investment. In its work, the agency tends toward reducing the amount of mortgages in its portfolio when the economy slows down and adding to the amount during periods of business strength.

Since the interest income on its portfolio exceeds the costs of its capital, the agency makes a good profit. Dividends on the common are covered by a wide margin and are paid monthly. The current rate is 27 cents a month or $3.24 a year, which represents a yield of about 3.6 per cent at current market levels.

I rate shares of the Federal National Mortgages as an excellent commitment for those desiring a high quality, income-producing investment.

Q) "I bought some shares of American Distilling primarily on the basis of your advice. Do you still regard the issue as a good growth holding?" S. V.

A) Very much so. Since it's a relatively small company, American Distilling is very flexible and can quiekly move to meet the changing tastes of the public. I look for the company to register strong earnings gains this year and next, and at present market prices I believe the shares are very reasonably valued.

Ike Budget Head

administration, unless abruptly changed, are likely to produce four consecutive deficits.

"A large part of the increase in federal spending and debt is the result of a massive assumption of responsibility by the government for cradle-to-grave welfare."

Kennedy View

In an address Monday, Kennedy told the Chamber delegates: "We have many burdens in Washington —we do not want the added burden of determining individual prices for individual products."

It was the President's first speech to a business group since he forced eight steel companies to back down in mid-April on an announced price increase of $6 a ton.

Since then several business leaders have expressed fear and suspicion of possible future government actions in the wage-price field. Kennedy tried to allay these fears.

Whether the President soothed feathers ruffled by his actions in his battle with the steel companies could not be determined. Most delegates said he seemed to be trying to be conciliatory, but they weren't sure he had succeeded.

Folsom, Gary

and former Circuit Judge George C. Wallace. All have pledged to try to maintain racial segregation in Alabama.

Democratic Sen. Lister Hill, in the Senate since 1938, has primary opposition from Donald Hallmark of Montgomery and retired Adm. John Crommelin.

Gary is one of 12 Democratic candidates in Oklahoma. Three withdrew from the race early. His strongest opposition is expected to come from the 1958 runner-up, W. P. Bill Atkinson of Midwest City, a builder; state Sen. Fred Harris of Lawton; Lt. Gov. George Nigh of McAlester, and Preston Moore, of Stillwater, former national commander of the American Legion.

If none gets a majority, the two high men fight it out in a May 22 runoff election.

Monroney Heavy Favorite

Sen. Mike Monroney, seeking his third term, is a heavy favorite against three opponents in the Democratic primary.

The Texas Democratic primary Saturday has six men shooting for the gubernatorial nomination.

Hospital Week

hearts. Subtracted are the equipment and instruments the doctor used at the patient's home for surgery, obstetrics and emergency treatment of injuries. Nowadays, the doctor admits surgical and obstetrical patients to the hospital and meets the injured patient at the hospital's emergency room."

"The hospital has indeed become the community's center for health care. In the past 50 years it has added laboratories, diagnostic X-ray machines, pharmacies and a host of other facilities necessary for the patient's recovery. As new scientific equipment is developed and proven effective, it is added by hospitals to help save lives and combat disease. This dramatic progress has meant added years of life for many persons

"Just as every medical service provided in the patient's home was accompanied by the individual care and attention of the doctor, every hospital service is administered individually to meet the needs of each patient," Bolz said. Hospital people are highly trained to provide the exact treatment or medication the doctor prescribes.

More Services Help

"Individual concern for each patient is synonymous with hospital care." Bolz said. "The scientific services are necessary for the patient's speedy recovery, but hospitals also recognize the patient's need for emotional support. Hospital people strive to provide this support by means of individual and personal services for patients and their families. Additionally, hospitals are adding many services which make each patient's recuperation more pleasant.

"The care provided in today's hospital scientifically exceeds that provided from the little black bag 50 years, but the 'tender loving care' which accompanied the doctor's visit is also present in the hospital."

In conclusion, Bolz observed, "This combination of personal interest and scientific advances found in our hospital is summed up in this year's National Hospital Week theme—'Your Hospital . . . Uniting Science and Patient Care.'"

list of counties authorized to impanel Blue Ribbon grand juries.

Mentally Retarded — The state will pay up to $180,000 to board mentally retarded children in private institutions. The governor signed legislation he said was needed because of lack of room in state facilities.

Public Defenders—He signed a bill authorizing all counties, instead of only those of more than 100,000 population, to establish the office of public defender to represent indigent persons accused of crime.

Commuter Stations—The governor vetoed a bill that would have allowed any city or county in the state to assume part of the cost of maintaining stations of commuter railroads. New York City, Suffolk, Nassau and Westchester Counties now have that authority. The governor said the proposed extension might have had a sound basis but was improperly drawn.

Viets Recover 2 GIs, Seized by Reds on April 8

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —Two U.S. Army enlisted men captured April 8 by Communist guerrillas were recovered today by South Vietnamese government forces, "tired but otherwise in good health," U. S. officials reported.

The two men, Sgt. 1. C. Francis Quinn, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Sgt. George E. Groom, of St. Joseph, Mo., were rescued near the coastal town of Da Nang, about 360 miles north of Saigon.

The spot where they were rescued was not far from the site of the engagement in which the Viet Cong captured them and killed two other American soldiers.

Vietnamese authorities did not disclose whether the two were freed in a military operation or turned loose by their Viet Cong captors.

A U.S. helicopter took them to a U.S. Army special forces camp near Da Nang.

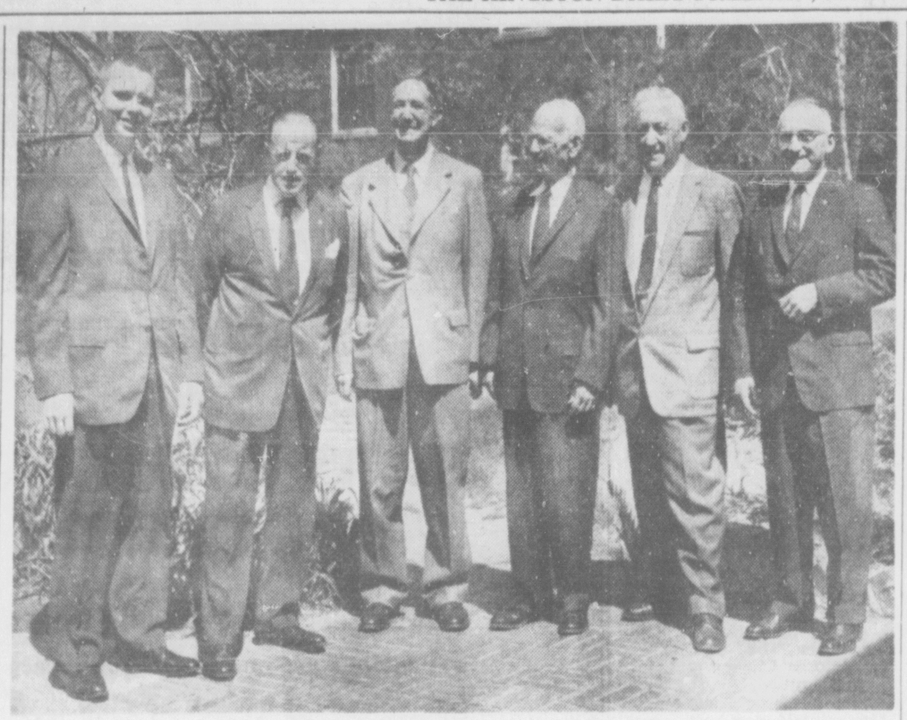
Quinn and Groom were captured in a Viet Cong attack in which Staff Sgt. Wayne E. Marchand, of Plattsmouth, Neb. and Spec. 5 James Gabriel of Honolulu were killed.

The four men were assigned to train a group of 31 Vietnamese civil guardsmen in village self-defense techniques.

Survivors reported the group had been bivouacked for the night near a small town. An estimated 1200 Viet Cong guerrillas attacked the encampment.

Bodies of the two dead Americans were found some distance from the site of the attack. Marchand and Gabriel reportedly had been badly wounded before they were captured and apparently the Viet Cong murdered them because they were unable to keep up with the marching column.

Military authorities said Quinn and Groom would be flown to Saigon late today but newsmen would not be permitted to interview them.



HONOR COL. G. F. CHANDLER — More than 70 gathered at a luncheon Saturday in the Governor Clinton Hotel arranged by the Association of Former New York State Troopers to observe the 45th anniversary of the founding of the state police by Col. George F. Chandler, first superintendent of the mighty gray force. Speakers praised the former military man, and an outstanding surgeon before he retired, for the great police organization he formed for Gov. Charles W. Whitman on May 2, 1917. The basic rules he wrote started the force toward the reputation it enjoys now as one of the nation's greatest. Col. Chandler noted the changes that came with motorization and electronic means of communication as well as methods of keeping trace of law violators. From left are the Rev. Roy A. Hassel, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, who gave the invocation; A. P. Broadfield, Poughkeepsie, toastmaster; H. G. Starks, New York City, former lieutenant in the old spotted horse troop, who became a trooper after being with the 101 Ranch Wild West Show; Colonel Chandler; former Sgt. John A. Hopkins, who served at Ellenville before retiring, and Mayor John J. Schwenk, who welcomed the former troopers to Kingston and congratulated their boss who is in his 90th year. First Deputy William E. Kirwan, New York State Police, brought best wishes from Albany headquarters. President of the former troopers is Francis J. McDowell of Troy.

Killer Storms

into the Chicago area within two hours, reaching a velocity of 105 m.p.h. at Joliet and nearly 70 m.p.h. in parts of Chicago. A similar pattern of property damage lay behind, as the storm moved eastward into Indiana.

Cars, Trees Bowled Over

Racing through Logansport, Kokomo, South Bend and Kentland the storm bowled over cars, trucks, trees, and utility lines. A man was killed in Frankfort when a wall under construction collapsed on him. Nearly 50 persons were injured by debris routed by 70 m.p.h. winds at South Bend.

At Lima, Ohio, trees were uprooted, power lines were downed amid a swamping rain and hail. Six men were injured when a factory roof was torn away and a wall caved in.

Several radio stations were without service in Michigan when high winds knocked out power. A man was killed at Pontiac, other persons were injured at Niles and Pinckney, Mich.

A tornado at night leveled some houses in the rural community of Spottsville in southeast Arkansas. Several persons were injured.

In Tunica, Miss., an elderly Negro woman was killed when her house collapsed during a storm. Other houses and property also were damaged.

Dispute Flaring

number of cases per month dropped from 428 in 1960 to 423 in 1961.

Twelve of the 13 points in the stringent Newburgh welfare code introduced last year, were declared illegal by the courts, and the Hudson Valley city of 31,000 was prohibited from putting them into effect.

But Mitchell said in a speech to a Rotary club at Hudson Monday night:

Defends Program

"Despite all the interference, despite the injunction, we have succeeded in effecting our welfare reform aims."

In his comments on Monday's state report, Mitchell conceded that welfare spending by the city last year was greater than in 1960.

But he said the program did not get under way until May. And he added that welfare costs in the first three months of the year had "skyrocketed."

The state report put total relief spending in the state in 1961 at $534 million, a 12 per cent increase over 1960. Relief rolls rose 8.5 per cent across the state during the year, the report said.

Sees Wagner in Running if JFK Gives the Word

NEW YORK (AP)—Republican National Chairman William E. Miller says Mayor Robert F. Wagner would run for governor against Gov. Rockefeller next fall if President Kennedy told him to.

Miller says he looks "with wide open skepticism" on the Democratic mayor's declaration last Saturday that he would not seek his party's nomination for governor and would not allow himself to be drafted.

Miller also said in an interview Monday that Wagner's statement was "simply a holding move" to give Kennedy a chance to decide if Wagner would make the best candidate the Democrats could name to oppose Rockefeller.

A Wagner spokesman issued this statement for the mayor in reply to Miller:

"Mr. Miller obviously did not know what he was talking about, just as he has not known on many occasions in the past. The mayor meant exactly what he said last Saturday, still means it and will continue to mean it."

The spokesman said later that Wagner had an appointment to meet the president at the White House at 5:45 p.m. today. The mayor's aide declined to reveal the purpose of the meeting.

State Will Start Putting Traffic Records on Tape

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The State Motor Vehicle Department will begin recording traffic violations on electronic tape within the next few weeks.

Commissioner William S. Hults said today the tapes would enable the department to check instantly on license data, convictions and accidents of a driver. He said taped records of each driver would be checked by machinery each week.

He also reported the department was aiming to transfer the processing of the state's 5.5 million motor-vehicle registrations to an electronic bookkeeping system by 1964. Licenses already are being handled by electronics.

The commissioner commented in a speech prepared for delivery at a meeting of the New York State Association of Mutual Agents.

Hercules Strike

bitration which would be mandatory upon the request of either side, Demskie said.

Demskie described picketing at the plant as "very orderly." He said the office and laboratory employes were not involved in the strike.

Firm Issues Statement

Hercules outlined its position in a statement issued by D. C. Parker, works manager at noon today.

"D. C. Parker, works manager of Hercules Powder Company, Port Ewen plant, announced today that Local 13226 of District 50 United Mine Workers of America have decided to strike at the termination of their contract which expired at midnight.

"A total of 431 workers are affected by the strike, while 149 technical, clerical and supervisory people are not.

"Negotiations between the union and Hercules have been in progress since March 9. As of today 11 bargaining sessions have been held.

Regrets Deadlock

"Parker said he sincerely regrets that we have been unable to reach an agreement on a new contract which has been offered to the union.

"I believe we have offered generous increases in wages and important improvement in fringe benefits which at Port Ewen are already among the best in the area.

"Prior to the actual work stoppage, Hercules had offered increases of seven, eight and nine cents an hour in various wage categories and one cent increase in shift differentials. In addition the company has offered improvements in the pension plan, increasing by 10 per cent the applicable minimum benefit and has agreed to pay the increased cost of Blue Cross premiums for employes during the term of the new contract.

"Hercules has agreed to a number of other requests. It refused to grant the demand of a union shop contract. The company believes that union membership should be a choice of the individual and not a condition of employment.

"Parker said a strike is not a matter to be viewed indifferently by any one of us. Its economic effect is far-reaching. It is felt not only by the employe and his family but by the community and our fellow citizens. I hope we will be able to reach a speedy and satisfactory settlement and I will be available to resume discussions at any time."

Union's View

The union issued a joint statement by Robert R. Wright, international representative of District 50 and John H. Bach, local president as follows:

"The issue in dispute between the union and the company involve social and economic justice for the members of the union. There is no cost to the company nor interference with production methods. The company has refused to adopt the almost universal practice of settling differences of interpretation or application of the labor agreement by arbitration at the request of either party.

"At the present time the only method left to the union for finally settling an honest difference of opinion, is by striking. We think this is economically and socially unsound. It is with the hope of avoiding future strikes that we are now engaged in this one."

Speaks Tonight On GOP Program

Raymond V. Huphreys, director of Education and Training for the National Republican Congressional Committee, will be the principal speaker at the first of three joint meetings to be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel tonight at 7:30 o'clock in connection with the MORE program.

Mrs. Frederick H. Stang and Ward W. Ingalsbe Jr., are Ulster County program co-chairmen.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Ulster County Republican Central Committee chairman, will introduce the guest speaker as well as dignitaries from Albany and surrounding counties.

Humphreys has traveled throughout America conducting Training Schools in practical politics. He is the author and developer of the Mobilization of Republican Enterprise (MORE) program and is one of America's foremost authorities on political organization. His MORE program is now nationally promoted under the sponsorship of the Republican National Committee, the Republican Senatorial Committee and the National Republican Congressional Committee. He is a former newspaper editor and publisher and has spent most of his life in business, having taken a leave of his field to assist in alerting fellow Republicans to the importance of civic activity.

May Day Finds

kovsky music competition. It was believed the first time that royalty had attended the big Soviet Communist spectacle.

East Reds Show Rockets

The East German army parade in East Berlin for the first time included rockets. The Communist announcer said they were the same type that shot down Francis Gary Powers' U2 plane and that they were now regular equipment of the East German army.

Tanks, heavy guns, armored cars and goose-stepping soldiers paraded across East Berlin's Marx-Engels Platz for half an hour. The Western allies were expected to protest as usual that the parade violated occupation agreements against German military activity in Berlin.

Ulbrecht Reviews Parade

The parade was reviewed by Walter Ulbricht, the East German chief of state who has just returned from a long cure in Czechoslovakia. With him was long-ailing Premier Otto Grotewohl, making a rare public appearance.

Both Communist and Western authorities in Berlin took steps to head off trouble along the Red wall dividing the city as crowds massed for rival demonstrations.

West Berlin police laid down about a mile of barbed wire to hold back Western crowds from the wall. Police headquarters sent 3,500 men to the scene of a Western demonstration near the Red barrier.

On the eastern side 90 truckloads of men and equipment were reported mobilized at the House of Ministries between the sites of the two demonstrations. East Berlin police regularly keep the East Germans at least 100 yards back from the wall.

Heading the speakers' list in the Western rally were West German President Heinrich Luebke and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's personal envoy in Berlin making his last big public appearance before leaving his post.

200,000 Mass in Tokyo

An estimated 200,000 Japanese massed in Tokyo's Meiji Park for a demonstration that put far less stress on anti-Americanism than in previous years. Under the eyes of 16,000 police, celebrants sang, shouted slogans and heard speeches by Communist and Socialist leaders and labor union chiefs.

Police said about 1.5 million persons took part in demonstrations in other Japanese cities.

Communist China ushered in May Day Monday night with a reception in Peiping attended by Premier Chou En-lai, other officials and foreign diplomats.

Foreign Minister Chen Yi, who played host, delivered a speech declaring that unity in the Communist camp was "unbreakable."

No Mention of NIK

Despite Chen Yi's lip service to communist unity, the Communist New China News Agency's report of the traditional portrait display at Peiping's Gate of Heavenly Peace made no mention of Khrushchev. Stalin's picture was there, however, along with those of Mao Tze-tung, Marx, Engels and Lenin.

Cuba's May Day observance centered around a speech by Fidel Castro. Cubans were warned not to try to walk out while the prime minister harangued the rally in Havana's Jose Marti Plaza.

'Fanny Mae' Lets You Buy U.S. Agency Stock

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "A friend has told me of a company that is an agency of the U. S. Government but which has common stock owned by the public. Dividends are supposedly paid monthly. What is the name of this company, and where are its shares traded?" G. G.

A) I believe the company in question is the Federal National Mortgage Association, the shares of which are traded over-the-counter. With its preferred shares held by the Secretary of the Treasury and its common in the hands of the public, "Fanny Mae" is indeed a unique situation.

The company was established by the Federal Government in order to deal in FHA and VA mortgages. Since it buys and sells mortgages originated by lending institutions, Fanny Mae provides a secondary market for this type of investment. In its work, the agency tends toward reducing the amount of mortgages in its portfolio when the economy slows down and adding to the amount during periods of business strength.

Since the interest income on its portfolio exceeds the costs of its capital, the agency makes a good profit. Dividends on the common are covered by a wide margin and are paid monthly. The current rate is 27 cents a month or $3.24 a year, which represents a yield of about 3.6 per cent at current market levels.

I rate shares of the Federal National Mortgages as an excellent commitment for those desiring a high quality, income-producing investment.

Q) "I bought some shares of American Distilling primarily on the basis of your advice. Do you still regard the issue as a good growth hojding?" S. V.

A) Very much so. Since it's a relatively small company, American Distilling is very flexible and can quickly move to meet the changing tastes of the public. I look for the company to register strong earnings gains this year and next, and at present market prices I believe the shares are very reasonably valued.

administration, unless abruptly changed, are likely to produce four consecutive deficits.

"A large part of the increase in federal spending and debt is the result of a massive assumption of responsibility by the government for cradle-to-grave welfare."

Kennedy View

In an address Monday, Kennedy told the Chamber delegates: "We have many burdens in Washington —we do not want the added burden of determining individual prices for individual products."

It was the President's first speech to a business group since he forced eight steel companies to back down in mid-April on an announced price increase of $6 a ton.

Since then several business leaders have expressed fear and suspicion of possible future government actions in the wage-price field. Kennedy tried to allay these fears.

Whether the President soothed feathers ruffled by his actions in his battle with the steel companies could not be determined. Most delegates said he seemed to be trying to be conciliatory, but they weren't sure he had succeeded.

Folsom, Gary

and former Circuit Judge George C. Wallace. All have pledged to try to maintain racial segregation in Alabama.

Democratic Sen. Lister Hill, in the Senate since 1938, has primary opposition from Donald Hallmark of Montgomery and retired Adm. John Crommelin.

Gary is one of 12 Democratic candidates in Oklahoma. Three withdrew from the race early. His strongest opposition is expected to come from the 1958 runner-up, W. P. Bill Atkinson of Midwest City, a builder; state Sen. Fred Harris of Lawton; Lt. Gov. George Nigh of McAlester, and Preston Moore, of Stillwater, former national commander of the American Legion.

If none gets a majority, the two high men fight it out in a May 22 runoff election.

Monroney Heavy Favorite

Sen. Mike Monroney, seeking his third term, is a heavy favorite against three opponents in the Democratic primary.

They are: Gov. Price Daniel, seeking a fourth two-year term; former Secretary of the Navy John Connally; Atty. Gen. Will Wilson; former State Highway Commission Chairman Marshall Formby, former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, and Don Yarborough, the only avowed supporter of the Kennedy administration.

Gisele Has Daughter

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Singer Gisele MacKenzie named her new daughter Gisele Melissa.

The girl, the second child for Miss MacKenzie and husband-manager Robert Shuttleworth, weighed 6 pounds, 4½ ounces at birth Monday.

The couple has a son, MacKenzie Duffy, 13 months.

hearts. Subtracted are the equipment and instruments the doctor used at the patient's home for surgery, obstetrics and emergency treatment of injuries. Nowadays, the doctor admits surgical and obstetrical patients to the hospital and meets the injured patient at the hospital's emergency room."

"The hospital has indeed become the community's center for health care. In the past 50 years it has added laboratories, diagnostic X-ray machines, pharmacies and a host of other facilities necessary for the patient's recovery. As new scientific equipment is developed and proven effective, it is added by hospitals to help save lives and combat disease. This dramatic progress has meant added years of life for many persons

"Just as every medical service provided in the patient's home was accompanied by the individual care and attention of the doctor, every hospital service is administered individually to meet the needs of each patient," Bolz said. Hospital people are highly trained to provide the exact treatment or medication the doctor prescribes.

More Services Help

"Individual concern for each patient is synonymous with hospital care," Bolz said. "The scientific services are necessary for the patient's speedy recovery, but hospitals also recognize the patient's need for emotional support. Hospital people strive to provide this support by means of individual and personal services for patients and their families. Additionally, hospitals are adding many services which make each patient's recuperation more pleasant.

"The care provided in today's hospital scientifically exceeds that provided from the little black bag 50 years, but the 'tender loving care' which accompanied the doctor's visit is also present in the hospital."

In conclusion, Bolz observed, "This combination of personal interest and scientific advances found in our hospital is summed up in this year's National Hospital Week theme—'Your Hospital . . . Uniting Science and Patient Care.'"

list of counties authorized to impanel Blue Ribbon grand juries.

Mentally Retarded — The state will pay up to $180,000 to board mentally retarded children in private institutions. The governor signed legislation he said was needed because of lack of room in state facilities.

Public Defenders—He signed a bill authorizing all counties, instead of only those of more than 100,000 population, to establish the office of public defender to represent indigent persons accused of crime.

Commuter Stations—The governor vetoed a bill that would have allowed any city or county in the state to assume part of the cost of maintaining stations of commuter railroads. New York City, Suffolk, Nassau and Westchester Counties now have that authority. The governor said the proposed extension might have had a sound basis but was improperly drawn.

Those Plugs Get Unlimited Time For Stars to Sell

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Under the television code and general practice, the sponsors' commercials are strictly limited in time and quantity. Apparently, however, no one controls those other, incidental commercials—the ones called plugs — which are mixed into game shows, panel shows, variety shows and, most of all, interview shows with a lavish hand.

Took Lots of Time

California-originated editions of NBC's "Tonight" were prime examples of the dreary practice. Almost all of those big-name guests who dropped into the program were given all the time they wanted to sell their latest movie, advertise upcoming night club engagements, hold up the covers of their latest record albums and so on.

On the panel shows, it has become almost routine to introduce the "celebrity guests" by reeling off their recent activities which usually are implicit invitations to the public to buy something—tickets, books or records. The built-in plugs of the audience participation programs are those of the manufacturers who provide the gift merchandise—the cameras, perfume, washer-driers.

Just There to Sell

None of these interludes constitute entertainment by any stretch of the imagination. While, as somebody once remarked, watching the sponsor commercials is the grim penalty one must pay for the free amusement or enlightenment that surrounds them, it would seem only fair to include all those extra plugs the guests throw in, in the commercial time allowance.

Television might have a hard time booking big-name expensive guests and making arrangements for fabulous prizes if it cut out the plugs. Exploiting a film or an album is usually the only purpose of a celebrity's appearance.

Bells Going

There's good news from CBS today. "Oh, Those Bells," the alleged comedy series which was a mid-season replacement (and which made the failing series it replaced look awfully good) will be pulled out of the network schedules in June. Replacement will be a summer series of "Accent" programs.

"Accent" is a high-level, intelligent series which has hitherto been seen in impossible time periods: at first, around noon on Saturdays and more recently early Sunday afternoons.

NBC has lined up an hour-long discussion show — live—between Astronaut John H. Glenn and Cosmonaut Gherman S. Titov (and two interpreters) for Sunday May 6, when the two will exchange views and ideas.

Recommended tonight: Dick Powell Show, NBC, 9-10 (EDT)—"Savage Sunday," with Nick Adams; Garry Moore Show, CBS, 10-11—Carol Burnett and Julie Andrews, teamed again.

College Competition

NEW YORK (AP) — Another playwriting competition for college drama students has been launched, this by an off-Broadway group called Penny Productions. The prize for the winning author is to be an expense-paid trip to New York to see production of the work. Deadline for entries is Aug. 31.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Beware of the Dog!

Every year some 600,000 Americans get bitten by dogs. A little care and common sense could probably have avoided most of those bites. Almost any dog will bite you if you insist upon it, even your own cherished pet.

First of all, have your own dog vaccinated against rabies. This is a virus disease of dogs, and some other animals, transmitted to man through a bite from the infected animal. A bite from a rabid animal is usually fatal to man, unless development of rabies is prevented by a series of inoculations — the Pasteur treatment.

It is usually not wise to give a dog to a very small child. It's true that some toddlers manage beautifully to get along with a dog and some dogs will take almost anything in the way of rough treatment from a beloved youngster. But on the whole, it's better to keep dog and child apart until the child is aroung six or so. Then you can teach him the following bite-prevention rules:

Don't tease the dog, he doesn't enjoy it.

Don't pull a dog's tail or ears, or poke fingers into his eyes.

Never try to take food away from a dog. If you have the patience, you can train a dog to drop what he has in his mouth when you say "Out!" But don't use your fingers near his teeth when he's eating.

Never interfere in a dog fight.

Don't waken a dog suddenly.

Don't run or bicycle ride with a dog if it gets him excited.

Be wary of strange dogs.

Hair Stylist Sees Brunettes Taking LeadOverBlondes

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD, (AP) — Due in large part to Oscar-winner Sophia Loren and husband-loser Elizabeth Taylor, the brunette is displacing the blonde as the world's sex symbol.

So says a Hollywood hair-style expert, who also credits Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy with aiding the rise of the brunette as the epitome of beauty.

"This triumvirate — Loren, Liz and Mrs. Kennedy—has had such an impact on the world's press that blondes cannot compete," commented Mr. Albert. "The spotlight used to be on Marilyn Monroe and Brigitte Bardot. Now the brunettes have taken over."

What does this momentous trend portend for American women?

A turn away from bleach bottles and back to darker, more natural shades of hair.

I'm taking Mr. Albert's word for this, and that's a lot of trust to put in a man with only one name. He operates one of the poshier salons in Brentwood and his clients have included Connie Francis, Eva Marie Saint, Marisa Pavan, Cara Williams and Piper Laurie. His single name is symptomatic of the hair trade; out of the salon he also goes by Levin.

"Fashion trends go in cycles, and the blonde has had the best of it for many years," he expounded. "Notice that Marilyn Monroe's last two pictures didn't make money.

"Notice also that most of the Oscar contenders this year—Loren, Natalie Wood, Audrey Hepburn, Rita Moreno, etc.—were brunettes."

Because of the dark-haired lasses in the news, Mr. Albert argued, men are thinking in terms of brunettes. And if men are so doing, you can bet that women will do so as well.

"There has been a tendency for women to frost or tip their hair with blonde shades, rather than go all-out with a bleach," said the hair stylist. "That allows their hair to grow back to their normal shade, which in the case of most women is brunette. I think they will leave it that way—at least until blondes become the sex symbol again."

This movement will have definite effect on hair styles, he continued; hair will be longer.

Mr. Albert doubts if the Cjifora look will catch on, despite all the forecasts in the ladies' magazines.

'Tent' Revivals

BAD SACHSA, West Germany (AP) — Baptist evangelists in Germany still use tent meetings to reach people who don't come to church. Evangelist Herbert Weinert said five full-time evangelists and many pastors, on a part-time basis, use this type of ministry, with up to 50 per cent of those coming to the tent meetings having never been in a church.

Archers Appeal to Parents

Editor, The Freeman:

I would very much appreciate it if you could please print in your newspaper the following appeal to all parents in the area.

In the past two months we have experienced several instances where the safety of children was greatly jeopardized on our archery range. Along with this there has been considerable malicious mischief and breaking into the club house. This mischief is not our prime concern but the safety of your children is.

I am making this appeal to you, as parents, to please keep your children off the archery club property. It is not a playground and the time to act is now before your child is injured.

Our range is located on 27 acres of land in the vicinity of four corners at Lucas Avenue Extension, it is posted and receives a yearly safety inspection from the State.

If this appeal keeps your child from stepping into the path of an arrow, it will have done some good, if not I have but one alternative, to give the names of children to proper officials for appropriate action. Please do not ask us to be custodians of your children on 27 acres of wooded land. It is an impossible task.

I feel that you as mature parents realize the consequences that could arise, and you will do your best to honor this appeal.

I am willing to discuss this problem with any interested parent. I can be reached at FE 8-7501.

Numismatic Club Shows Coins in Area This Week

In observances of National Coin Week, the Mid-Hudson Numismatic Club of Ulster County has arranged coin and medal displays in Saugerties and Kingston.

In Kingston, coin displays will be at the Ulster County Savings Institution; Kingston Trust Company at Broadway and Kingston Savings Bank, Wall Street and the Rondout National Bank. A display of medals may be seen at Schneider's Jewelers, Wall Street.

Coins will be displayed in Saugerties at Clum's Car and Home Supply Store, Halpert's Jewelers and Bosco's Barber Shop.

The coin collectors organization meets regularly at the Saugerties Savings Bank. The next meeting will be held Thursday 8 p. m. and will feature a film on United States Commerative Coins, another in the series on American coinage. All those interested may attend.

The group is making plans for some time in early summer.

Allot Ulster $98,000 For Welfare Fund Aid

ALBANY — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt today announced the distribution of $26,102,000 for the month of May to the 65 Public Welfare Districts in the state, including $98,000 to Ulster County.

These monies represent the federal and state share 80 per cent of the anticipated welfare expenditures by the localities. The federal share of these advances amounts to $14,166,000.

To his children, he is Dad and Hero and indestructible. He does all he can to live up to their love, but he knows he could become seriously ill or injured without warning. So he has a Prudential health insurance plan to help prevent the financial hardships that often accompany heavy hospital and doctor bills, and sudden loss of income when he becomes unable to work due to sickness or injury. Dad gets a good feeling, knowing his family is protected this way.

Teaching Devices To Be Topic at Albany Seminar

The use of teaching machines and outomated textbooks to slash learning time will be explored at an all-day seminar on programmed learning to be held by the Hudson-Mohawk Training ,Directors' Society Monday May 14, at the Thruway Motel, Albany.

Two national authorities in programmed learning will be the principal speakers. They are Dr. John W. Blyth, who holds the John Stewart Kennedy chair in philosophy at Hamilton College, and Norman A. Crowder, manager of the Training Systems Department of Western Design. Mr. Crowder is author of the automated textbook, "Arithmetic of Computors," and co-author of a similar text, "Adventures in Algebra."

Approximately 100 area training specialists in commerce, industry and government are expected to participate in the seminar. They will seek to develop practical applications which can be applied in adult education programs, local public schools, and industrial training.

Automated textbooks and teaching machines are based on the self-instruction principle. Subject matter is broken down into a sequence of small, "bite-sized" units. The student learns immediately whether his response to the question in a unit is right or wrong. If he is right, he proceeds. An in-correct answer forces him to study remedial units until he is on the right track.

Miss Ellen Parser, training officer of the NYS Department of Taxation and Finance, State Office Building, is reservations chairman for the seminar. Those interested in attending may contact L. R. Deede or S. Sam Fratoni at the Kingston IBM plant for further information.

South Should Plan Squeeze

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Eenterprise Assn.

West's four spade opening puts North on a spot, but North should bid four no-trump rather than pass or double. This bid is not Blackwood, but rather a demand to partner to choose his best suit and South should jump to six hearts.

West will open the king of spades and South will see that he has plenty of work cut out for him. He has to trump three spades in dummy and eventually park his third club on dummy's fourth diamond.

As you can see, the ten of diamonds will drop from the West hand, but South can't see that. He should plan his play for a squeeze in case the ten does not drop.

The play starts as follows: ruff the spade, lead a trump to the nine, ruff a spade high, lead another trump to the jack, ruff the last spade with dummy's last trump and lead a low diamond.

If East rises with the ace it will be all over, but East will surely duck.

Now South will be in his hand with the queen and should cash his last two trumps and discard two clubs from dummy.

If East holds the ten of diamonds he will be squeezed since he will have to make two discards, one on the third spade and one on that last trump.

Incidentally, with that ten of diamonds dropping there were several ways to make the hand, but the above is the elegant one.

Nobel Winners Called Greatest Talent Gathering

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy toasted his 173 dinner guests—Nobel Prize winners and men and women of letters — as the most extraordinary collection of talent ever gathered at the White House.

He called them all together Sunday night—a potpourri of the famed—to honor the Nobel Prize winners of the Western Hemisphere.

The 49 Nobel winners on hand for the biggest dinner held at the White House in modern times greeted each other with delight. They said no one before had ever thought to bring so many of them together at once.

In gay, good humor, some started after-dinner waltzing in the north entrance hallway where Air Force musicians were playing.

One of the first to take a turn in black tie on the marble floor was Dr. Linus C. Pauling, Nobel Prize winning chemist who only hours before was picketing the White House in the rain with a group protesting resumption of U.S. nuclear air tests.

Dancing usually is confined to the East ballroom. Mrs. Kennedy looking on with amusement at the impromptu display, declared it was a good idea and said, "We'll have to do this again."

Many of the guests—famed in fields from physics to peace — stopped the President and his wife to ask for autographs on their engraved dinner menus.

There were some who had never before set foot in the White House. There was astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., only recently feted there as the nation's hero — the first American to orbit the earth.

The President, raising his glass in a champagne toast, told his guests that the dinner party in a sense was an attempt to recognize two very basic drives and pressures in our lives—"the pursuit of knowledge and the pursuit of peace."

He said he hoped it would encourage young people in America and in this hemisphere to develop these drives.

Noting that the Nobel Prize was awarded without regard to nationality, Kennedy declared "this hemisphere has been able to develop an atmosphere which has permitted the happy pursuit of knowledge, and of peace."

Kennedy started his toast with a touch of humor. He reported that Nobel peace prize winner Lester Pearson of Canada had informed him a Canadian newspaperman referred to the dinner as "the President's Easter egg-head roll on the White House lawn."

"I want to deny this," said the President.

When he called it the most extraordinary gathering of talent at the White House, Kennedy added lightly—"with the possible exception of when Thomas Jefferson dined alone."

Holland Manufacturer To Buy Amenia Farm

A Town of Amenia dairy farm owner has contracted for the sale of his 565-acre farm to Henricus G. J. A. Van Swaay, of Holland, a refrigerator manufacturer, it was learned over the weekend.

It is understood the farm owner Justus Harbers, South Amenia Road, Town of Amenia, is asking $140,000.

The farm will be operated after the transaction is closed by the manufacturer's son, William, a New York City attorney, of the Van Swaay Export Co., Inc.

Harbers, who is retiring from the farming business, also is selling 100 head of Holstein cattle, and all of his farm equipment. Included in the transaction are a 10-room colonial house, two tenant houses, a duplex dwelling, a six-room house, dairy barns and other structures.

Summer to Bring More Jobs, But Demand Greater

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The State Labor Department predicts more summer jobs will be available this year than last, but there also will be more young persons to fill them.

The department's Division of Employment said Monday that a survey indicated "some improvement" in summer employment opportunities as a result of improved business in the state.

But the division added that jobseekers would outnumber the jobs available, as they have in the past.

Sharper competition for employment is expected, the division said, because rising tuition charges at colleges and universities will send more students into the job market.

A division spokesman advised job-seekers to look for employment in industries that boom in warm weather. Among those he suggested were farming, resorts, children's camps, beaches and country clubs and public recreation.

Manufacturing offered fewer prospects for jobs, the spokesman said. Workers who have been laid off have preference for any jobs that become available in many companies. Other factories close down for vacations or space vacations throughout the year.

Construction jobs also are expected to be in short supply this summer, the division said. Construction activity has dwindled in many communities, and widespread use of pre-fabricated materials has reduced employment in the industry.

But the division added that some laborers' jobs would be available to physically fit young men.

Rocky Appealing For Dairymen of Northeast Sector

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller says the U.S. Agriculture Department has a "humane responsibility" to hear the protests of Northeastern dairymen against a proposed federal order to increase the price of milk used in manufacturing.

Rockefeller appealed Monday to Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman to reconsider his rejection of a request from the dairymen for an emergency hearing on the increase.

The secretary's order would raise the price paid for class 3 milk, which is used to make ice cream, butter, cheese and other manufactured dairy products.

The proposed order has been attacked by leaders of 18 dairy cooperatives in the Northeast.

They contend that, as a result of a higher price, dealers in 10 northeastern markets would look elsewhere for milk at a time when the supply in the area was high and the demand was low.

The dairymen want the price of class 3 milk to remain at the present level, a dairy specialist said. The price is determined by a formula based on the use to which the milk is put.

Rockefeller, in a telegram to Freeman, said the dairymen "most certainly...have a right to be heard."

He charged there had been "an arbitrary refusal to grant the hearing," and he added that the factors on which Freeman had based his decision had changed drastically.

"Since the announcement of your recommended decision," the governor said, "milk plants have closed and our cooperatives believe more closings will occur at a stepped-up pace."

"In the face of over-supply conditions which the milk producers themselves describe as disorderly and chaotic," Rockefeller said, "the federal regulating agency holds the humane responsibility of looking into every aspect of this critical situation."

He said dairymen could lose millions of dollars if the order became effective.

Summer to Bring More Jobs, But Demand Greater

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The State Labor Department predicts more summer jobs will be available this year than last, but there also will be more young persons to fill them.

The department's Division of Employment said Monday that a survey indicated "some improvement" in summer employment opportunities as a result of improved business in the state.

But the division added that jobseekers would outnumber the jobs available, as they have in the past.

Sharper competition for employment is expected, the division said, because rising tuition charges at colleges and universities will send more students into the job market.

A division spokesman advised job-seekers to look for employment in industries that boom in warm weather. Among those he suggested were farming, resorts, children's camps, beaches and country clubs and public recreation.

Manufacturing offered fewer prospects for jobs, the spokesman said. Workers who have been laid off have preference for any jobs that become available in many companies. Other factories close down for vacations or space vacations throughout the year.

Construction jobs also are expected to be in short supply this summer, the division said. Construction activity has dwindled in many communities, and widespread use of pre-fabricated materials has reduced employment in the industry.

But the division added that some laborers' jobs would be available to physically fit young men.

Rocky Appealing For Dairymen of Northeast Sector

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller says the U.S. Agriculture Department has a "humane responsibility" to hear the protests of Northeastern dairymen against a proposed federal order to increase the price of milk used in manufacturing.

Rockefeller appealed Monday to Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman to reconsider his rejection of a request from the dairymen for an emergency hearing on the increase.

He said dairymen could lose millions of dollars if the order became effective.

Leaves Unsaid What Power He Might Use

JFK Keeps Labor, Business Guessing About Using Club

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ever since President Kennedy got mad at the steel industry and made it call off a price increase, he's been telling business he's not mad at it.

And maybe he isn't. His shake-hands - and - let - bygones - be - bygones approach is even considered "conciliatory" by Richard Wagner, outgoing president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerc.

No Assurances

But there's a difference between being friendly and turning soft or backing up.

Kennedy has given no assurance to labor or business—if they try to push up wages or prices—that he won't use a club again. He has left them guessing, which seems to be precisely what he wants to do.

This is going to make the weeks ahead acutely interesting. Labor-management settlements are coming up in various industries, such as aluminum, rails, aircraft and missiles.

Kennedy's main theme in talking pleasantly to and about business—labor hasn't created a crisis for him yet—is that government, business and labor must get along and all have a responsibility for preventing inflation and keeping the economy even.

Beyond that he hasn't gone. He put it this way to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Monday: "I have been impressed that all the segments, including the national government, must operate responsibly in terms of each other, or the balance which sustains the general welfare will be lost."

Interpreted as Warning

He added a sentence which can be interpreted as a warning, just in case once again he has to throw the influence of his office against some action of labor or business.

"We have many burdens in Washington—we do not want the added burden of determining individual prices for individual products."

He left unsaid what power he might try to use—other than the denunciation, persuasion and threat of antitrust action he used in steel—if business again tries to puncture the inflation rim—or if labor tries.

There's no peacetime law giving him authority to hold down prices or wages. But, while many in business resent his intrusion in the steel case, no one is publicly talking of trying to test him or frustrate him.

The friendly attitude of the post-steel Kennedy toward business in general is the same attitude he has continually employed as a politician in a broad field of dealing with people when, apparently, he feels he has nothing to gain by showing anger.

For example, he has suffered a number of frustrations in Congress, particularly from some of his own Southern Democrats. He could tear into his opposition on any given issue on which he has been blocked.

Little Antagonizing

But there are many pieces of legislation he wants passed. And men who work against him today for some special reason of their own will be working for him tomorrow on something else if he doesn't antagonize them.

You'll notice that Kennedy has done very little antagonizing since he took office. It's not that he's not capable of anger. He showed he was in the steel case.

In short: he's a cool politician who doesn't seem to get angry unless it's useful.

News Conference Thursday Canceled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has canceled a presidential news conference scheduled for Thursday morning.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said technical problems caused the cancellation.

President Kennedy usually holds his conferences in the State Department Auditorium, but it has been committed to other use Thursday and a switch to another location would have involved widespread shifting of communications systems.

Miners Strike

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—More than 20,000 African mine workers in Northern Rhodesia's copper belt have called a strike for Wednesday demanding more pay—eight shillings—$1.10—a shift — and vacation with full pay, the South African Press Association reported Monday.

Italy to Buy Bonds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Italy has announced it will buy $8,900,000 in U.N. bonds today—the largest actual sale to date in the $200-million emergency bond issue.

ROSENDALE PASTOR INSTALLED—The Rev. Sylvester Van Oort, right, is installed as pastor of the Rosendale Reformed Church in ceremonies Sunday 4 p. m. at the church. Assisting in the service are (l-r) The Rev. George D. Wood, pastor of the Rochester Reformed Church of Accord and stated clerk of Classis of Ulster; LeRoy Constant, elder of the Rosendale church; the Rev. Harold F. Expect Fallout From Pacific to Hit State Soon

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Radioactive fallout from U.S. nuclear tests in the atmosphere that began last week in the Pacific is expected to drop on New York State within the next day or two.

The State Health Department said Monday that the radiation level in the state would rise, but would remain within safe limits.

A department spokesman said there had been no change in radioactivity in the state since the tests began, but he added that the wind-borne particles from the explosions would take about a week to reach the East Coast.

Because of wind direction, the fallout may bypass the state completely, the spokesman said, but this is unlikely.

State Health Commissioner Herman E. Hilleboe had said earlier that any radioactivity the state received from the tests would be within safe limits.

Fallout from Soviet Union tests last fall increased the state's radiation levels, but it was not considered dangerous.

President's Father At University House

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father, has become the first occupant of a specially designed house at New York University's Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.

Kennedy, 73, suffered a stroke last Dec. 19 and arrived here Sunday from Florida for rehabilitation treatment. He underwent a preliminary examination Monday.

The special house, a ranch-type model called "Horizon House," was designed to accommodate patients who are elderly or confined to wheelchairs. It allows visits by relatives without disturbing routine of the institute.

Mt. Marion Man Must Face Traffic Charge

Henry A. Rowle of Box 54 Mt. Marion was issued a summons Monday night for unregistered motor vehicle by Saugerties Village Police Sgt. Donald Sullivan.

Rowle is scheduled to appear before Village Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr., at 7 o'clock tonight. Rowle's 1952 sedan was impounded by police in lieu of $50 bail.

City Can Raise $4 Million by Taxing Vaults

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York City had authority today to raise $4 million in the fiscal year beginning July 1 by taxing underground vaults that extend under city sidewalks and streets.

Gov. Rockefeller announced Monday he had signed legislation permitting the tax for one year. The tax will range from a minimum $5 for the smallest vaults to a maximum 60 cents a square foot for the largest ones.

The governor also signed a bill under which New York City could revise its gross-receipts tax law to help businesses that operate on low profit margins.

The tax relief would extend to 60 per cent of the tax bill, depending on the financial status of the business.

The governor said the tax relief could encourage low-margin businesses to remain in the city rather than move to surrounding communities that do not have such a tax.

Onteora School Board Election On Wednesday

Wednesday, May 2, will be the day residents of the Onteora School District will vote to fill four vacancies on their School Board. Members of the Woodstock League of Women Voters urge all those eligible to vote to do so, since there are nine candidates and every vote will count.

The following are the candidates who have entered the race:

Five-year term being vacated by Mrs. Marie Klein of Shady—John Ebbs of Woodstock and Edwin Secor of Ashokan.

Five-year term—Harry Allen of Pine Hill, incumbent, Thomas Mannix of Woodstock, and George Sebald of Phoenicia.

One-year term — The Rev. Chase Page of Phoenicia, appointed to fill unexpired term of Edward G. West, and Ernest Gardiner of Mt. Tremper.

One-year unexpired term of J. Aalto — Albert Fox of Olive Bridge and Al Nussbaum of West Hurley.

Members of the School Board receive no salary or remuneration of any kind.

Also on May 2, voters of the district will vote on the budget for the 1962-1963 school year and for expenditures for pupil insurance and contributions to local libraries.

Woodstock Riding Club Horse Show Set for June 24

The Woodstock Riding Club has set June 24th as the date of its 15th recognized horse show. This is one-day A.H.S.A. class C show. It will be held at the club's grounds on Ohayo Mountain Road in Woodstock. Saddle Horse (three gaited), Working Hunter, Western, Morgan and Equitation divisions will be included, as will special events such as a family, an open road hack class and others.

There is stabling on the grounds for 38 horses with ample parking room for vans, trailers and trucks. Overnight accomodations are available in a number of motels and tourists homes in and near Woodstock. Prize lists and entry blanks may be had by writing to Mrs. Telford Graham, Show Secretary, Woodstock Riding Club, Woodstock. A special emphasis is being given to equitation classes. In addition to the main medal classes, maiden and novice events will be run.

Points won at these shows have helped to take a number of young riders into bigger competition and the show committee, headed by M. Lawrence Swars, expects a predominance of young riders again this year.

Christian Science Sermon on Mercy

How obedience to divine law brings human redemption will be explained Sunday at Christian Science church services.

Featured in the scriptural passages to be read is the story of Jonah. The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Everlasting Punishment."

This selection will be read from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 184): "Truth, Life, and Love are the only legitimate and eternal demands on man, and they are spiritual lawgivers, enforcing obedience through divine statures."

The Golden Text is from Psalm 130: "Let Israel hope in the Lord: for the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption."

Garden Club To Open Season On Wednesday

Wednesday afternoon, May 2 at 2 o'clock the Woodstock Garden Club will open the 1962 season with a meeting at the Overlook Methodist Church Hall. Mrs. Lambert D. LeMaire, member of the Conservation Council of the Federated Garden Clubs of New York State, will be the guest speaker.

On June 6 a lecture with color slides "Four Seasons" will be given by Mrs. Edward H. Bergles.

The Club's annual field trip will be a tour of Innisfree Gardens at Millbrook, N. Y. on July 11th.

August 1, Mrs. H. John Wilkins Jr. will present a lecture on "Landscape Design," illustrated with color slides.

August 11, Annual Flower Show at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church Hall.

On Sept. 5th, "Frame Your Home" will be the subject of a talk with color slides to be given by Sue Adams, Home Service Consultant of O. M. Scott Co.

The final program of the season, Oct. 3rd, will feature slides of interest taken by club members.

Officers for 1962 are: Mrs. J. Kissam Inness, president; Mrs. Arthur Jones, vice president; Mrs. S. Brainard West, secretary; and Mrs. William Miller, treasurer.

Community residents interested in joining the club should contact the membership committee chairman, Mrs. Craig Vosburgh.

Overlook Methodist Church Activities

Overlook Methodist Church will observe Children's Day on Sunday. This is a day when the work of the education department of the church gives special emphasis to the work being done in the Sunday School and other areas of christian education. Each Sunday School class will participate in the 11 morning worship service. The program is under the supervision of the Education Commission. Harry Mirick is chairman of the commission and Harley Shultis is the Sunday School Superintendent. All parents are especially invited.

Easter Sunday the following persons were received into the membership of the church: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cervantes; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jenkins and Tommy; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lloyd; Mrs. Margaret McCain; Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce; and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Sturgeon.

Last Sunday evening the first in a series of Sunday evening worship programs was held. The attendance was good and those present agreed that the program should continue. These informal worship services will begin at 8 p. m. and everyone is invited to attend.

The Missions Commission of the church will meet Thursday evening at 8 in the church hall.

The Membership and Evangelism Commission will meet Wednesday evening, May 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilson.

A family night supper is planned for Friday, May 11.

No Assurances

But there's a difference between being friendly and turning soft or backing up.

Kennedy has given no assurance to labor or business—if they try to push up wages or prices—that he won't use a club again. He has left them guessing, which seems to be precisely what he wants to do.

This is going to make the weeks ahead acutely interesting. Labor-management settlements are coming up in various industries, such as aluminum, rails, aircraft and missiles.

Kennedy's main theme in talking pleasantly to and about business—labor hasn't created a crisis for him yet—is that government, business and labor must get along and all have a responsibility for preventing inflation and keeping the economy even.

Beyond that he hasn't gone. He put it this way to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Monday: "I have been impressed that all the segments, including the national government, must operate responsibly in terms of each other, or the balance which sustains the general welfare will be lost."

Interpreted as Warning

He added a sentence which can be interpreted as a warning, just in case once again he has to throw the influence of his office against some action of labor or business.

"We have many burdens in Washington—we do not want the added burden of determining individual prices for individual products."

He left unsaid what power he might try to use—other than the denunciation, persuasion and threat of antitrust action he used in steel—if business again tries to puncture the inflation rim—or if labor tries.

There's no peacetime law giving him authority to hold down prices or wages. But, while many in business resent his intrusion in the steel case, no one is publicly talking of trying to test him or frustrate him.

The friendly attitude of the post-steel Kennedy toward business in general is the same attitude he has continually employed as a politician in a broad field of dealing with people when, apparently, he feels he has nothing to gain by showing anger.

For example, he has suffered a number of frustrations in Congress, particularly from some of his own Southern Democrats. He could tear into his opposition on any given issue on which he has been blocked.

Little Antagonizing

But there are many pieces of legislation he wants passed. And men who work against him today for some special reason of their own will be working for him tomorrow on something else if he doesn't antagonize them.

You'll notice that Kennedy has done very little antagonizing since he took office. It's not that he's not capable of anger. He showed he was in the steel case.

In short: he's a cool politician who doesn't seem to get angry unless it's useful.

News Conference Thursday Canceled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has canceled a presidential news conference scheduled for Thursday morning.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said technical problems caused the cancellation.

President Kennedy usually holds his conferences in the State Department Auditorium, but it has been committed to other use Thursday and a switch to another location would have involved widespread shifting of communications systems.

Miners Strike

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—More than 20,000 African mine workers in Northern Rhodesia's copper belt have called a strike for Wednesday demanding more pay—eight shillings—$1.10—a shift — and vacation with full pay, the South African Press Association reported Monday.

Italy to Buy Bonds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Italy has announced it will buy $2,900,000 in U.N. bonds today—the largest actual sale to date in the $200-million emergency bond issue.

Expect Fallout From Pacific to Hit State Soon

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Radioactive fallout from U.S. nuclear tests in the atmosphere that began last week in the Pacific is expected to drop on New York State within the next day or two.

The State Health Department said Monday that the radiation level in the state would rise, but would remain within safe limits.

A department spokesman said there had been no change in radioactivity in the state since the tests began, but he added that the wind-borne particles from the explosions would take about a week to reach the East Coast.

Because of wind direction, the fallout may bypass the state completely, the spokesman said, but this is unlikely.

State Health Commissioner Herman E. Hilleboe had said earlier that any radioactivity the state received from the tests would be within safe limits.

Fallout from Soviet Union tests last fall increased the state's radiation levels, but it was not considered dangerous.

President's Father At University House

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father, has become the first occupant of a specially designed house at New York University's Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.

Kennedy, 73, suffered a stroke last Dec. 19 and arrived here Sunday from Florida for rehabilitation treatment. He underwent a preliminary examination Monday.

The special house, a ranch-type model called "Horizon House," was designed to accommodate patients who are elderly or confined to wheelchairs. It allows visits by relatives without disturbing routine of the institute.

Mt. Marion Man Must Face Traffic Charge

Henry A. Rowle of Box 54 Mt. Marion was issued a summons Monday night for unregistered motor vehicle by Saugerties Village Police Sgt. Donald Sullivan.

Rowle is scheduled to appear before Village Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr., at 7 o'clock tonight. Rowle's 1952 sedan was impounded by police in lieu of $50 bail.

City Can Raise $4 Million by Taxing Vaults

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York City had authority today to raise $4 million in the fiscal year beginning July 1 by taxing underground vaults that extend under city sidewalks and streets.

Gov. Rockefeller announced Monday he had signed legislation permitting the tax for one year. The tax will range from a minimum $5 for the smallest vaults to a maximum 60 cents a square foot for the largest ones.

The governor also signed a bill under which New York City could revise its gross-receipts tax law to help businesses that operate on low profit margins.

The tax relief would extend to 60 per cent of the tax bill, depending on the financial status of the business.

The governor said the tax relief could encourage low-margin businesses to remain in the city rather than move to surrounding communities that do not have such a tax.

Onteora School Board Election On Wednesday

Wednesday, May 2, will be the day residents of the Onteora School District will vote to fill four vacancies on their School Board. Members of the Woodstock League of Women Voters urge all those eligible to vote to do so, since there are nine candidates and every vote will count.

The following are the candidates who have entered the race:

Five-year term being vacated by Mrs. Marie Klein of Shady—John Ebbs of Woodstock and Edwin Secor of Ashokan.

Five-year term—Harry Allen of Pine Hill, incumbent, Thomas Mannix of Woodstock, and George Sebald of Phoenicia.

One-year unexpired term of J. Aalto — Albert Fox of Olive Bridge and Al Nussbaum of West Hurley.

Members of the School Board receive no salary or remuneration of any kind.

Also on May 2, voters of the district will vote on the budget for the 1962-1963 school year and for expenditures for pupil insurance and contributions to local libraries.

Woodstock Riding Club Horse Show Set for June 24

The Woodstock Riding Club has set June 24th as the date of its 15th recognized horse show. This is one-day A.H.S.A. class C show. It will be held at the club's grounds on Ohayo Mountain Road in Woodstock. Saddle Horse (three gaited), Working Hunter, Western, Morgan and Equitation divisions will be included, as will special events such as a family, an open road hack class and others.

There is stabling on the grounds for 38 horses with ample parking room for vans, trailers and trucks. Overnight accomodations are available in a number of motels and tourists homes in and near Woodstock. Prize lists and entry blanks may be had by writing to Mrs. Telford Graham, Show Secretary, Woodstock Riding Club, Woodstock. A special emphasis is being given to equitation classes. In addition to the main medal classes, maiden and novice events will be run.

Points won at these shows have helped to take a number of young riders into bigger competition and the show committee, headed by M. Lawrence Swars, expects a predominance of young riders again this year.

Christian Science Sermon on Mercy

How obedience to divine law brings human redemption will be explained Sunday at Christian Science church services.

Featured in the scriptural passages to be read is the story of Jonah. The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Everlasting Punishment."

This selection will be read from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 184): "Truth, Life, and Love are the only legitimate and eternal demands on man, and they are spiritual lawgivers, enforcing obedience through divine statures."

The Golden Text is from Psalm 130: "Let Israel hope in the Lord: for the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption."

Garden Club To Open Season On Wednesday

Wednesday afternoon, May 2 at 2 o'clock the Woodstock Garden Club will open the 1962 season with a meeting at the Overlook Methodist Church Hall. Mrs. Lambert D. LeMaire, member of the Conservation Council of the Federated Garden Clubs of New York State, will be the guest speaker.

On June 6 a lecture with color slides "Four Seasons" will be given by Mrs. Edward H. Bergles.

The Club's annual field trip will be a tour of Innisfree Gardens at Millbrook, N. Y. on July 11th.

August 1, Mrs. H. John Wilkins Jr. will present a lecture on "Landscape Design," illustrated with color slides.

August 11, Annual Flower Show at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church Hall.

On Sept. 5th, "Frame Your Home" will be the subject of a talk with color slides to be given by Sue Adams, Home Service Consultant of O. M. Scott Co.

The final program of the season, Oct. 3rd, will feature slides of interest taken by club members.

Officers for 1962 are: Mrs. J. Kissam Inness, president; Mrs. Arthur Jones, vice president; Mrs. S. Brainard West, secretary; and Mrs. William Miller, treasurer.

Community residents interested in joining the club should contact the membership committee chairman, Mrs. Craig Vosburgh.

Overlook Methodist Church Activities

Overlook Methodist Church will observe Children's Day on Sunday. This is a day when the work of the education department of the church gives special emphasis to the work being done in the Sunday School and other areas of christian education. Each Sunday School class will participate in the 11 morning worship service. The program is under the supervision of the Education Commission. Harry Mirick is chairman of the commission and Harley Shultis is the Sunday School Superintendent. All parents are especially invited.

Easter Sunday the following persons were received into the membership of the church: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cervantes; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jenkins and Tommy; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lloyd; Mrs. Margaret McCain; Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce; and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Sturgeon.

Last Sunday evening the first in a series of Sunday evening worship programs was held. The attendance was good and those present agreed that the program should continue. These informal worship services will begin at 8 p. m. and everyone is invited to attend.

The Missions Commission of the church will meet Thursday evening at 8 in the church hall.

The Membership and Evangelism Commission will meet Wednesday evening, May 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilson.

A family night supper is planned for Friday, May 11.

Miss Ruth Conway of Woodstock Will Sing; Community Concerts Membership Meeting

A special guest appearance will be made at the annual Kingston Community Concert Association membership drive meeting Sunday afternoon when Miss Ruth Conway of Woodstock will sing a number of selections for the workers. The meeting at 5 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel will signal the final week when all memberships must be subscribed in order to attend the series of next season's programs.

Miss Conway, daughter of Mrs. Hans J. Cohn, a director of the Kingston Community Concerts group, made her operatic debut singing the role of Azucena in "Il Trovatore" at the Opera House in Ulm, Germany. The opera was the premiere of the season at the Ulm Opera last September 8.

She has been studying and concertizing in Austria and Germany for the past year. She was soloist in the Bach "Magnificat" with the famous Vienna Mannerchor in Vienna.

Previously Miss Conway studied voice at Oberlin Conservatory with private teachers in New York City and holds a BS degree from Columbia. She has concertized in New York, appeared on radio and has toured extensively with the Robert Shaw Chorale. She was the vocal winner of auditions held by the Dutchess County Philharmonic Orchestra in March 1959 and has participated in chamber music concerts at the Maverick Concert Hall in Woodstock.

Miss Conway is the daughter of the late Dr. Cohn of Woodstock, and is a graduate of Woodstock School and Kingston High School where she was a member of the A Cappella Choir.

Ilse Sass, well known pianist who has appeared many times at the Maverick Concerts in Woodstock will be the accompanist for Miss Conway.

Approximately 85 workers are busy in the area subscribing members for next year. Concerts announced will feature the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra with William Steinberg conducting; and Lee Luvisi, young American pianist as solo artist; the Robert Shaw Chorale and Orchestra singing a varied program of selections; and Metropolitan Opera Company barotone, Frank Guarrara. All programs will be given at the Community Theatre, Broadway, and no tickets to single concerts are sold.

Mrs. Bernard Forst and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever are co-chairmen of the drive and may be contacted for further information regarding membership dues, the only necessity for membership. Anyone may join the group but dues must be paid immediately. Headquarters next week will be at the Governor Clinton Hotel 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

RUTH CONWAY

Workers will make a report at the meeting Sunday afternoon in order to check the progress of the campaign. Those planning to attend are asked to make reservations with Mrs. Albert Sonnenberg or Mrs. Herbert I. Bloom, by Thursday.

Vassar College Will Pay Tribute To Noted Playwright

Mikhail Lermontov, 19th Century Russian playwright, poet and novelist, will be honored at Vassar College on Friday, May 4, by a performance of his drama "Masquerade," readings of his poetry, and songs. The occasion is the 120th anniversary of his death. The public is invited to the program which is scheduled at Chicago Hall of Language at 8 p. m. It is sponsored by the Department of Russian at Vassar, under the chairmanship of Professor Marianna A. Poltoratzky.

The four-act costume drama, 'Masquerade," will be enacted by 15 students of the department, the four male roles to be taken by students from the area who are enrolled in the college's Russian Evening Course. It will be staged by Emil Navor.

Readings of Lermontov's poems will be given by two students, and songs will be performed by a chorus of 12, accompanied by Susanne Lotarski '64.

Hyde Park Playhouse Announces Selections

Campus Open House At Vassar College Set for Saturday

A Campus Open House, under the auspices of the Poughkeepsie Area Vassar Club, is scheduled at Vassar College on Saturday afternoon.

"Commmunity Day at Vassar" is the occasion each year when the college invites its friends and neighbors, large and small, to stroll around its beautiful campus, inspect some of its educational facilities, and learn something about undergraduate life from student guides.

A full program has been planned by local alumnae for the sixth annual community visitors' day. All gates will be closed to traffic at 1:30 p. m. to permit leisurely tours on foot from Taylor Gate, commonly known as "Main Gate," around the heart of the 950-acre grounds. The guides will be members of Owl and Torch, a group of 80 students who are trained to escort parents, prospective students and college guests around campus.

In progress at the famous Experimental Theatre will be the rehearsal of a dance presentation which constitutes the senior thesis in Drama of Susan Balter of Rochester, N. Y.

Both the Geology Museum in Ely Hall and facilities at the Observatory, built in 1865, will be of special interest to schoolage visitors. In Talyor Hall, at the main entrance to the college, three exhibitions of art works will be displayed in the newly remodeled galleries, one of them the paintings, drawings and sculpture of current Vassar students.

Residents of Ferry Cooperative House, designed by Marcel Breuer, and of Noyes House, designed by the late Eero Saarinen, will show visitors around these two most recently constructed dormitories.

At Chicago Hall of Languages, built in 1959, students of five modern languages, in native costume, will be hostesses at the "centers" of the Departments of French, German, Italian, Spanish and Russian. There will be inspection of the electronic laboratory and visitors may make tape recordings of their own voices.

A film of some of the Centennial events held in 1961 will be shown in Weyerhaeuser auditorium of Chicago Hall throughout the afternoon, along with "The Light That Never Goes Out," a slide sequence celebrating the 75th anniversary of the founding of Vassar Brothers Hospital in 1887.

The campus will be open to visitors between 1:30 and 4:30 p. m.

Rondout Valley Band Boosters Will Meet

There will be an important meeting of the Rondout Valley Band Booster Club tonight 8 o'clock in the Music Room of the high school.

Final plans are to be made for the concert Friday May 4. This will also be the last meeting before the Band Award Banquet June 2.

All parents of students taking instrumental music may attend.

Music Festival Is Planned for May 11 At Temple Emanuel

On Friday evening, May 11 at 7:45 p. m., Temple Emanuel, 243 Albany Avenue will present a special Jewish Music Festival program. The theme will be "The Music of Isadore Freed," in memory of one of Jewry's great musicians. An elaborate and interesting liturgical service is planned, and at an Oneg Shabat following the service, a program of secular music of Dr. Freed will be presented.

The service and musicale are under the directions of Cantor Julian C. Lohre. Temple organist is Alice Beehler, and the choir will include June Pauker, Ruby Markson, Roy Davis, Ray Myers and Michael Kaye. Appearing at the Oneg Shabat in addition to Cantor Lohre will be Leonard Zimet, oboe soloist. Barbara Zimet will accompany both Cantor Lohre and her husband at the piano.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to join with Temple Emanuel for this special musical program.

Reunion Committee To Meet Thursday

The 20th reunion committee of the Kingston High School, Class of 1942, will meet again this Thursday, May 3 at the Governor Clinton Hotel beginning at 7:30 p. m. Chairman Jason Goumas announced that replies from members of the class signifying their intentions of attending the reunion, which is being held on June 15 and 16, are pouring in. So far 190 of the 345 members of the class have answered. If anyone in the immediate locality has put off answering correspondence pertaining to the reunion for one reason or another, the committee would appreciate their answering since it will facilitate matters for the various committees which are donating their services gratis for setting up the reunion.

The committee had some luck last week in locating the addresses of several classmates and now the list is down to four. The following have not yet been located:: Susan Star, Robert Merker, Blanche Henkin and Robert Clare. Any information as to the whereabouts of the above will certainly be appreciated by the committee.

Various committee reports will be heard at the meeting and preparations will be finalized for the next mailing.

Anyone wishing to attend the meeting who is a member of the class of 1942 is cordially invitted to attend.

Hadassah Delegate Named for Meeting In Spring Valley

Mrs. Arthur Landesman, first vice president of the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah, will represent the local group at the spring conference of the Lower New York State Region of the organization.

The conference will be held Monday through Wednesday, May 7-9, at the Spring Rock Country Club, Spring Valley.

Members of the local group who wish to attend any conference sessions should contact Mrs. Paul Johnson, 11 West Chestnut Street, for reservations and details. The opening luncheon Monday will be followed by workshops on education, organization and leadership training. Mrs. Max Matzkin, a national board member, will address the evening dinner meeting.

Sessions on membership, fundraising and program are planned for Tuesday. Mrs. Ruth Gruber Michaels, author and foreign correspondent, will be guest speaker for the evening's Golden Anniversary banquet, where past chapter and regional presidents will be honored.

Wednesday morning's program includes workshops on Zionist affairs and youth activities, with election of regional officers and an awards luncheon concluding the conference.

The Kingston Chapter's board will meet at 8:30 p. m. Monday, May 7, in the home of Mrs. Sidney Halpern, 126 Madison Avenue.

A luncheon in honor of the outgoing president, Mrs. Arthur London, is set for 12:30 p. m. Thursday, May 10, at Leherb's. Mrs. Robert S. Yallum is in charge of reservations.

Innisfree Gardens Opened to Public

Gardens at Innisfree, the estate of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beck bordering Tyrrel Lake, near Millbrook, were scheduled to open to the public starting today. The gardens, visited by 6,000 persons in 1961, are a mecca for garden lovers and a world center of garden art.

Innisfree was named for the Irish Isle described in a poem by William Butler Yeats.

The gardens will be open for public visitation from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Tuesday through Friday and 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday and Sunday. The gardens are maintained by the Innisfree Foundation, established under the terms of Mrs. Beck's will.

Her husband spent 22 years developing the garden paradise. There is no charge.

Miss Ruth Conway of Woodstock Will Sing; Community Concerts Membership Meeting

A special guest appearance will be made at the annual Kingston Community Concert Association membership drive meeting Sunday afternoon when Miss Ruth Conway of Woodstock will sing a number of selections for the workers. The meeting at 5 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel will signal the final week when all memberships must be subscribed in order to attend the series of next season's programs.

Miss Conway, daughter of Mrs. Hans J. Cohn, a director of the Kingston Community Concerts group, made her operatic debut singing the role of Azucena in "Il Trovatore" at the Opera House in Ulm, Germany. The opera was the premiere of the season at the Ulm Opera last September 8.

She has been studying and concertizing in Austria and Germany for the past year. She was soloist in the Bach "Magnificat" with the famous Vienna Mannerchor in Vienna.

Previously Miss Conway studied voice at Oberlin Conservatory with private teachers in New York City and holds a BS degree from Columbia. She has concertized in New York, appeared on radio and has toured extensively with the Robert Shaw Chorale. She was the vocal winner of auditions held by the Dutchess County Philharmonic Orchestra in March 1959 and has participated in chamber music concerts at the Maverick Concert Hall in Woodstock.

Miss Conway is the daughter of the late Dr. Cohn of Woodstock, and is a graduate of Woodstock School and Kingston High School where she was a member of the A Cappella Choir.

Ilse Sass, well known pianist who has appeared many times at the Maverick Concerts in Woodstock will be the accompanist for Miss Conway.

Approximately 85 workers are busy in the area subscribing members for next year. Concerts announced will feature the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra with William Steinberg conducting; and Lee Luvisi, young American pianist as solo artist; the Robert Shaw Chorale and Orchestra singing a varied program of selections; and Metropolitan Opera Company barotone, Frank Guarrara. All programs will be given at the Community Theatre, Broadway, and no tickets to single concerts are sold.

Mrs. Bernard Forst and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever are co-chairmen of the drive and may be contacted for further information regarding membership dues, the only necessity for membership. Anyone may join the group but dues must be paid immediately. Headquarters next week will be at the Governor Clinton Hotel 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

RUTH CONWAY

Workers will make a report at the meeting Sunday afternoon in order to check the progress of the campaign. Those planning to attend are asked to make reservations with Mrs. Albert Sonnenberg or Mrs. Herbert I. Bloom, by Thursday.

Vassar College Will Pay Tribute To Noted Playwright

Mikhail Lermontov, 19th Century Russian playwright, poet and novelist, will be honored at Vassar College on Friday, May 4, by a performance of his drama "Masquerade," readings of his poetry, and songs. The occasion is the 120th anniversary of his death. The public is invited to the program which is scheduled at Chicago Hall of Language at 8 p. m. It is sponsored by the Department of Russian at Vassar, under the chairmanship of Professor Marianna A. Poltoratzky.

The four-act costume drama, 'Masquerade," will be enacted by 15 students of the department, the four male roles to be taken by students from the area who are enrolled in the college's Russian Evening Course. It will be staged by Emil Navor.

Readings of Lermontov's poems will be given by two students, and songs will be performed by a chorus of 12, accompanied by Susanne Lotarski '64.

Campus Open House At Vassar College Set for Saturday

A Campus Open House, under the auspices of the Poughkeepsie Area Vassar Club, is scheduled at Vassar College on Saturday afternoon.

"Commmunity Day at Vassar" is the occasion each year when the college invites its friends and neighbors, large and small, to stroll around its beautiful campus, inspect some of its educational facilities, and learn something about undergraduate life from student guides.

A full program has been planned by local alumnae for the sixth annual community visitors' day. All gates will be closed to traffic at 1:30 p. m. to permit leisurely tours on foot from Taylor Gate, commonly known as "Main Gate," around the heart of the 950-acre grounds. The guides will be members of Owl and Torch, a group of 80 students who are trained to escort parents, prospective students and college guests around campus.

In progress at the famous Experimental Theatre will be the rehearsal of a dance presentation which constitutes the senior thesis in Drama of Susan Balter of Rochester, N. Y.

Both the Geology Museum in Ely Hall and facilities at the Observatory, built in 1865, will be of special interest to schoolage visitors. In Talyor Hall, at the main entrance to the college, three exhibitions of art works will be displayed in the newly remodeled galleries, one of them the paintings, drawings and sculpture of current Vassar students.

Residents of Ferry Cooperative House, designed by Marcel Breuer, and of Noyes House, designed by the late Eero Saarinen, will show visitors around these two most recently constructed dormitories.

At Chicago Hall of Languages, built in 1959, students of five modern languages, in native costume, will be hostesses at the "centers" of the Departments of French, German, Italian, Spanish and Russian. There will be inspection of the electronic laboratory and visitors may make tape recordings of their own voices.

A film of some of the Centennial events held in 1961 will be shown in Weyerhaeuser auditorium of Chicago Hall throughout the afternoon, along with "The Light That Never Goes Out," a slide sequence celebrating the 75th anniversary of the founding of Vassar Brothers Hospital in 1887.

The campus will be open to visitors between 1:30 and 4:30 p. m.

Rondout Valley Band Boosters Will Meet

There will be an important meeting of the Rondout Valley Band Booster Club tonight 8 o'clock in the Music Room of the high school.

Final plans are to be made for the concert Friday May 4. This will also be the last meeting before the Band Award Banquet June 2.

All parents of students taking instrumental music may attend.

Music Festival Is Planned for May 11 At Temple Emanuel

On Friday evening, May 11 at 7:45 p. m., Temple Emanuel, 243 Albany Avenue will present a special Jewish Music Festival program. The theme will be "The Music of Isadore Freed," in memory of one of Jewry's great musicians. An elaborate and interesting liturgical service is planned, and at an Oneg Shabat following the service, a program of secular music of Dr. Freed will be presented.

The service and musicale are under the directions of Cantor Julian C. Lohre. Temple organist is Alice Beehler, and the choir will include June Pauker, Ruby Markson, Roy Davis, Ray Myers and Michael Kaye. Appearing at the Oneg Shabat in addition to Cantor Lohre will be Leonard Zimet, oboe soloist. Barbara Zimet will accompany both Cantor Lohre and her husband at the piano.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to join with Temple Emanuel for this special musical program.

Reunion Committee To Meet Thursday

The 20th reunion committee of the Kingston High School, Class of 1942, will meet again this Thursday, May 3 at the Governor Clinton Hotel beginning at 7:30 p. m. Chairman Jason Goumas announced that replies from members of the class signifying their intentions of attending the reunion, which is being held on June 15 and 16, are pouring in. So far 190 of the 345 members of the class have answered. If anyone in the immediate locality has put off answering correspondence pertaining to the reunion for one reason or another, the committee would appreciate their answering since it will facilitate matters for the various committees which are donating their services gratis for setting up the reunion.

The committee had some luck last week in locating the addresses of several classmates and now the list is down to four. The following have not yet been located:: Susan Star, Robert Merker, Blanche Henkin and Robert Clare. Any information as to the whereabouts of the above will certainly be appreciated by the committee.

Various committee reports will be heard at the meeting and preparations will be finalized for the next mailing.

Anyone wishing to attend the meeting who is a member of the class of 1942 is cordially invitted to attend.

Miss Ethel Hagen Is Bride of E. Holbert

PLATTEKILL — Miss Ethel Hagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thorolf Hagen, of this place, and Elmer Holbert Jr., of Wallkill, were married Sunday, April 22, at the Plattekill Methodist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Carl Hartman, pastor of the Plattekill and Rossville Methodist Churches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace floor length gown styled with a scalloped neckline and fitted bodice. A fingertip veil was attached to a crown of pearls and she carried white orchids, stephanotis and ivy on a Bible.

Mrs. Charles Henry Jr., of New Hurley, was matron of honor, wearing a street length dress of blue lace. She carried a cascade of pink canations and ivy.

Cousins of the bride, Linda Adams of Walden and Sheila Palen of Modena, as bridesmaids, wore dresses of pink lace, carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations, daisies and ivy.

Ronald Holbert was best man, Richard Hagen and Charles Henry Jr., were ushers.

Susan Hagen was flower girl and Frederick Jamenick, ring bearer.

A reception was held at the Plattekill Firehouse.

Mrs. Holbert, a graduate of the Wallkill Central High School, is employed by the New York Telephone Co.

Mr. Holbert, also a graduate of the Wallkill Central High School, is employed at Galloway's Garage, in Newburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Holbert will reside in Plattekill.

Spring Ball at Innisfree to Benefit Hudson Valley Philharmonic, June 16

There will be a spring ball for the benefit of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, Saturday night, June 16, at Innisfree Garden, an estate in Millbrook, according to Peter K. McComb, president of the society.

The purpose of the ball is to meet the Philharmonic's deficit, which amounts to about 10,000 according to Mr. McComb.

"Orchestras of any stature inevitably have annual deficits and require additional support," Claude Monteux, musical director of the Philharmonic, explained. "It is only by such endeavors as the spring ball that a community can maintain a symphony orchestra of professional calibre."

Last year the Philharmonic held a benefit ball at the home of Mrs. Vincent Astor in Rhinecliff, which enabled the Philharmonic to finance the current season. The Philharmonic gave six concerts this year in Poughkeepsie, three in Kingston and three in Newburgh, and has already made arrangements for the same number of concerts for the 1962-63 season. These concerts feature well-known soloists. William Warfield, Isaac Stern, Robertt Casadesus and Ania Dorfmann will be among the guest artists during the next season.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Love, Jr. ,have beeen named co-chairmen of the ball. Dr. and Mrs. George T. C. May will serve as host and hostess, as will Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Connor. Robert H. Sedgewick has been named treasurer for the benefit. Other committee chairmen are: music committee, Claude Monteux; refreshments, Mrs. Peter K. McComb, Mrs. Sidney N. Miller, Mrs. Philip G. Swartz; invitations: Mrs. Donald Cameron. Herbert N. McMichael, H. Mortimer Brockway and Mrs. Bernard Slade will be in charge of general arrangements. The Orange County committee will be headed by Mrs. Clinton Dominick III and Ilia Friedman; the Ulster County Committee by Mrs. Amos Newcombe, Leo Kilcoyne and Matthew Hasbrouck Jr., and the Dutchess County committee by Kurt Grishman, Robert Fried, Bernard Slade and Peter K. McComb.

DEFINITIVE INVITATION MUST Come From Hosts

Q: About six months ago friends whom we seldom see, spent a weekend at our house. When they left they pressed a very warm invtation upon us to come to see them. They have a very lovely house in the country and we would like to spend several days with them when my husband has his vacation. However, we have not had any further invitation from them since. Would it be a breach of etiquette to write and frankly ask whether it would be convenient for them to have us and to mention a definite time?

A: You cannot write and suggest staying with them. However, you could write a friendly letter which will bring you to their minds and perhaps in return they will invite you to come and visit them.

Names on Gift Cards

Q: I work in a gift shop that does a tremendous amount of wedding and wedding anniversary business. I'm often asked to write the cards to be enclosed with the gifts, and usually am told to write Mr. and Mrs. John Blank. Shouldn't their given names be written with their last name instead of Mr. and Mrs.?

A: Correctly, we all sign our names without title (except when necessary to prefix it in parenthesis for identification). But when any third person writes a name for another this is not a signature and must therefore be prefixed with title.

Three Showers for One Bride

Q: My daughter is going to be married this summer. Three showers are being planned for her. Is it proper to invite the same people to the three showers? I say no, but my daughter's future mother-in-law says it is quite all right to do so. I would appreciate your answering this question for me.

A: You are right. Inviting the same guests to three showers for a bride-to-be would be a great imposition.

Says Programs Up To Communities On Mental Health

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Initiative and responsibility in mental health programs rests ultimately with communities, a national mental health official says.

Philip E. Ryan, executive director of the National Association for Mental Health, said Monday that "states must certainly be expected to provide financial assistance and technical aid."

"But in the final analysis," he added, "it is the community which must undertake the initiative and maintain the responsibility."

Conference Reports Given at Women's GOP Meeting Here

"The enthusiasm of Republican women has always played a vital and essential part in Congressional elections and we will be counting on them again in 1962," reported Mrs. John Schomer quoting from a speech by Representative Robert Wilson (California) given at the 10th annual conference of Republican Women, held recently in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Schomer, president of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club, and Mrs. Bernhardt Kramer, chairman of the spring luncheon, gave their reports as representatives to the Washington conference, at the regular club meeting Thursday night, April 26, at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Mrs. Kramer noted the lengthy reception line for Governor Rockefeller, who was luncheon speaker on Tuesday, April 17. In reporting his speech to the conference, Mrs. Kramer noted that the Governor stressed the role of education, promising that everyone should have a chance to attend college, and described the state university program which his administration is expanding.

Both representatives were received by Congressman J. Ernest Wharton's office in the capitol, and attended sessions of the Senate and House. They heard the Senate pass on the appropriations for the New York World's Fair for 1964.

Other speakers at the Statler-Hilton event included the keynote speaker, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Maine; Mrs. Caroline Simon, New York Secretary of State; Rep. Jessica McWeiss, New York; Rep. William E. Miller; Senators Barry Goldwater, Arizona, and Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois; and Representative Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. Mrs. Claire Williams, assistant national chairman, who spoke at the Lincoln Day dinner here this year, conducted the conference. Miss Wilma Sivertsen, president of the New York Federation of Women's Republican Clubs, was a conference official.

Mrs. Schomer announced the spring luncheon will be held Saturday, May 5 at Williams Lake. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Barson W. Johnston, membership chairman of the New York State Federation of Women's Republican Clubs. A special feature of the afternoon will be a novel hat show. Tickets are still available by contacting either Mrs. John Salapatis or Mrs. C. John Bechtold.

Mrs. William Schiff, membership chairman, gave a report of the 1962-63 membership drive. To date there are 25 new members added to the membership rolls.

Mrs. Ward Tongue, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker of the evening, club member, Miss Marianne Davis, who showed slides and gave a commentary on the "Land of the 1962 World's Fair — Seattle and the Pacific Northwest." Stressing the great natural beauty of the city and the surrounding area, Miss Davis said that Fair visitors this summer and fall will have a bonus in store for them. Miss Davis was a graduate student at the University of Washington in Seattle, in the Speech and Hearing Clinic. Burton J. Davis operated the slide projector for his daughter's travel talk.

Mrs. John Schomer and other club officers greeted new members to the club in the social hour after the meeting. As business reports will be given at the luncheon next Saturday, no other meeting will be held in May. The next regular club meeting will be held on Thursday, June 21.

May 2, Deadline For Game Club Banquet Tickets

Wednesday is the deadline for ticket reservations to the annual Saugerties Fish and Game Club banquet scheduled for Saturday, May 5 at 7 p. m. in the Flamingo Restaurant, Route 9W, Saugerties.

Roast Beef will be served for the 78th annual event.

W. Burt Pettinger, banquet chairman emphasized that the ladies are invited to attend. Members and interested sportsmen may contact Pettinger by phone to secure reservations.

Lloyd Greer, president of Ulster County Federated Sportsmen's Clubs, will be the guest speaker.

Electrical Union Trying for Plant

An attempt is currently being made by representatives of the International Union of Electrical Workers to unionize the American Thermostat Plant at South Cairo, Greene County.

The plant employs about 125 women and from 20 to 25 men, and often has considerable changeover in personnel.

Previous efforts to unionize the plant were not successful because of lack of interest.

Circulars have been distributed to workers telling them of benefits and postcards have been given out to be returned to union headquarters by any interested persons.

OUTSTANDING STUDENT NURSE CHOSEN—Miss Beverly Valk of Columbia Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, left, was awarded the title of "Area 13 Student Nurse" at the Area Student Nurses meeting in Kingston on April 25. She was chosen for her poise, integrity, personality, leadership and her interest in nursing as a professional person. Her scholarship and capabilities were approved by the Director of her school. Here she receives a corsage from last year's winner, Miss Elizabeth Ruscus, Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing student. Other contestants were Miss Florence Brett, Kingston Hospital, and Miss Dona Rowell, Benedictine. Miss Valk will attend the New York State Student Nurses Convention in Albany in October. Upon completion of her basic training, she expects to earn her BS Degree in nursing administration. Judges were Mrs. Vanderpoole of Hudson, the Rev. Patrick Vostella of Kingston, and Mrs. Edward Finn of Kingston.

Libraries to End Circulation of Miller's Novel

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A legal storm here over Henry Miller's sex-filled novel "Tropic of Cancer" took a new turn today as Rochester's public libraries prepared to take the book out of circulation.

The novel, first published in 1934, was named last week in a Monroe County grand jury indictment of two magazine and book distributors accused of stocking obscene literature.

Dist. Atty. John J. Conway Jr., following the grand jury's lead, later asked public libraries and bookstores to take the movel off their shelves until the case is decided.

All of the library system's 16 copies of the novel are out and there is a waiting list for them. The copies will be taken out of circulation as they are returned, library officials said, and only persons who want to use the book for academic purposes will be allowed to read it—in the library.

One librarian said Monday night people asking for the book might be required to produce a note from a college instructor or some other written proof of scholarly intent.

She added, however, that no procedure was decided on or discussed in Monday's decision to take the book out of circulation.

The University of Rochester said the book would remain on its library shelves unless the courts of the state rule it obscene. Conway met with university officials Monday before the statement was issued.

Miss Ethel Hagen Is Bride of E. Holbert

PLATTEKILL — Miss Ethel Hagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thorolf Hagen, of this place, and Elmer Holbert Jr., of Wallkill, were married Sunday, April 22, at the Plattekill Methodist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Carl Hartman, pastor of the Plattekill and Rossville Methodist Churches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace floor length gown styled with a scalloped neckline and fitted bodice. A fingertip veil was attached to a crown of pearls and she carried white orchids, stephanotis and ivy on a Bible.

Mrs. Charles Henry Jr., of New Hurley, was matron of honor, wearing a street length dress of blue lace. She carried a cascade of pink canations and ivy.

Cousins of the bride, Linda Adams of Walden and Sheila Palen of Modena, as bridesmaids, wore dresses of pink lace, carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations, daisies and ivy.

Ronald Holbert was best man, Richard Hagen and Charles Henry Jr., were ushers.

Susan Hagen was flower girl and Frederick Jamenick, ring bearer.

A reception was held at the Plattekill Firehouse.

Mrs. Holbert, a graduate of the Wallkill Central High School, is employed by the New York Telephone Co.

Mr. Holbert, also a graduate of the Wallkill Central High School, is employed at Galloway's Garage, in Newburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Holbert will reside in Plattekill.

Spring Ball at Innisfree to Benefit Hudson Valley Philharmonic, June 16

There will be a spring ball for the benefit of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, Saturday night, June 16, at Innisfree Garden, an estate in Millbrook, according to Peter K. McComb, president of the society.

The purpose of the ball is to meet the Philharmonic's deficit, which amounts to about 10,000 according to Mr. McComb.

"Orchestras of any stature inevitably have annual deficits and require additional support," Claude Monteux, musical director of the Philharmonic, explained. "It is only by such endeavors as the spring ball that a community can maintain a symphony orchestra of professional calibre."

Last year the Philharmonic held a benefit ball at the home of Mrs. Vincent Astor in Rhinecliff, which enabled the Philharmonic to finance the current season. The Philharmonic gave six concerts this year in Poughkeepsie, three in Kingston and three in Newburgh, and has already made arrangements for the same number of concerts for the 1962-63 season. These concerts feature well-known soloists. William Warfield, Isaac Stern, Robertt Casadesus and Ania Dorfmann will be among the guest artists during the next season.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Love, Jr. ,have beeen named co-chairmen of the ball. Dr. and Mrs. George T. C. May will serve as host and hostess, as will Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Connor. Robert H. Sedgewick has been named treasurer for the benefit. Other committee chairmen are: music committee, Claude Monteux; refreshments, Mrs. Peter K. McComb, Mrs. Sidney N. Miller, Mrs. Philip G. Swartz; invitations: Mrs. Donald Cameron, Herbert N. McMichael, H. Mortimer Brockway and Mrs. Bernard Slade will be in charge of general arrangements. The Orange County committee will be headed by Mrs. Clinton Dominick III and Ilia Friedman; the Ulster County Committee by Mrs. Amos Newcombe, Leo Kilcoyne and Matthew Hasbrouck Jr., and the Dutchess County committee by Kurt Grishman, Robert Fried, Bernard Slade and Peter K. McComb.

DEFINITIVE INVITATION MUST Come From Hosts

Q: About six months ago friends whom we seldom see, spent a weekend at our house. When they left they pressed a very warm invtation upon us to come to see them. They have a very lovely house in the country and we would like to spend several days with them when my husband has his vacation. However, we have not had any further invitation from them since. Would it be a breach of etiquette to write and frankly ask whether it would be convenient for them to have us and to mention a definite time?

A: You cannot write and suggest staying with them. However, you could write a friendly letter which will bring you to their minds and perhaps in return they will invite you to come and visit them.

Names on Gift Cards

Q: I work in a gift shop that does a tremendous amount of wedding and wedding anniversary business. I'm often asked to write the cards to be enclosed with the gifts, and usually am told to write Mr. and Mrs. John Blank. Shouldn't their given names be written with their last name instead of Mr. and Mrs.?

A: Correctly, we all sign our names without title (except when necessary to prefix it in parenthesis for identification). But when any third person writes a name for another this is not a signature and must therefore be prefixed with title.

Three Showers for One Bride

Q: My daughter is going to be married this summer. Three showers are being planned for her. Is it proper to invite the same people to the three showers? I say no, but my daughter's future mother-in-law says it is quite all right to do so. I would appreciate your answering this question for me.

A: You are right. Inviting the same guests to three showers for a bride-to-be would be a great imposition.

Says Programs Up To Communities On Mental Health

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Initiative and responsibility in mental health programs rests ultimately with communities, a national mental health official says.

Philip E. Ryan, executive director of the National Association for Mental Health, said Monday that "states must certainly be expected to provide financial assistance and technical aid."

"But in the final analysis," he added, "it is the community which must undertake the initiative and maintain the responsibility."

Conference Reports Given at Women's GOP Meeting Here

"The enthusiasm of Republican women has always played a vital and essential part in Congressional elections and we will be counting on them again in 1962," reported Mrs. John Schomer quoting from a speech by Representative Robert Wilson (California) given at the 10th annual conference of Republican Women, held recently in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Schomer, president of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club, and Mrs. Bernhardt Kramer, chairman of the spring luncheon, gave their reports as represeniatives to the Washington conference, at the regular club meeting Thursday night, April 26, at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Mrs. Kramer noted the lengthy reception line for Governor Rockefeller, who was luncheon speaker on Tuesday, April 17. In reporting his speech to the conference, Mrs. Kramer noted that the Governor stressed the role of education, promising that everyone should have a chance to attend college, and described the state university program which his administration is expanding.

Both representatives were received by Congressman J. Ernest Wharton's office in the capitol, and attended sessions of the Senate and House. They heard the Senate pass on the appropriations for the New York World's Fair for 1964.

Other speakers at the Statler-Hilton event included the keynote speaker, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Maine; Mrs. Caroline Simon, New York Secretary of State; Rep. Jessica McWeiss, New York; Rep. William E. Miller; Senators Barry Goldwater, Arizona, and Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois; and Representative Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. Mrs. Claire Williams, assistant national chairman, who spoke at the Lincoln Day dinner here this year, conducted the conference. Miss Wilma Sivertsen, president of the New York Federation of Women's Republican Clubs, was a conference official.

Mrs. Schomer announced the spring luncheon will be held Saturday, May 5 at Williams Lake. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Barson W. Johnston, membership chairman of the New York State Federation of Women's Republican Clubs. A special feature of the afternoon will be a novel hat show. Tickets are still available by contacting either Mrs. John Salapatis or Mrs. C. John Bechtold.

Mrs. William Schiff, membership chairman, gave a report of the 1962-63 membership drive. To date there are 25 new members added to the membership rolls.

Mrs. Ward Tongue, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker of the evening, club member, Miss Marianne Davis, who showed slides and gave a commentary on the "Land of the 1962 World's Fair — Seattle and the Pacific Northwest." Stressing the great natural beauty of the city and the surrounding area, Miss Davis said that Fair visitors this summer and fall will have a bonus in store for them. Miss Davis was a graduate student at the University of Washington in Seattle, in the Speech and Hearing Clinic. Burton J. Davis operated the slide projector for his daughter's travel talk.

Mrs. John Schomer and other club officers greeted new members to the club in the social hour after the meeting. As business reports will be given at the luncheon next Saturday, no other meeting will be held in May. The next regular club meeting will be held on Thursday, June 21.

May 2, Deadline For Game Club Banquet Tickets

Wednesday is the deadline for ticket reservations to the annual Saugerties Fish and Game Club banquet scheduled for Saturday, May 5 at 7 p. m. in the Flamingo Restaurant, Route 9W, Saugerties.

Roast Beef will be served for the 78th annual event.

W. Burt Pettinger, banquet chairman emphasized that the ladies are invited to attend. Members and interested sportsmen may contact Pettinger by phone to secure reservations.

Lloyd Greer, president of Ulster County Federated Sportsmen's Clubs, will be the guest speaker.

Electrical Union Trying for Plant

An attempt is currently being made by representatives of the International Union of Electrical Workers to unionize the American Thermostat Plant at South Cairo, Greene County.

The plant employs about 125 women and from 20 to 25 men, and often has considerable changeover in personnel.

Previous efforts to unionize the plant were not successful because of lack of interest.

Circulars have been distributed to workers telling them of benefits and postcards have been given out to be returned to union headquarters by any interested persons.

Libraries to End Circulation of Miller's Novel

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A legal storm here over Henry Miller's sex-filled novel "Tropic of Cancer" took a new turn today as Rochester's public libraries prepared to take the book out of circulation.

The novel, first published in 1934, was named last week in a Monroe County grand jury indictment of two magazine and book distributors accused of stocking obscene literature.

Dist. Atty. John J. Conway Jr., following the grand jury's lead, later asked public libraries and bookstores to take the novel off their shelves until the case is decided.

All of the library system's 16 copies of the novel are out and there is a waiting list for them. The copies will be taken out of circulation as they are returned, library officials said, and only persons who want to use the book for academic purposes will be allowed to read it—in the library.

One librarian said Monday night people asking for the book might be required to produce a note from a college instructor or some other written proof of scholarly intent.

She added, however, that no procedure was decided on or discussed in Monday's decision to take the book out of circulation.

YanksHave Road Trip Of 10 Tilts

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

If anybody is going to stop the New York Yankees, the time is now. In the next two weeks the world champions will be playing 10 of 15 games on the road, including series with the top contending Chicago White Sox and the Cleveland Indians. Detroit and Baltimore will be mingling strictly with second-division clubs. So will the White Sox and Indians, except for the Yankee series.

In sharp contrast with 1961 when Roy Hamey, the Yanks' general manager, spent hours on the telephone trying to shore up his pitching staff, Hamey is standing pat letting the others do the worrying.

No Trades Sought

"We're not interested in any trades," said Hamey in New York before leaving for the Chicago series. "I'm not bothering to phone and nobody is calling me."

The collapse of Art Ditmar and the ineffective work of Bob Turley threw such a heavy load on Whitey Ford last May that Manager Ralph Houk reorganized his staff and moved Bill Stafford and Roland Sheldon into the starting routine. This year the rotation of Ford, Terry and Stafford has been enough to handle most of the clubs.

Houk was pleased by Roger Maris' hitting in Washington where he boosted his average 110 points to .262 with 10 hits in 19 at-bats, including three home runs. With Clete Boyer batting .429 and Mickey Mantle averaging .359, Houk is sitting pretty.

The Yanks send Stafford against Juan Pizarro tonight in the opener of a three-game series at Comiskey Park with the White Sox only a half game behind New York. Pizarro worked the series finale at Yankee Stadium last week when the Yanks shocked the White Sox with a winning four-run rally in the ninth inning.

Cleveland, one game back of New York after being knocked out of first place by the Minnesota Twins over the weekend, has a chance to fatten up on Los Angeles and Kansas City and get revenge on the Twins before the Yanks come into town for the first time for four games, May 11-13.

A Surprise Club

Detroit's home run hitters will try to give Jim Bunning a third straight victory in their night game with Kansas City, which has been an April surprise. Jerry Walker, winner of three in a row, will work for Hank Bauer's A's.

It will be Baltimore's turn to try to cool off the Minnesota Twins. Chuck Estrada gets the call against Camilo Pascual, a three-time winner.

The fractional point game will take place tonight, 8 p. m., at the Stuyvesant Kingston Hotel.

Auburn Wins, 7-6, In NY-Penn League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Fridley's sparkling relief pitching and a sacrifice fly by Dick Haymore in the eighth inning carried Auburn to a 7-6 victory over Geneva Monday night as the Mets went to the top of the New York-Penn Baseball League.

Fridley turned in the season's first Grade-A relief job, pitching 4 2-3 hitless innings. Haymore's fly scored Rick Bazinet from third with the winning run.

Homer Green clubbed a three-run homer and Mike Andrews a two-run homer as Olean took Batavia to its first setback, 10-8. The Jamestown Tigers stole five bases and beat Erie, 8-4, before a crowd of 1,639 at Jamestown.

Eight Horses Seeking Berth In Kentucky Derby Saturday

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)— This was the day of decision for eight 3-year-old colts.

Each needed a top performance in the mile of the $15,000-added Derby Trial at Churchill Downs to justify a place in the starting lineup for the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby which will be run for the 88th time Saturday.

It takes $250 to enter a horse in the derby Thursday morning and $1,250 more to start, and some of the owners and trainers of the Derby Trial field have said they are not about to plunk down $1,500 just to see their colors in America's premier horse race.

As it stands, the Kentucky Derby apparently has 13 sure entries headed by the highly regarded pair of C. T. Chenery's Sir Gaylord and Mrs. Moody Jolley's Ridan. The rest of Saturday's starting field will come from the Derby Trial.

The Derby Trial, from which four winners in the past have gone on to derby fame and riches, has one of the weakest lineups in years. Only two horses—Neil S. McCarthy's Royal Attack and T. A. Grissom's Roman Line—have figured in pre-Derby calculations.

Royal Attack won the Santa Anita Derby but was a disappointing sixth back of Doc Jocoy in the California Derby at Tanforan. Roman Line ran third in last Thursday's 1⅛-mile Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland after taking the seven-furlong Forerunner over the same track.

Others named for the trial include Sharp Count from the Reverie Knoll Farm, Golden Triangle Stable's Mister Pitt, Glenn W. Stevens' Boone Co., J. V. P. Stable's Lee Town, L. J. Knight's Bigger Bonus, and J. C. Pollard's Treasury Note.

Shown are accessories. (1) Reserve gas tank, (2) boarding ladder, (3) fender, (4) bilge pump, (5) life jacket, (6) fire extinguisher, (7) anchor, (8) boat hook, (9) compass, (10) flashlight, (11) safety cushions and (12) paddle. All useful.

7—Accessories

BY TED JONES
Marine Designer

Accesories are to a boat what furniture is to a house. No matter how small, or what type boat you own, some accessories are required by law. You must have an approved life-saving device for each person aboard, navigation lights if you operate after dark, and a fire extinguisher on most power boats.

After you have acquired the necessities, your purchase of accessories is limited only by your imagination — and your pocketbook. The added goodies are only to make life afloat easier and more luxurious and to delight the gadgeteer.

Tachometers, boarding ladders, extra fuel tanks, horns or whistles, bumpers and compasses are common extras.

Manufacturers sit up nights thinking up new ways to make life more enjoyable for the boatman. They devise safe and efficient stoves for operation afloat, ice boxes, special dishes and cooking utensils to intrigue the first mate.

They market depth sounders, radio direction finders, ship-to-shore telephones, and other devices for the boatman who likes gimmicks.

Syracuse Scores Initial Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Syracuse finally has its first victory of the International League season in the bank—but it took 10 innings and a productive batting spree by Tony Asaro to put it away.

The Chiefs ended their six-game losing string with an 8-6 squeaker over Atlanta as Asaro ripped out five hits, including a decisive two-run double in the 10th. In other games, Rochester nipped Jacksonville 4-3 and Toronto beat Richmond 7-4. Buffalo at Columbus was rained out.

Les Narum held Jacksonville to three hits over eight innings but was rapped for a homer by Buddy Barker leading off the ninth and needed help from Dick Leubke to complete Rochester's narrow victory.

Toronto wrapped up its decision over Richmond with a four-run uprising in the seventh, highlighted by Pete Daley's bases-filled triple.

YanksHave Road Trip Of 10 Tilts

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

If anybody is going to stop the New York Yankees, the time is now. In the next two weeks the world champions will be playing 10 of 15 games on the road, including series with the top contending Chicago White Sox and the Cleveland Indians. Detroit and Baltimore will be mingling strictly with second-division clubs. So will the White Sox and Indians, except for the Yankee series.

In sharp contrast with 1961 when Roy Hamey, the Yanks' general manager, spent hours on the telephone trying to shore up his pitching staff, Hamey is standing pat letting the others do the worrying.

No Trades Sought

"We're not interested in any trades," said Hamey in New York before leaving for the Chicago series. "I'm not bothering to phone and nobody is calling me."

The collapse of Art Ditmar and the ineffective work of Bob Turley threw such a heavy load on Whitey Ford last May that Manager Ralph Houk reorganized his staff and moved Bill Stafford and Roland Sheldon into the starting routine. This year the rotation of Ford, Terry and Stafford has been enough to handle most of the clubs.

Houk was pleased by Roger Maris' hitting in Washington where he boosted his average 110 points to .262 with 10 hits in 19 at-bats, including three home runs. With Clete Boyer batting .429 and Mickey Mantle averaging .359, Houk is sitting pretty.

The Yanks send Stafford against Juan Pizarro tonight in the opener of a three-game series at Comiskey Park with the White Sox only a half game behind New York. Pizarro worked the series finale at Yankee Stadium last week when the Yanks shocked the White Sox with a winning four-run rally in the ninth inning.

Cleveland, one game back of New York after being knocked out of first place by the Minnesota Twins over the weekend, has a chance to fatten up on Los Angeles and Kansas City and get revenge on the Twins before the Yanks come into town for the first time for four games, May 11-13.

A Surprise Club

Detroit's home run hitters will try to give Jim Bunning a third straight victory in their night game with Kansas City, which has been an April surprise. Jerry Walker, winner of three in a row, will work for Hank Bauer's A's.

It will be Baltimore's turn to try to cool off the Minnesota Twins. Chuck Estrada gets the call against Camilo Pascual, a three-time winner.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks, Hyde Park, posted an exceptionally high 69% game to win honors in the Glenerie Bridge Club regular fractional point game recently at the Ridgely Casino in Stone Ridge.

Second place was won by Joseph Zahtila, Hyde Park, and Earl Yohnell, Poughkeepsie, with a 61% game. Third went to Mr. and Mrs. Milton Tompkins, Hurley with a 55% game and there was a tie for fourth between Mrs. Lois Richardson and Mrs. I. H. Wheatcroft and Dr. Paul Perlman, Woodstock and John Chapman, Poughkeepsie, with a 53% game.

The fractional point game will take place tonight, 8 p. m., at the Stuyvesant Kingston Hotel.

Auburn Wins, 7-6, In NY-Penn League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Fridley's sparkling relief pitching and a sacrifice fly by Dick Haymore in the eighth inning carried Auburn to a 7-6 victory over Geneva Monday night as the Mets went to the top of the New York-Penn Baseball League.

Fridley turned in the season's first Grade-A relief job, pitching 4 2-3 hitless innings. Haymore's fly scored Rick Bazinet from third with the winning run.

Homer Green clubbed a three-run homer and Mike Andrews a two-run homer as Olean took Batavia to its first setback, 10-8. The Jamestown Tigers stole five bases and beat Erie, 8-4, before a crowd of 1,639 at Jamestown.

Eight Horses Seeking Berth In Kentucky Derby Saturday

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)— This was the day of decision for eight 3-year-old colts.

Each needed a top performance in the mile of the $15,000-added Derby Trial at Churchill Downs to justify a place in the starting lineup for the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby which will be run for the 88th time Saturday.

It takes $250 to enter a horse in the derby Thursday morning and $1,250 more to start, and some of the owners and trainers of the Derby Trial field have said they are not about to plunk down $1,500 just to see their colors in America's premier horse race.

As it stands, the Kentucky Derby apparently has 13 sure entries headed by the highly regarded pair of C. T. Chenery's Sir Gaylord and Mrs. Moody Jolley's Ridan. The rest of Saturday's starting field will come from the Derby Trial.

The Derby Trial, from which four winners in the past have gone on to derby fame and riches, has one of the weakest lineups in years. Only two horses—Neil S. McCarthy's Royal Attack and T. A. Grissom's Roman Line—have figured in pre-Derby calculations.

Royal Attack won the Santa Anita Derby but was a disappointing sixth back of Doc Jocoy in the California Derby at Tanforan. Roman Line ran third in last Thursday's 1⅛-mile Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland after taking the seven-furlong Forerunner over the same track.

Others named for the trial include Sharp Count from the Reverie Knoll Farm, Golden Triangle Stable's Mister Pitt, Glenn W. Stevens' Boone Co., J. V. P. Stable's Lee Town, L. J. Knight's Bigger Bonus, and J. C. Pollard's Treasury Note.

Shown are accessories. (1) Reserve gas tank, (2) boarding ladder, (3) fender, (4) bilge pump, (5) life jacket, (6) fire extinguisher, (7) anchor, (8) boat hook, (9) compass, (10) flashlight, (11) safety cushions and (12) paddle. All useful.

7—Accessories

BY TED JONES
Marine Designer

Accesories are to a boat what furniture is to a house. No matter how small, or what type boat you own, some accessories are required by law. You must have an approved life-saving device for each person aboard, navigation lights if you operate after dark, and a fire extinguisher on most power boats.

After you have acquired the necessities, your purchase of accessories is limited only by your imagination — and your pocketbook. The added goodies are only to make life afloat easier and more luxurious and to delight the gadgeteer.

Tachometers, boarding ladders, extra fuel tanks, horns or whistles, bumpers and compasses are common extras.

Manufacturers sit up nights thinking up new ways to make life more enjoyable for the boatman. They devise safe and efficient stoves for operation afloat, ice boxes, special dishes and cooking utensils to intrigue the first mate.

They market depth sounders, radio direction finders, ship-to-shore telephones, and other devices for the boatman who likes gimmicks.

Steve Leoce Rolls 300 Game in Tavern Association League

Also Has Games Of 191 and 167 For 658 Series

Steve Leoce realized the dream of every bowler last night when he fired a 300 game in the Tavern Association League on Lanes 15 and 16 at the Bowlero.

The anchorman for T. P. Tavern, a 177 average kegler, rolled his masterpiece in the second game. He had the first ten balls in the pocket, crossed on the 11th and then buried the final ball in the 1-3 pocket.

"I wasn't nervous until the final ball. I had complete control of myself until then but was really worried in that 12th frame," Leoce said today. He's employed at International Business Machines.

Prior to last night, his best previous high single was a 276 and he hit that several years ago.

Leoce started with 191 and then slumped to 167 after his perfect game to finish with a 658 series.

It was the fourth perfect game in the Kingston Assn. this year. John Schatzel rolled one last October in the Invitational Classic League and Chris Gallo did the same in January in the Classic. Carl D'Ambrosino rolled his perfect game in New Paltz.

Houston Seeks Floyd, Liston Title Fight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Texas' boxing director and an official of the Houston Sports Association said Monday night they would welcome a title fight between heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and Sonny Liston.

"We'd like very much to have the Patterson-Liston fight. It would be a big thing for Texas," said Alton Erickson of Austin, the director and a representative of the National Boxing Association.

New York and California have refused to license Liston because of his background.

"I see no reason to deny Liston a license," Erickson said. He's paid his debt to society.

"Liston has fought here before and I believe he has a license to fight here right now," he said.

SHS Jayvees Score Win Over Beacon

The unbeaten Saugerties High Jayvees won their second verdict of the season, 5-3 at Lady of Lourdes yesterday.

Joe Ollinger hurled the win, a four-hitter. He allowed nine walks and fanned 10.

John Luchkowec and John Bond had two hits each for the winners while Andy Wood delivered a two-run double.

The jayvees, coached by Jeff Smythe, will meet Hudson today, play at Highland Wednesday and entertain Beacon on Friday.

Mays Raps 7th Homer In SF Win

Slump-ridden Willie Mays has kicked the habit and reformed the National League's No. 1 power combine with Orlando Cepeda for the streaking San Francisco Giants, back on top of the league standings after their sixth consecutive victory.

Both Mays and Cepeda continued their slugging Monday, each tagging a homer to support the four-hit pitching of rookie Gaylord Perry as the Giants knocked off Pittsburh 4-1 and toppled the Pirates from first place.

Over that span Mays and Cepeda have reactivated the potent 1-2 punch that gave the Giants 86 homers and 265 runs batted in during the 1961 campaign. Mays now has seven homers, tops in the majors, plus 16 RBI, while Cepeda has hit six homers and knocked in 21 runs.

Spahn Is Beaten

While the Giants were extending their streak, Philadelphia snapped one, beating Milwaukee's Warren Spahn 6-4 for their first victory over the veteran left-hander since May 23, 1959. In the only other games scheduled. Stan Williams' five-hitter gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 3-1 triumph over Chicago's Cubs.

The American League had a day off.

Mays got the Giants started with a bases-empty homer in the first inning off Vinegar Bend Mizell (1-1). But the Pirates came back to tie it in the second when Don Hoak singled, stole second and came across on Bill Mazeroski's single. San Francisco went back out front in the third when Tom Haller walked, took second on Perry's sacrifice and scored on Mickey Mota's single. Cepeda's two-run homer, after Mays had walked in the fourth, put it out of reach.

Perry (2-0), whose brother Jim pitches for Cleveland, was knocked out in his first major league start, then beat the Pirates to start the Giants' current streak.

Spahn (2-3), trying for the 312th victory of his career, was knocked out in the third when the Phils scored five times on Ruben Amaro's double, singles by Tony Taylor and Tony Gonzalez, plus three walks, including a bases-filled one to Don Demeter. Rookie Jack Hamilton (2-2) won it, with relief help from Jack Baldschun in the ninth.

The Dodgers scored two runs in the fifth to win it, snapping a 21-inning scoreless string when an error by Andre Rodgers let Norm Sherry score and Jim Gilliams' single drove in Maury Wills. Andy Carey's homer in the sixth gave Williams (1-1) some additional working room.

Saugerties Beats Lady of Lourdes, 9-1

Mike Fury hurled a neat five-hitter and Saugerties High trimmed Our Lady of Lourdes, 9-1, yesterday at the SHS diamond. The win made the Sawyers' record a neat 6-3 to date.

The winners scored a run in the opening inning and then knocked out starter Gerry DeFiglio with a four run barrage in the second. Singles by Bob McCaig and Glenn Davis, an error, fielders choice, Jim Curley's single, another error and a hit by Dick Marelli accounted for the scoring.

After the visitors tallied a marker in the fifth, Coach Bill Straub's boys added four in the sixth off relief chucker Ralph Spadaro.

Saugerties will host Highland on Wednesday and will open its DCSL season Friday at Beacon.

Elmira Is First In Eastern Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Elmira Pioneers, back in the Eastern League after a six year absence, have blazed their own new frontier right into first place.

And they've done it by chopping away at Binghamton with such consistency that manager Earl Weaver probably wishes his Pioneers could play the Trips every day.

The Pioneers scored a run in the 11th inning Monday night to defeat Binghamton 7-6 for their fifth straight victory over the Trips. It pushed Elmira a half game into first place over Williamsport which was rained out at Charleston. York at Springfield also was postponed because of rain.

Lloyd Fourroux's single sent home Joe Pullman with Elmira's winning run. Pullman opened the 11th with a single, moved to second on a sacrifice and went to third on a wild pitch by Jim Johnson (0-1), the losing pitcher.

A pair of two-run homers by Ken Harrelson—one in the sixth and the other in the ninth—accounted for four Binghamton runs. Harrelson's drive in the ninth tied the score at 6-6 and sent the game into extra innings.

Elmira's big inning came in the third when the Pioneers scored four runs, two of them coming on a double by $100,000 bonus catcher Andy Etchebarren.

Onteora Earns 1st Decision Of Year, 12-4

Onteora Central snapped a 3-3 deadlock with five runs in the fourth inning and went on to beat Hunter-Tannersville, 12-4, for its first decision of the season Saturday at the losers' diamond.

Four walks and hits by John Phelan and Gallagher were featured in the big inning.

Larry Joyce went the distance to pick up the win for the Indians and he aided his cause with three doubles, driving in four runs.

Mickey Wright Is Playoff Winner

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Blonde Mickey Wright shot what she described as "the best competitive round of my career"—a three-under-par 69—to win top money of $1,400 in the 23rd women's Titleholders Golf Tournament.

Miss Wright had six birdies in her remarkable round under pressure Monday as she defeated Ruth Jessen of Seattle in the first playoff ever necessary in this event. Miss Jessen shot a respectable 37-35—72, matching men's par of 36-36—72 over the Augusta Country Club Course. She won $1,100.

The two West Coast entries—Miss Wright is from San Diego—wound up even at 295 at the end of the 72-hole event Sunday.

BREAKING GROUND—Historic Track superintendent Thomas Kidney surveys early work in the construction now going on at the Goshen half mile oval. A 400 foot paddock is being built behind the back stretch at Historic. Facilities for an afternoon's entire field of horses are planned as well as accommodations for the track's veterinarian. Grand Circuit week begins July 2, with five afternoons of racing worth $140,000. (Phil Pines photo)

Larger Paddock Being Built At Historic Track This Year

Horsemen and horses will find a larger and more convenient paddock waiting for them at Historic Track when the Grand Circuit swings in for five afternoons of harness racing beginning July 2.

Vice-President and General Manager Russell W. Hart announced the new paddock area would be large enough to stable all the trotters and pacers that will race in one afternoon. He pointed out that such an arrangement would streamline race operations and relieve the "traffic jam" that has existed in the old paddock area near the grandstand.

Men and machines are clearing a wide path, 400 feet long, on the far side of Historic Track and behind the back stretch. Facilities for the track veterinarian will also be included.

This will be the first major construction in recent years at Historic. Increased attendance has created crowded conditions between fans, horses and horsemen at race time. Greater numbers of entries each year has necessitated extra stall space. The old paddock is being converted into stalls.

In Fast Shape

Meanwhile, Track Superintendent Thomas Kidney has the century plus half mile oval in fast shape for stables already arriving for spring training. Kidney is also supervising the new paddock construction, expecting its completion by mid-June.

Some of harness racing's bigger stables are due to arrive at Historic early in May. Arden Homestead Stable, with trainer Harry Pownall, will make the Goshen track their home for the entire season. The Allwood Stable under the guidance of John Paterson and the young performers of Clint Hodgins stable are going to make camp, too.

The July visit will be the 52nd for the Grand Circuit. Historic Track was the first half miler to welcome the sport's major league. Up till 1911, the mile tracks had a monopoly.

Player Says Palmer Has Talent and Guts

BOSTON (AP)—Arnold Palmer, current king among professional golfers, is a mixture of "talent and guts," according to his constant rival, Gary Player.

"If you are leading and Palmer is two strokes behind you, you are conscious of him," Player said. "He's so bold he's not afraid of anything."

As for his own game, Player said:

"The best thing that has happened to me was to finish out of the money in the Bing Crosby tournament. I had won money in 50 straight events and became too conservative.

"When the streak ended, I began to play all out again, and that's the only way for me to play."

Maris Never Felt He Was Slumping With .152 Mark

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Although homer king Roger Maris was batting a puny .152 before the recent four-game series at Washington, neither the New York Yankee slugger nor his manager, Ralph Houk, felt Maris was in any type of slump.

If anything, the man who hit 61 home runs last year appeared ready to take apart Chicago White Sox pitching again. Maris last year slammed 13 of his home runs against the Sox and the Yankees open a three-game series with the White Sox tonight.

"I never considered being in a slump," said Maris, who lifted his average to .262 with 10 hits including three homers against Washington over the weekend.

"I was hitting the ball well but always at somebody," he said. "Baseball is a game of percentages and eventually, when you're hitting the ball well it will start dropping in."

Maris, who has four home runs in 15 games, is well ahead of his 1961 pace. Last year he didn't hit No. 2 until the 16th game.

"I never even thought of his being in any kind of slump until the question was brought up," said Houk. "The big reason probably is that Maris of this year is so much better a player than the Maris of last spring. Last year at this time he was struggling when popping up."

Maris agreed. "If anything, last spring was probably the worst of my career. I didn't think I would ever get started."

Steve Leoce Rolls 300 Game in Tavern Association League

Also Has Games Of 191 and 167 For 658 Series

Steve Leoce realized the dream of every bowler last night when he fired a 300 game in the Tavern Association League on Lanes 15 and 16 at the Bowlero.

The anchorman for T. P. Tavern, a 177 average kegler, rolled his masterpiece in the second game. He had the first ten balls in the pocket, crossed on the 11th and then buried the final ball in the 1-3 pocket.

"I wasn't nervous until the final ball. I had complete control of myself until then but was really worried in that 12th frame," Leoce said today. He's employed at International Business Machines.

Prior to last night, his best previous high single was a 276 and he hit that several years ago.

Leoce started with 191 and then slumped to 167 after his perfect game to finish with a 658 series.

It was the fourth perfect game in the Kingston Assn. this year. John Schatzel rolled one last October in the Invitational Classic League and Chris Gallo did the same in January in the Classic. Carl D'Ambrosino rolled his perfect game in New Paltz.

Houston Seeks Floyd, Liston Title Fight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Texas' boxing director and an official of the Houston Sports Association said Monday night they would welcome a title fight between heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and Sonny Liston.

"We'd like very much to have the Patterson-Liston fight. It would be a big thing for Texas," said Alton Erickson of Austin, the director and a representative of the National Boxing Association.

New York and California have refused to license Liston because of his background.

"I see no reason to deny Liston a license," Erickson said. He's paid his debt to society.

"Liston has fought here before and I believe he has a license to fight here right now," he said.

SHS Jayvees Score Win Over Beacon

The unbeaten Saugerties High Jayvees won their second verdict of the season, 5-3 at Lady of Lourdes yesterday.

Joe Ollinger hurled the win, a four-hitter. He allowed nine walks and fanned 10.

John Luchkowec and John Bond had two hits each for the winners while Andy Wood delivered a two-run double.

The jayvees, coached by Jeff Smythe, will meet Hudson today, play at Highland Wednesday and entertain Beacon on Friday.

Mays Raps 7th Homer In SF Win

Slump-ridden Willie Mays has kicked the habit and reformed the National League's No. 1 power combine with Orlando Cepeda for the streaking San Francisco Giants, back on top of the league standings after their sixth consecutive victory.

Both Mays and Cepeda continued their slugging Monday, each tagging a homer to support the four-hit pitching of rookie Gaylord Perry as the Giants knocked off Pittsburh 4-1 and toppled the Pirates from first place.

Over that span Mays and Cepeda have reactivated the potent 1-2 punch that gave the Giants 86 homers and 265 runs batted in during the 1961 campaign. Mays now has seven homers, tops in the majors, plus 16 RBI, while Cepeda has hit six homers and knocked in 21 runs.

Spahn Is Beaten

While the Giants were extending their streak, Philadelphia snapped one, beating Milwaukee's Warren Spahn 6-4 for their first victory over the veteran left-hander since May 23, 1959. In the only other other games scheduled, Stan Williams' five-hitter gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 3-1 triumph over Chicago's Cubs.

The American League had a day off.

Mays got the Giants started with a bases-empty homer in the first inning off Vinegar Bend Mizell (1-1). But the Pirates came back to tie it in the second when Don Hoak singled, stole second and came across on Bill Mazeroski's single. San Francisco went back out front in the third when Tom Haller walked, took second on Perry's sacrifice and scored on Mickey Mota's single. Cepeda's two-run homer, after Mays had walked in the fourth, put it out of reach.

Perry (2-0), whose brother Jim pitches for Cleveland, was knocked out in his first major league start, then beat the Pirates to start the Giants' current streak.

Spahn (2-3), trying for the 312th victory of his career, was knocked out in the third when the Phils scored five times on Ruben Amaro's double, singles by Tony Taylor and Tony Gonzalez, plus three walks, including a bases-filled one to Don Demeter. Rookie Jack Hamilton (2-2) won it, with relief help from Jack Baldschun in the ninth.

The Dodgers scored two runs in the fifth to win it, snapping a 21-inning scoreless string when an error by Andre Rodgers let Norm Sherry score and Jim Gilliams' single drove in Maury Wills. Andy Carey's homer in the sixth gave Williams (1-1) some additional working room.

Saugerties Beats Lady of Lourdes, 9-1

Mike Fury hurled a neat five-hitter and Saugerties High trimmed Our Lady of Lourdes, 9-1, yesterday at the SHS diamond. The win made the Sawyers' record a neat 6-3 to date.

The winners scored a run in the opening inning and then knocked out starter Gerry DeFiglio with a four run barrage in the second. Singles by Bob McCaig and Glenn Davis, an error, fielders choice, Jim Curley's single, another error and a hit by Dick Marelli accounted for the scoring.

After the visitors tallied a marker in the fifth, Coach Bill Straub's boys added four in the sixth off relief chucker Ralph Spadaro.

Saugerties will host Highland on Wednesday and will open its DCSL season Friday at Beacon.

Elmira Is First In Eastern Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Elmira Pioneers, back in the Eastern League after a six year absence, have blazed their own new frontier right into first place.

And they've done it by chopping away at Binghamton with such consistency that manager Earl Weaver probably wishes his Pioneers could play the Trips every day.

The Pioneers scored a run in the 11th inning Monday night to defeat Binghamton 7-6 for their fifth straight victory over the Trips. It pushed Elmira a half game into first place over Williamsport which was rained out at Charleston. York at Springfield also was postponed because of rain.

Lloyd Fourroux's single sent home Joe Pullman with Elmira's winning run. Pullman opened the 11th with a single, moved to second on a sacrifice and went to third on a wild pitch by Jim Johnson (0-1), the losing pitcher.

A pair of two-run homers by Ken Harrelson—one in the sixth and the other in the ninth—accounted for four Binghamton runs. Harrelson's drive in the ninth tied the score at 6-6 and sent the game into extra innings.

Elmira's big inning came in the third when the Pioneers scored four runs, two of them coming on a double by $100,000 bonus catcher Andy Etchebarren.

Onteora Earns 1st Decision Of Year, 12-4

Onteora Central snapped a 3-3 deadlock with five runs in the fourth inning and went on to beat Hunter-Tannersville, 12-4, for its first decision of the season Saturday at the losers' diamond.

Four walks and hits by John Phelan and Gallagher were featured in the big inning.

Larry Joyce went the distance to pick up the win for the Indians and he aided his cause with three doubles, driving in four runs.

Mickey Wright Is Playoff Winner

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Blonde Mickey Wright shot what she described as "the best competitive round of my career"—a three-under-par 69—to win top money of $1,400 in the 23rd women's Titleholders Golf Tournament.

Miss Wright had six birdies in her remarkable round under pressure Monday as she defeated Ruth Jessen of Seattle in the first playoff ever necessary in this event. Miss Jessen shot a respectable 37-35—72, matching men's par of 36-36—72 over the Augusta Country Club Course. She won $1,100.

The two West Coast entries—Miss Wright is from San Diego—wound up even at 295 at the end of the 72-hole event Sunday.

BREAKING GROUND—Historic Track superintendent Thomas Kidney surveys early work in the construction now going on at the Goshen half mile oval. A 400 foot paddock is being built behind the back stretch at Historic. Facilities for an afternoon's entire field of horses are planned as well as accommodations for the track's veterinarian. Grand Circuit week begins July 2, with five afternoons of racing worth $140,000. (Phil Pines photo)

Larger Paddock Being Built At Historic Track This Year

Horsemen and horses will find a larger and more convenient paddock waiting for them at Historic Track when the Grand Circuit swings in for five afternoons of harness racing beginning July 2.

Vice-President and General Manager Russell W. Hart announced the new paddock area would be large enough to stable all the trotters and pacers that will race in one afternoon. He pointed out that such an arrangement would streamline race operations and relieve the "traffic jam" that has existed in the old paddock area near the grandstand.

Men and machines are clearing a wide path, 400 feet long, on the far side of Historic Track and behind the back stretch. Facilities for the track veterinarian will also be included.

This will be the first major construction in recent years at Historic. Increased attendance has created crowded conditions between fans, horses and horsemen at race time. Greater numbers of entries each year has necessitated extra stall space. The old paddock is being converted into stalls.

In Fast Shape

Meanwhile, Track Superintendent Thomas Kidney has the century plus half mile oval in fast shape for stables already arriving for spring training. Kidney is also supervising the new paddock construction, expecting its completion by mid-June.

Some of harness racing's bigger stables are due to arrive at Historic early in May. Arden Homestead Stable, with trainer Harry Pownall, will make the Goshen track their home for the entire season. The Allwood Stable under the guidance of John Paterson and the young performers of Clint Hodgins stable are going to make camp, too.

The July visit will be the 52nd for the Grand Circuit. Historic Track was the first half miler to welcome the sport's major league. Up till 1911, the mile tracks had a monopoly.

Player Says Palmer Has Talent and Guts

BOSTON (AP)—Arnold Palmer, current king among professional golfers, is a mixture of "talent and guts," according to his constant rival, Gary Player.

"If you are leading and Palmer is two strokes behind you, you are conscious of him," Player said. "He's so bold he's not afraid of anything."

As for his own game, Player said:

"The best thing that has happened to me was to finish out of the money in the Bing Crosby tournament. I had won money in 50 straight events and became too conservative.

"When the streak ended, I began to play all out again, and that's the only way for me to play."

Maris Never Felt He Was Slumping With .152 Mark

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Although homer king Roger Maris was batting a puny .152 before the recent four-game series at Washington, neither the New York Yankee slugger nor his manager, Ralph Houk, felt Maris was in any type of slump.

If anything, the man who hit 61 home runs last year appeared ready to take apart Chicago White Sox pitching again. Maris last year slammed 13 of his home runs against the Sox and the Yankees open a three-game series with the White Sox tonight.

"I never considered being in a slump," said Maris, who lifted his average to .262 with 10 hits including three homers against Washington over the weekend.

"I was hitting the ball well but always at somebody," he said. "Baseball is a game of percentages and eventually, wher you're hitting the ball well it will start dropping in."

Maris, who has four home runs in 15 games, is well ahead of his 1961 pace. Last year he didn't hit No. 2 until the 16th game.

"I never even thought of his being in any kind of slump until the question was brought up," said Houk. "The big reason probably is that Maris of this year is so much better a player than the Maris of last spring. Last year at this time he was struggling when popping up."

Maris agreed. "If anything, last spring was probably the worst of my career. I didn't think I would ever get started."

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitching — Gaylord Perry, Giants, pitched his first complete game in majors, checking Pittsburgh on four hits in 4-1 victory that put San Francisco in first place in National League.

Batting — Tony Gonzalez, Phillies, went 3-for-4 with double, driving in a run and scoring two in 6-4 victory over Milwaukee.

Lou Pulcastro Gets Triplicate In State Play

Lou Pulcastro rolled three games of 214 for Jones Dairy No. 2 in the state bowling tournament over the weekend in Rochester. His 642 triple not only topped the local squad but earned him a triplicate club patch.

Hod Spaulding shot 637 for the Jones squad, which rolled a 2839 net and 3001 gross.

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Beginning September 3, 1961, employees engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and at least time and one-half for hours worked after 40 in a workweek, unless specifically exempt. Employees of certain large retail, service, construction, and other enterprises must be paid not less than $1.00 an hour after September 3, 1961, but no overtime for such employment is required until September 3, 1963. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning this law or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at Bronx: Abraham Klainbard, Investigation Supr., 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. WYandotte 2-1235.

GOING MODERN ?

Spotless ranch in prestige location, 1 mile out of town. Plenty of elbow room on 110x150 landscaped lot (patio, trees, lawn!) California Redwood and brick home. 3 bedrooms, ceramic bath, full basement, real homey living room with lovely brick fireplace, birch kitchen as modern as the day after tomorrow (built-in dishwasher, naturally, and storage space most women can only dream about). Oversized garage accommodates all children's accumulations, as well as car. Many extra cost construction features such as Anderson Flexi-Vent Windows throughout, etc. Believe it or not the pre-inflation price is only $21,500.

Gets 5-10 Monday For Theft, Shot

Louis W. Wood, 24, of Poughkeepsie who stole three loaded pistols from the John L. Lucas locksmith shop, 136 Church Street, there on February 17, was given a five to 10 years in Sing Sing prison Monday by Dutchess County Judge Schwartz.

Wood allegedly fired a shot at the store proprietor. He pleaded to first degree assault and third degree burglary. Wood was ambushed in an alley by four police officers shortly after the burglary. He said he "froze" when he saw the four armed police officers and could not pull the trigger of the pistol he held.

Opposes U.S. Blast

MANCHESTER, England (AP) —Sir Bernard Lovell, head of Britain's radio-astronomy station at Jodrell Bank, urged the United States today to abandon plans for a nuclear blast 500 miles above the earth.

The blast is expected to blow a huge hole in a radiation belt that girdles the earth, and to interfere with radio communications in the Pacific.

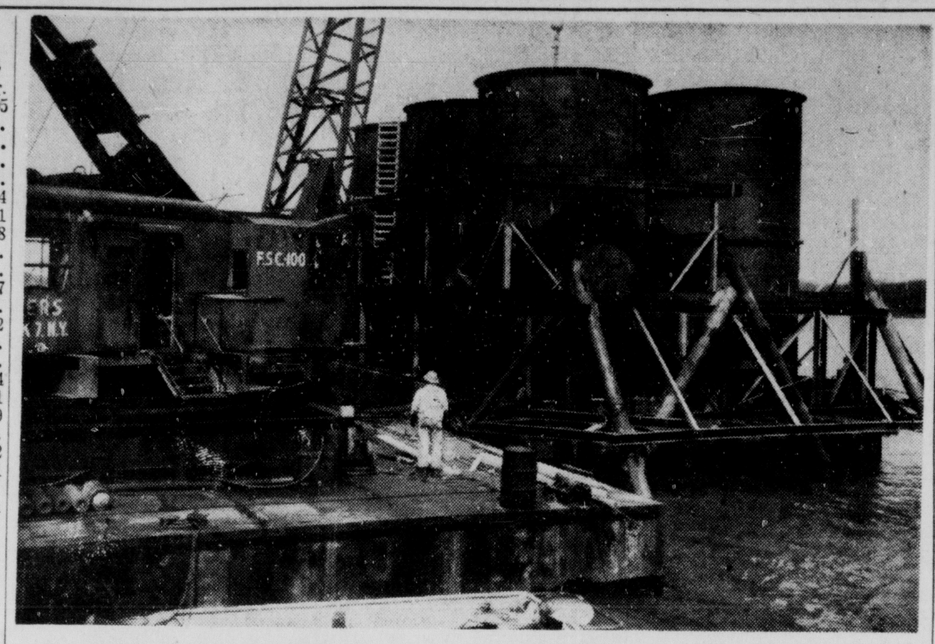
Lovell told a newsman he was appalled at the prospective outcome of the high-altitude explosion.

"The operators of this project should be restrained by all possible means from this presumption of moral right to interfere with the environment of the earth," he said.

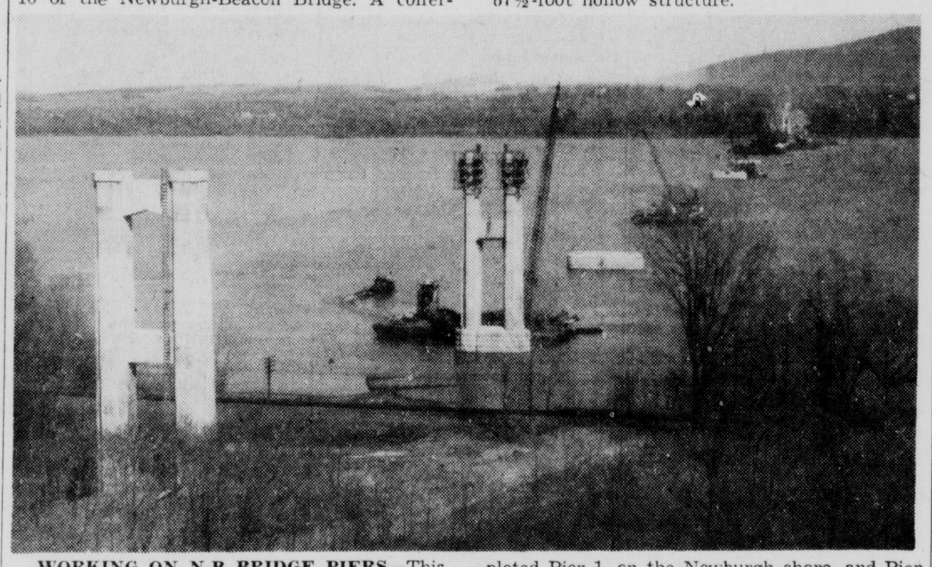
Vetoes Race Bill

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller announced today that he had vetoed a bill that would have restricted dissemination of information from race tracks.

Newspapers in New York State had objected to the measure, which would have made it a misdemeanor to transmit gambling information anywhere within the state for illegal gambling purposes. The measure specifically had exempted radio and television broadcasts of racing events, but not newspapers.



TO SUPPORT BRIDGE PIER — Positioned in its stall is the steel floating caisson for Pier 10 of the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge. A cofferdam is being constructed on top of the caisson preparatory to the sinking of the 46½-foot by 67½-foot hollow structure.



WORKING ON N-B BRIDGE PIERS—This view from the Newburgh shore of the Hudson River shows all but two of the 15 piers of the new Newburgh-Beacon Bridge, which eventually will replace a ferry and become part of the new Federal Interstate Route 84 between Port Jervis and Danbury, Conn. Not shown are the completed Pier 1, on the Newburgh shore, and Pier 12, a river pier on which construction has not yet begun. The $22-million bridge's substructure is being built as a joint venture by the Frederick Snare Corporation, New York, and Dravo Corporation, Pittsburgh.

Plan Girder Work for May 21

Piers for N-B Beacon Bridge Are Now Under Construction

All but one of the 15 piers for the $22-million Newburgh-Beacon Bridge across the Hudson River are now under construction.

The Frederick Snare Corporation, of New York, and Dravo Corporation, Pittsburgh, who are building the bridge's substructure as a joint venture, sent their fleet of derrick boats, barges and work boats to the site in mid-March after a two-month shutdown. Since then, the last four floating caissons have arrived from Dravo's Wilmington, Del., yard and are being sunk.

Positioned in Stalls

The 46½-foot by 67½-foot hollow steel structures, which will be at the bottoms of Piers 8, 9, 10 and 11, have been positioned inside their stalls, and concrete is being placed between the outer walls and the tube-like dredging wells.

As the weight of the concrete causes the caissons to sink, displaced material from the river's floor is removed through the dredging wells. New sections are added to the tops of the tubes as a caisson descends, and a cofferdam is built on top of the caisson. Once each caisson reaches its desired depth, it will be cleaned out and filled with concrete to form a permanent foundation for a pier.

Towed to Scene

All the caissons were fabricated at Wilmington and, as needed, towed by tugs to New York City and then 60 miles up the Hudson to Newburgh.

The construction men were driven off most of the job in mid-January by winter storms and ice that threatened to damage their floating equipment. However, during the time the Snare-Dravo fleet was moored at Snare's South Kearney, N. J. yard on the sheltered waters of the Passaic River, crews finished pouring the top strut on Pier 14, one of the two land piers on the eastern bank of the Hudson. All four land piers, two on either side, now are complete.

Six of the 11 river piers also are well along toward completion. Farthest advanced are Pier 6, which will support the eastern end of the 1000-foot-long main span, and Pier 3, the pier closest to the Newburgh shore.

Pouring of the shafts for Pier 6 is underway, following completion of its 22-foot by 73-foot stone-faced, concrete base, which rises 12 feet above the river's surface. The entire pier rests on a 67½-foot by 88½-foot caisson sunk into the river bottom 86 feet below normal water level.

Built Inside Steel

Pier 3, built inside a steel sheet pile cofferdam, has risen to within 13 feet of the top of its twin shafts, which eventually will tower 125½-feet above the river.

Pier 5, the western main pier, and Piers 4 and 7, the anchor piers, are complete up through the top of their stone-covered bases. All three rest on steel and concrete caissons sunk deep into the floor of the river. Pier 5 is identical with Pier 6, except that its base is founded 165 feet below water level.

One of the first tasks undertaken after the shutdown was the completion of Pier 13, easternmost of the river piers. The 10-foot thick tremie concrete seal for the pier's base had been poured before the weather intervened, but when work was resumed, the single-skin cofferdam had to be dewatered before the distribution block could be poured.

Facing stone is now being set and concrete for the top of the base will be poured behind it. The sheet piling used in the cofferdam then will be removed and reused for Pier 12, a structure with an identical base. Both piers will be supported on steel bearing piles driven about 110 feet below river level.

Ready for Steelwork

Although the Snare-Dravo work does not require completion before November, 1962, the river piers must be completed in sequence this spring and summer so that another contractor can begin erection of the steelwork.

The combine is building the substructure under two separate contracts from the New York State Bridge Authority, totaling $9,220,420. The bridge, which will replace a ferry, will run between State Route 9W in Newburgh and Route 9D on the opposite shore. The structure eventually will be part of new Federal Interstate Route 84 between Port Jervis and Danbury, Conn.

Installation of the first piece of steel for the bridge is expected to be started on May 21. Bethlehem Steel Company, which is processing 14,920 tons of steel for the structure, is preparing for first deliveries.

Bethlehem bridge workers will proceed at four points when steel work begins. Operations will proceed from the two piers for the main channel side spans and from the east and west abutments for the approach deck spans simultaneously.

The 14-span steel superstructure will be 6,870 feet long, with 11 side spans deck-truss design. The three-span main channel crossing will have 602-foot side spans and a 1,000-foot through-truss center span, allowing 135-foot clearance for river traffic.

The 30-foot roadway will carry traffic amost 200 feet above the river at its highest point. Highest steel in the bridge will be more than 250 feet above the water.

Boy Dies of Injuries

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An 18-month-old boy died in a hospital here today of injuries suffered when he was crushed Monday by the wheels of a truck under which he had been playing near his home in the town of North Collins.

The boy was Stephen Gould, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Gould. The Rev. Mr. Gould is minister at the North Collins Christian Fellowship Church.

2 Criminal Cases Heard on Monday In County Court

Two criminal cases were heard before County Judge Raymond J. Mino Monday afternoon after which court was recessed until May 14 at 10 a. m. for imposition of sentence in one of the cases. Jurors have been excused until June 5.

Alexander Procho, 37, of Woodridge, who was charged with entrance to the premises of Paul Schukow of Town of Wawarsing back in August 1959, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry. He had been charged with third degree burglary and attempted grand larceny, second degree. John Gotelli appeared for defendant, asked for leniency since the defendant was now working at Monticello and said Procho had been the "victim of circumstances."

A one year jail sentence was imposed and suspended after District Attorney David W. Corwin consented to acceptance of the lesser plea. Bail was exonerated.

Norman Arthur Charpentier, charged with rape, second degree, incest, carnal abuse of a child and placing a child in such a situation as is likely to impair morals, entered a plea of guilty to the first count of the indictment. Joseph Avis appeared for defendant. The act took place on October 19, 1961. Judge Mino adjourned imposition of sentence until 10 a. m. on May 14 in order to get a pre-sentence report from Chief Probation Officer Charles Schultz. Defendant was remanded to jail.

Only Slight Dip In Popularity of Rocky: Survey

NEW YORK (AP)—A Republican opinion survey now being completed indicates that Gov. Rockefeller's popularity in New York State has declined only slightly since his divorce, The New York Times reported today.

Rockefeller, considered a possible candidate for the GOP presidential nomination in 1964, is seeking reelection as governor in November.

In a Washington dispatch, the Times reported that preliminary results of the poll have led top party leaders to believe that Rockefeller's personal problems have not endangered his chances of winning reelection.

Gets 5-10 Monday For Theft, Shot

Louis W. Wood, 24, of Poughkeepsie who stole three loaded pistols from the John L. Lucas locksmith shop, 136 Church Street, there on February 17, was given a five to 10 years in Sing Sing prison Monday by Dutchess County Judge Schwartz.

Wood allegedly fired a shot at the store proprietor. He pleaded to first degree assault and third degree burglary. Wood was ambushed in an alley by four police officers shortly after the burglary. He said he "froze" when he saw the four armed police officers and could not pull the trigger of the pistol he held.

Opposes U.S. Blast

MANCHESTER, England (AP) —Sir Bernard Lovell, head of Britain's radio-astronomy station at Jodrell Bank, urged the United States today to abandon plans for a nuclear blast 500 miles above the earth.

The blast is expected to blow a huge hole in a radiation belt that girdles the earth, and to interfere with radio communications in the Pacific.

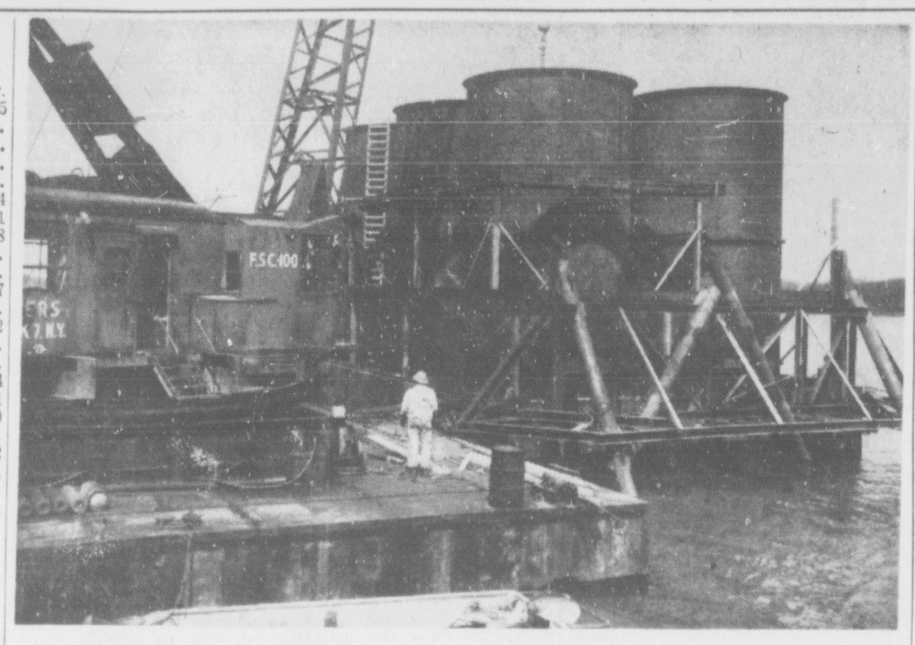
Lovell told a newsman he was appalled at the prospective outcome of the high-altitude explosion.

"The operators of this project should be restrained by all possible means from this presumption of moral right to interfere with the environment of the earth," he said.

Vetoes Race Bill

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller announced today that he had vetoed a bill that would have restricted dissemination of information from race tracks.

Newspapers in New York State had objected to the measure, which would have made it a misdemeanor to transmit gambling information anywhere within the state for illegal gambling purposes. The measure specifically had exempted radio and television broadcasts of racing events, but not newspapers.



TO SUPPORT BRIDGE PIER — Positioned in its stall is the steel floating caisson for Pier 10 of the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge. A cofferdam is being constructed on top of the caisson preparatory to the sinking of the 46½-foot by 67½-foot hollow structure.

WORKING ON N-B BRIDGE PIERS—This view from the Newburgh shore of the Hudson River shows all but two of the 15 piers of the new Newburgh-Beacon Bridge, which eventually will replace a ferry and become part of the new Federal Interstate Route 84 between Port Jervis and Danbury, Conn. Not shown are the completed Pier 1, on the Newburgh shore, and Pier 12, a river pier on which construction has not yet begun. The $22-million bridge's substructure is being built as a joint venture by the Frederick Snare Corporation, New York, and Dravo Corporation, Pittsburgh.

Plan Girder Work for May 21

Piers for N-B Beacon Bridge Are Now Under Construction

All but one of the 15 piers for the $22-million Newburgh-Beacon Bridge across the Hudson River are now under construction.

The Frederick Snare Corporation, of New York, and Dravo Corporation, Pittsburgh, who are building the bridge's substructure as a joint venture, sent their fleet of derrick boats, barges and work boats to the site in mid-March after a two-month shutdown. Since then, the last four floating caissons have arrived from Dravo's Wilmington, Del., yard and are being sunk.

Positioned in Stalls

The 46½-foot by 67½-foot hollow steel structures, which will be at the bottoms of Piers 8, 9, 10 and 11, have been positioned inside their stalls, and concrete is being placed between the outer walls and the tube-like dredging wells.

As the weight of the concrete causes the caissons to sink, displaced material from the river's floor is removed through the dredging wells. New sections are added to the tops of the tubes as a caisson descends, and a cofferdam is built on top of the caisson. Once each caisson reaches its desired depth, it will be cleaned out and filled with concrete to form a permanent foundation for a pier.

Towed to Scene

All the caissons were fabricated at Wilmington and, as needed, towed by tugs to New York City and then 60 miles up the Hudson to Newburgh.

The construction men were driven off most of the job in mid-January by winter storms and ice that threatened to damage their floating equipment. However, during the time the Snare-Dravo fleet was moored at Snare's South Kearney, N. J. yard on the sheltered waters of the Passaic River, crews finished pouring the top strut on Pier 14, one of the two land piers on the eastern bank of the Hudson. All four land piers, two on either side, now are complete.

Six of the 11 river piers also are well along toward completion. Farthest advanced are Pier 6, which will support the eastern end of the 1000-foot-long main span, and Pier 3, the pier closest to the Newburgh shore.

Pouring of the shafts for Pier 6 is underway, following completion of its 22-foot by 73-foot stone-faced, concrete base, which rises 12 feet above the river's surface. The entire pier rests on a 67½-foot by 88½-foot caisson sunk into the river bottom 86 feet below normal water level.

Built Inside Steel

Pier 3, built inside a steel sheet pile cofferdam, has risen to within 13 feet of the top of its twin shafts, which eventually will tower 125½-feet above the river.

Pier 5, the western main pier, and Piers 4 and 7, the anchor piers, are complete up through the top of their stone-covered bases. All three rest on steel and concrete caissons sunk deep into the floor of the river. Pier 5 is identical with Pier 6, except that its base is founded 165 feet below water level.

One of the first tasks undertaken after the shutdown was the completion of Pier 13, easternmost of the river piers. The 10-foot thick tremie concrete seal for the pier's base had been poured before the weather intervened, but when work was resumed, the single-skin cofferdam had to be dewatered before the distribution block could be poured.

Facing stone is now being set and concrete for the top of the base will be poured behind it. The sheet piling used in the cofferdam then will be removed and reused for Pier 12, a structure with an identical base. Both piers will be supported on steel bearing piles driven about 110 feet below river level.

Ready for Steelwork

Although the Snare-Dravo work does not require completion before November, 1962, the river piers must be completed in sequence this spring and summer so that another contractor can begin erection of the steelwork.

The combine is building the substructure under two separate contracts from the New York State Bridge Authority, totaling $9,220,420. The bridge, which will replace a ferry, will run between State Route 9W in Newburgh and Route 9D on the opposite shore. The structure eventually will be part of new Federal Interstate Route 84 between Port Jervis and Danbury, Conn.

Installation of the first piece of steel for the bridge is expected to be started on May 21. Bethlehem Steel Company, which is processing 14,920 tons of steel for the structure, is preparing for first deliveries.

Bethlehem bridge workers will proceed at four points when steel work begins. Operations will proceed from the two piers for the main channel side spans and from the east and west abutments for the approach deck spans simultaneously.

The 14-span steel superstructure will be 6,870 feet long, with 11 side spans deck-truss design. The three-span main channel crossing will have 602-foot side spans and a 1,000-foot through-truss center span, allowing 135-foot clearance for river traffic.

The 30-foot roadway will carry traffic amost 200 feet above the river at its highest point. Highest steel in the bridge will be more than 250 feet above the water.

Boy Dies of Injuries

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An 18-month-old boy died in a hospital here today of injuries suffered when he was crushed Monday by the wheels of a truck under which he had been playing near his home in the town of North Collins.

The boy was Stephen Gould, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Gould. The Rev. Mr. Gould is minister at the North Collins Christian Fellowship Church.

2 Criminal Cases Heard on Monday In County Court

Two criminal cases were heard before County Judge Raymond J. Mino Monday afternoon after which court was recessed until May 14 at 10 a. m. for imposition of sentence in one of the cases. Jurors have been excused until June 5.

Alexander Procho, 37, of Woodridge, who was charged with entrance to the premises of Paul Schukow of Town of Wawarsing back in August 1959, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry. He had been charged with third degree burglary and attempted grand larceny, second degree. John Gotelli appeared for defendant, asked for leniency since the defendant was now working at Monticello and said Procho had been the "victim of circumstances."

A one year jail sentence was imposed and suspended after District Attorney David W. Corwin consented to acceptance of the lesser plea. Bail was exonerated.

Norman Arthur Charpentier, charged with rape, second degree, incest, carnal abuse of a child and placing a child in such a situation as is likely to impair morals, entered a plea of guilty to the first count of the indictment. Joseph Avis appeared for defendant. The act took place on October 19, 1961. Judge Mino adjourned imposition of sentence until 10 a. m. on May 14 in order to get a pre-sentence report from Chief Probation Officer Charles Schultz. Defendant was remanded to jail.

Only Slight Dip In Popularity of Rocky: Survey

NEW YORK (AP)—A Republican opinion survey now being completed indicates that Gov. Rockefeller's popularity in New York State has declined only slightly since his divorce, The New York Times reported today.

Rockefeller, considered a possible candidate for the GOP presidential nomination in 1964, is seeking reelection as governor in November.

In a Washington dispatch, the Times reported that preliminary results of the poll have led top party leaders to believe that Rockefeller's personal problems have not endangered his chances of winning reelection.
